

JOLLY CROWD OF ODDFELLOWS TOWN ON PLEASURE BENT

Under Command of General Welch, Odd-fellows from Lynn, Worcester and Other Places Enjoy Themselves in St. John—Party Entertained in Royal Fashion by Canton LaTour

Fifty Oddfellows under command of General Welch, Department Commander of the Patriarchs Militant of Canton City of Lynn, arrived in St. John on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the Eastern Steamship Company's steamer Governor Cobb. They were met on the arrival of the steamer by members of Canton LaTour and headed by the Artillery Band, were escorted to the Victoria and Dufferin Hotels. Colonel N. W. Brennan had charge of the reception.

The visiting Oddfellows consist of members from Lynn, Worcester, and other points in Maine. Some are accompanied by their wives and daughters. Following is a list of the visitors: Gen. S. E. Welch, Gen. A. E. Bliss, Mrs. A. E. Bliss, Gen. D. A. Harrington, Col. G. W. Lewis, Mrs. G. W. Lewis, Major Joseph Deaconson, Mrs. Deaconson, Major D. Knowles, Capt. L. Herbert Knott, Mrs. Knott, Lieut. A. H. Lawrence, Capt. J. R. Cook, Chev. E. L. Sargent, Chev. J. H. Harpen, Chev. D. H. Fay, Chev. E. F. Collier, Chev. E. F. Collier, Chev. L. R. Page, Capt. A. B. Ingersoll, Chev. John E. Cousins, Mrs. John E. Cousins, Hon. F. A. Harrington, Mrs. F. A. Harrington, Chev. Jerry Spiller, Chev. C. M. Fowell, Chev. John Hart, Mrs. John Hart, Chev. A. B. Fisher, Mrs. A. B. Fisher, Mrs. Fisher, A. S. Alley, Mrs. Alley, Chev. John Schofield, Mrs. C. A. Harrington, Miss L. O'Leary, Geo. A. Brown, Miss Magie Landry, Chev. Leighton, Chev. Putnam, Mrs. Henry Putnam, Major A. W. Stetson, Col. J. P. Vaughn, Capt. A. S. Edwards, Geo. H. Brown.

At 7 p. m. the visitors were taken in charge by Canton LaTour, and conveyed to Rockwood, where on back boards, where an informal luncheon took place. The Artillery Band supplied excellent music and several toasts and patriotic speeches were given.

The toast to the King was received with musical honors.

The fourth of July was honored by all the guests standing while the band rendered "The Star Spangled Banner."

The address of welcome was delivered by Past Master Skinner and D. D. Grand Master Coder.

In replying to the toast to the President of the United States, General Welch indulged in a brief eulogy of the president, incidentally referring to him as the ablest and most popular man in America. Continuing General Welch spoke of his home city of Lynn, the greatest producer of boots in the world. Some people have an idea that Lynn is not very large, but there are times when its population includes as many as four million souls. Lynn boots go everywhere and have perhaps even found their way to New Brunswick.

Major General A. E. Bliss addressed the party in a happy manner. He said that Malden, where he came from, was sometimes regarded as a suburb, but it should really be considered greater than Lynn. Lynn manufactured boots, but without the rubbers made in Malden the paper boots of Lynn would be of no use in wet weather. Malden is Lynn's true salvation.

General A. Harrington of Worcester, upon rising said he had thought of proposing a toast to the two greatest liars in America, but he did not think this would be safe, for they had to travel home together. He did not think the making of boots and the rubbers at Malden were of much importance unless people had the money to purchase them. Having the money, they would send orders, and these orders were forwarded in envelopes made at Worcester, where as many as four or five millions were turned out daily. Worcester thus makes possible the business of Lynn and Malden.

All the speakers referred in a most happy manner to the pleasant relations existing between the two great nations of America.

On Sunday morning at 11:30 a. m. a church parade, headed by the Artillery Band and consisting of the visiting staff, Canton LaTour, visiting cantons and St. John lodges started at Oddfellows Hall and marched along Union, Charlotte, King and Germain streets to St. Andrew's church, where the Oddfellows occupied seats in the middle of the church.

