FREE KINDERGARTEN

REPORT FOR JANUARY

So far this winter not so much real poverty has been noticed and only some children returning when holidays were over needed clothing. Mothers are becoming more independent and in more than one case have asked to pay something for things given them and many were very thankful for Christmas gifts.

The first of the month has been time. Beginning with the new year and what it brings, to time and what it means to big and little people, the children learned about the clock and its uses. They were much interested in learning the different ways of telling the time. Some of the children were taken to see Trinity's clock and the clock at the station. Several lay great stress upon the art of clock making in the education of the child.

The work has been picture-making, coloring, painting, making calendars, writing letters on church envelopes, etc., and the kindergartens during the month there was a little snow they had.

The whole story of the Eskimo village made in the sand-table box—cotton wool for snow, blocks of silver paper for ice, and seals cut from dark brown paper—all made a very realistic picture.

The calendars in each room are especially worthy of mention. The children paste on gray circles for dull days, blue for fine days, and gilt for Sundays, and around the edges are written the topics made in painting or drawing or cut paper designs.

On "Tag-Tag," February 12th, the friends of the kindergarten and all its enemies will be asked to contribute once again to the fund to carry on this work for another year. In the meantime the association would be pleased to hear from anyone who is willing to donate a clock with a pendulum.

OFFICIAL RETURNS OF THE MONTREAL ELECTIONS

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—Official returns of the recent mayoralty election announced today give Dr. Guerin a majority of 12,864 over his opponent, Senator Casgrain. The total vote polled was 45,738, one of the largest votes ever polled in a municipal contest in this city.

You Can Afford to use 40c. Tea Just as Well as 30c. Tea if You Use 40c. Red Rose

A pound of 40c. Red Rose goes further than any 30c. or 35c. tea and it is distinctly superior in quality.

30c. and 35c. Red Rose Teas are good teas, so good that very many people say they want nothing better. But, if they would once try a package of the 40c. Red Rose they would use nothing else in future.

Just think, five cups of 40c. Red Rose Tea will only cost 1c. One lb. makes over 200 cups. Not a question of affording.

USE OF WIRELESS IN BRITISH NAVY

Lord Fisher Extends Service, Even Equipping Submarines

Operators Have Chart on Which All Movements of Vessels are Constantly Marked.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Lord Fisher, of Kilcubbin, on his sixtieth birthday relinquished the post of First Sea Lord of the Admiralty to his successor, Sir Arthur Wilson, who has already given signs of an intention to preserve a continuity in the policy of his predecessor.

It is at least significant that Sir Arthur has appointed as his naval assistant Captain H. F. Oliver, the officer who filled this post under the retiring First Sea Lord, Captain Oliver. It may be recalled, was the navigator of the Admiral Wilson's flagship when the Admiral carried his fleet of battleships and cruisers into the harbor of the Scheldt in a fog, a difficult feat in seamanship and navigation, for which he has always given the greatest credit to the magnificent pilotage of this officer.

Furthermore, it is well known in the naval service that during the last six years Sir Arthur Wilson was frequently consulted about the disposition and use of the fleet in the event of an emergency arising, because he would certainly have been called upon to take the supreme command afloat. There can, therefore, be little doubt that a complete agreement in respect of the plan of campaign exists between the two admirals.

EXTENDING WIRELESS SERVICE.

In this connection there has been no more striking example of the scientific preparation for war made by Lord Fisher than that which concerns the utilization of wireless telegraphy. Not only have all the larger ships been equipped with wireless, but many of the smaller craft, such as the destroyers, have had this fitting put into them, and it has been stated that the new submarines are to have it.

Incidentally it may be mentioned that, excluding the 100 ton boats, first built seven years ago, there are now more than fifty submarines in the British navy, all sea-going vessels, of which the "D" class displace 600 tons, have a surface speed of 17 knots and a radius of action of more than 3,000 miles. The newer submarines will not only carry wireless but be able to communicate with one another under water, but they are to be armed with guns as well as torpedoes. Wireless, indeed, is essential to every ship, even fishery protection boats, small, fast vessels stationed in the North Sea to look after the interests of the trawlers and other fishing craft, and to prevent poaching, are all fitted with this means of signalling.

The duties of these little vessels naturally oblige them to patrol by day and night the water east and west of the Doggerbank, and there is very little moving in the maritime world from the Texel, on the south, to Behring, on the north, which escapes their attention.