Rev. Dr. G. M. Campbell, past grand, conducted service, assisted by Rev. David Lang, chaplain of Pioneer.

Dr. Campbell selected his text from Matt. xxiii:8—"And all ye are brethren."

Duty before the day of Jesus Christ had a limited application and meaning. The Jews divided the race into two parts and this division was simple and to them, satisfactory. The best part of the race were Jews and all the rest were accounted outsiders, bits of humanity and were called Gentiles.

The ancient Greeks in imitation of this example also divided the world into two classes. The small handful of the elect and select were the Greeks and the vast untold, unshared for, despised, known as the Barbarians. The Jew and Greek accepted the same interpretation of life and limited duty to those of their own nationality. To their fellow countrymen they admitted national duties, patriotic valuation and obligations, but the Gentiles and Barbarians were slaves to be whipped to their tasks and chattels to be sold in the market place. If justice, equity and kindness should be exercised towards them, it was regarded as so much virtue which no one had a right to expect or demand. The principle of selfishness was at the root of activity and men were generous in their relations so far as kindness would minister to personal aggrandizement and power. Beyond that

KING MAKES STRONG PLEA FOR SOBRIETY

Large Attendance at Temperance Lecture in Every Day Club

The attendance at the Sunday evening temperance meetings in the Every Day Club continues large. The Rev. J. W. Keirstead was to have spoken last evening, but was unable to attend, and Harry King kindly stepped in to address the meeting. Mr. King is a favorite with Every Day Club audience, and was several times applauded in the course of his vigorous plea for the sobriety of the individual and the destruction of the liquor traffic. Sun Jones once said that the state was founded on manhood and womanhood, but the liquor traffic was founded on the weakness of both. Mr. King agreed with this statement, and dwelt upon the great need there is of taking hold of persons who have become drunkards and putting something into their lives that would offset the craving for liquor and make them not only strong resisters but helpful to others who are tempted. If the three words could pass the saloon and go on sober to his wife and children, and the welcome of a good home, how much force gave way to the higher principle of disinterested kindness. Oddfellows, that great and universal brotherhood, whose field of action is as boundless as the earth, is a response to the natural cravings of the soul for fellowship. A fraternity wherein sweet and congenial companionship and mutual offices of kindness and regard flourish, is a knowledge of the value of good example and kindly fellowship in helping man to overcome the drinking habit. The little band of good example and kindly fellowship in helping man to overcome the drinking habit. The little band of good example and kindly fellowship in helping man to overcome the drinking habit.

CELESTYAR'S NEW PASTOR MAKES FINE IMPRESSION

Eloquence of Dr. Flanders Pleases Large Congregations—Preaches Both Morning and Evening—Father Convers, New Rector of Mission Church, Delivers Powerful Sermons

Rev. Dr. Flanders, the newly appointed pastor of Centenary church, occupied the pulpit yesterday for the first time. At both services Dr. Flanders made a deep impression on his hearers. His deep, scholarly attainments were reflected in the thoughtful sermons he preached. His style is clear and lucid and his descriptive powers strong. His voice, which is well adapted to pulpit work, presented the excellent impression which he made.

His evening sermon was on the text Psalm 13, verse 3: "Thy gentleness has made me great." He said in part: "David was a man of great versatility. As a warrior his military prowess was remarkable. After entering military life he soon reached the forefront of military rank. As a sovereign his executive ability was very great. It was largely due to his provision and provision that Solomon's reign also was so remarkable. As a poet he showed wonderful vision."

The text refers to moral greatness. In spite of his sins, David's character was a great one. He so overcame that he was a man after God's own heart. We applaud the man who has passions deep and strong and who resists and overcomes so that he walks a conqueror.

When Saul was pursuing David and the latter entered the King's camp at night he had the opportunity of killing his persecutor and avenging all his wrongs. He overcame the temptation and in speaking of the matter later used the words of the text.

The gentleness of God was revealed to and not discovered by man. The divinity conceived by the heathen present, Jesus two sins were revealed in the terms used to describe Christ, such as the lamb, the Christ of Sharon and similar terms.

The gentleness of the text is that which is not an attribute of the rapid and weak and those that lack energy. One should be a gentle man. Our condition, broken morally and spiritually, needs a gentleness, such as God sent the Good Physician.

When the woman taken in sin was brought before Jesus two sins were revealed. Her sin of impurity

The horse was severely injured on the ground. The horse continued at a fast clip, but was caught further down the street by Andrew Gregory. Both the occupants of the wagon were badly shaken up. Mr. Thomson was rendered unconscious. Both he and Mrs. Thomson were carried into G. W. Brown's residence, and Dr. Grey promptly summoned. On examination the doctor found that the man had received a bad gash on the head. Mrs. Thomson was severely injured on the side, but no bones were broken. The horse has been the property of the owners for about seven years and had never run away before. As soon as it was deemed advisable, Mr. and Mrs. Thomson were taken to their home. FIRST OF UNITED SERVICES IS HELD

Rev. David Lang Occupies Pulpit of St. Stephen's Sunday Morning

The first of the united services of St. Andrew's and St. Stephen's churches was held yesterday. In the morning the service was held in St. Stephen's Church, when special music was rendered by the choir of St. Andrew's Church, assisted by some of the leading singers of St. Stephen's. The subject was the limitations of life and was taken from the text, "Remember thy bonds." This epistle was written by Paul while he was in captivity in Rome awaiting trial by the emperor. It is a beautiful and instructive introduction. Mr. Lang went on to say that Paul's sphere of influence was limited by his imprisonment and that the life of everyone had limitations. In Paul's case there was an ennobling of character during his confinement, which developed in him a spirit of forbearance to his Jewish enemies. Everyone who used his limitations right would be stronger in his narrow sphere than if he had greater liberty.

The service in the evening was conducted in St. Andrew's Church, when Rev. Mr. Lang was again the preacher. He spoke on Psalm 137, 2, taking for his subject, "The Gift of Sleep."

CLOSING OF THE CHIPMAN SCHOOL AFTER GOOD YEAR

(Correspondence.)

CHIPMAN, N. B., June 30.—The closing exercises of the Chipman Superior School were held on Monday afternoon, June 29th. Quite a number of parents and interested persons were present in the different departments, and unanimously expressed themselves well pleased with the work done throughout the year.

Grades X and XI gave a demonstration before the school in the manual training department, which has been in charge of Miss Jennie Parker Alward. The quality of the work done reflects much credit on the teacher and pupils.

About 3 o'clock the entire school assembled in the principal's room, where the prizes for the year were presented by Rev. Dr. MacD. Clarke. The distribution was as follows:

In advanced department, for attendance and general proficiency, Miss Leena E. Wilson, grade X, 1st; Marie Hay, grade IV, 2nd.

In the intermediate department, Wilfred Addison, Agnes Clarke having the same general average.

In the primary room, Viola Hassan, E. E. Crandall offered a special prize in each department. In the High School grades this prize was given for the best essay in any of four subjects and was awarded to Earl C. Doherty, grade XI, for an essay on "The Loyals and Their Effect on Canadian History."

The special prize in the intermediate department was offered for spelling and won by Pansie Bishop, grade V, 1st; Marie Hay, grade IV, 2nd.

The special prize in the primary department was offered for excellence in number work and won by Sammie McAllister, grade II.

A prize offered in grades VII and VIII, for best essay on Alcohol and its Effects on the Human System was awarded to Gordon B. Baird, grade VIII. A class prophecy, written by Miss Beth Addison, grade X, predicted a bright and useful future for many of the thirty-two boys and girls of the advanced department. Miss Myra F. Barton, grade X, read a short paper giving a history of the work and social life of the school during the year.

All three teachers are retiring from the school, and many persons expressed themselves very sorry that this should take place, as the work done in every department had been of a highly satisfactory character. At the close of the exercises the principal, A. E. Floyd, was presented with an address and a set of brushes, shaving appliances, etc., by the pupils in his department. In replying, Mr. Floyd thanked the pupils very heartily for their kindness and also the people of the district for the interest they had always manifested in the school during its term of two years.

As already mentioned, Mr. Floyd, as well as the other teachers, received several presents of value as tokens of esteem.

The principal and the intermediate teacher, Kenneth M. Pike, are looking forward to beginning college.