Wireless signals stations, too, are popping up all around the coast, and there are at least half a dozen actually erected or projected between Harwich and Killybegs. Finally, above the Admiralty Building itself there is a huge installation, which was first put to practical use in 1908. In the rooms underneath are the operators, who receive messages through the stations on the coast and thus keep touch between the brain of the navy and its ships hundreds of miles away. Necessarily these rooms are closed to all but the chief officers of the fleet and the little group of electricians employed on this most secret work. Into one of these rooms, it is said, admission can be obtained only with a pass from the First Sea Lord himself.

ALL VESSELS DAILY CHARTED.

Here, it is reported, is spread upon a table a chart which shows all the ships within a radius of fifteen hundred miles or more from Whitehall. On this chart are little models of the ships of the Navy, each in the place it actually occupies at the time.

Not only are British ships shown on the chart, but those of foreign Powers also, the movements of which, if within these seas, are reported from time to time, and their places registered. As the aerial waves bring the news so the models are moved, and thus at any given moment the Lords of the Admiralty can see at a glance the condition of affairs within their maritime zone, and can issue their orders accordingly.

There is something almost uncanny about this working of wireless, coupled with the growth and radius of action of the submarine. It was said that these were to be the weapons of the weak, but the prophecy has not been fulfilled. Under an administration which is nothing if it is not progressive, science lends its aid to the strong. The aerial waves have marvellously increased the sight of the executive at the Admiralty and its means of communication, while beneath the surface of the sea its striking power is extended and wrapped in mystery.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

"Since you've been calling on Miss Jones how have her father and mother treated you?"
"Fine, I haven't even met them."

NEGRO CONFESSES TO TRIPLE MURDER

Farmer's Wife and His Whole Family

Fisherman Drowned in Sight of Rescuers — Negro Girl Wins Medal—Sixteen Inches of Snow at Port and.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 4.—The mystery of the murder of the three women, Mrs. Amanda Grille, her daughter, Mrs. Chandler, and Mrs. Maggie Hunter, on December 10 last, was cleared up today by the confession of Bigham Bryant, a negro, arrested last month and held on suspicion. Bryant said he entered the house bent on robbery and carrying a hammer as a weapon, and attacked the women when detected.

FERDUS FALLS, Minn., Feb. 4.—William Ruckheim, a farmer aged 25 years, murdered his wife and four children and shot himself last night at Parker's Prairie. He was found dying when his son went to the farm today. Ruckheim is believed to have been temporarily insane. No other motive for the crime has been found.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Feb. 4.—His foot caught in the flywheel of the engine while his companion was being rescued, John Silva, a Provincetown fisherman, was drowned today when the heavy seas raised by a sudden shift of wind swamped his dory. Frank Nunes, his dorymate, was pulled into another of the local fishing boats barely in time for the dory sank with its helpless occupant before the transfer had been completed. Shortly after the steamer North Star sighted the dory, but because of disabled steering gear could not recover it. Silva leaves a wife and three children.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Estelle E. Gibbs, a negro girl, 14 years old, of Hoboken, received today the first prize, a gold medal, at the grand annual exercises of the Hoboken public school pupils. She had the highest average of any public school scholar in the city—84.3 per cent, in six subjects. There are 10,000 white pupils in the schools and only 15 negroes. Only eleven negro families live in Hoboken.

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 4.—Sixteen inches of snow fell in the storm of yesterday and today, which is the heaviest snow since January 25, 1888, according to the records of the Portland Weather Bureau. The snow was heavy and did not drift badly. Steam and electric cars were behind the schedules and shipping remained in port. The snow stopped a little after noon.

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—King Victor Emmanuel, by royal decree, has appointed Nelson Gay of Boston a member of the national committee on the history of the Italian Resurrection, which is a special honor and one which no foreigner ever had received.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 4.—Max Fiedler, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra for the past two seasons, was re-engaged today for the seasons of 1910 and 1911.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 4.—A great fire broke out here today and destroyed one of the largest lumber yards in the city. The financial loss was heavy.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 4.—Henry W. Taft, brother of the president, who is suffering in a local hospital from a severe cold, was reported by his physicians today to be entirely out of danger.

TWO CHARGES AGAINST MINISTER WITHDRAWN

TORONTO, Feb. 5.—Henshaw Maddock, representing the California-Alberta Oil Company, and Athol G. Robertson, were convicted in the police court today of attempting to sell stock in Ontario without giving the information required by the Companies Act. Maddock was fined two hundred dollars, and Robertson one hundred, each on two charges. Maddock has started an action against W. A. Fraser and the Saturday Night for five thousand dollars for alleged libel.

Two charges against Rev. George M. Atlas, who came back from Egypt to answer the allegations of theft, were dismissed by the police magistrates today, and three others will be proceeded with on Monday.

Mrs. Isaac Wilson, Burke Falls, Ont., gave birth to four children yesterday. They were all girls.
