

CANADIAN GUNS SILENCED GERMAN BATTERIES

COL. JAMES L. McAVITY OF 26TH REGIMENT OF GREAT BRITAIN

of such a war—a war of righteousness—it is not once in a thousand years that the opportunity comes when the tremendous issues involved spiritualize everybody, when enthusiasm amounts to ecstasy and standing upon the boundary of the finite and the infinite you grasp them both. For a man to have gone through such a struggle and felt its emotions is to have lived the lives of countless generations.

It is only in these great crises, in the fates of nations and peoples which involves the accumulations of the past and the hopes of the future, when the world waits in hushed expectancy the result that a man in the concentrated intensity of his feelings becomes God-like. Every one of you who passes through such a baptism would not exchange it for a hundred peaceful and uneventful years.

For those who went forth with you and who may be permitted to return we will always endeavor to show a full measure of appreciation of their work.

For those who are not permitted to return, we sincerely hope and pray that the future generations to come, in being spared the blinding smoke and roar of battle which envelopes us in the bitterness of today, may remember our dead sons in gratitude for the sacrifice they made, without complaint, without fear.

We sincerely trust that you may be restored to your original good health and strength, and that you may be permitted to enjoy for many years to come, the gratitude which your fellow citizens feel for you today.

Col. McAvity's Reply.

At the conclusion of the address there was prolonged cheering, and when it finally ceased Col. McAvity replied briefly yet fittingly. He thanked the Mayor and citizens for the reception tendered him. One point of a soldier was that they were not given to making speeches. "You have said many good things to me, but Sir, I don't take it all for myself, my regiment has done it all. My boys have fought hard, they have suffered, and I have done all that I could for them. My only regret is for those I have left behind. I only hope to be able to live up to the kind things you have said to me."

"I might say to my fellow citizens that the 26th Regiment has up to its strength. You all know how we are at the present time, but I cannot tell you, however, and that is that the 26th is out to the trenches tonight, and I ask many your prayers go with them. I thank you all sincerely for the grand welcome you have given me."

At the conclusion of the colonel's reply, Commissioner McLellan, called for three cheers and a cheer for Lieut. Col. McAvity and they were given heartily and followed by three more.

The returned veterans were lined up near the reception stand and others were in automobiles, and before the colonel took a seat in the car which had been provided for him he took time to stop and shake hands and give a kind word to the boys who had done their bit on the fields of Flanders.

In the car which carried the colonel was Commissioner McLellan and S. Herbert Mayes, chairman of the returned soldiers' committee. The car was driven by John A. Pugsley. When all was ready Commissioner McLellan gave the word to start.

The Procession.

The order of the procession was as follows:

- Mounted Police.
- Police Squad.
- Commissioner's Car.
- Five cars containing Returned Soldiers' Committee.
- City Cornet Band.
- Firemen.
- Salvage Corps.
- Car with Col. McAvity.
- Car with five returned members of the 26th.

had proved himself a hero, and St. John might well feel proud of the 26th. They had promised on leaving to do their best, and they had nobly kept that promise. They had been at different points of the line, but while there were no more casualties whose names were now it was harder on the nerves, they being bombarded all the time from practically all points of the compass, and it was very wearing on the men, but they had given a good account of themselves.

A number of his non-commissioned officers had been taken for instructional purposes. Some are in England and a number have been brought back to Canada and given commissions. He referred particularly to his Sgt.-Major, Roy Edwards, who has been given a commission in one of the Nova Scotia units, and paid a high tribute to his worth as a soldier. He had officiated at the burial of a great many of those killed in action, as the chaplain was not always available. Of his own part in the doings of the battalion the Colonel would not talk at all, he gave all the credit for his work to his men, and said they were "as fine a bunch of boys as ever faced a foe."

AMERICAN NAVAL COLLIER SUNK; NO WORD OF CREW AND 50 MARINES ABOARD

Charleston, S. C., July 14.—Captain F. R. Hunt of the tug Vladant reported late today that the United States naval collier Hector, bound from Charleston for Santo Domingo, with 60 marines aboard, had sunk nine miles southeast of Charleston lighthouse. The fate of the crew and marines is unknown.

GREEK KING NEAR DEATH IN FOREST FIRE

Paris, July 14 (5 p. m.)—A wireless despatch from Athens today describes the destruction of the summer palace of King Constantine, and the burning of the forest of Tatoi, in which the palace stood. The king, says the despatch, occupied in an automobile from a dangerous position, where he was directing the foresters, endeavoring to extinguish the fire which had started in the woods. The motor in which the king appeared from the burning district had been surrounded by flames, and he darted on foot through the danger zone, reached another automobile and got away in safety. Many persons were caught by the flames and perished, among them several army officers.

The forest, which was the largest in Greece, was entirely burned over, the total loss from the flames exceeding 40,000,000 francs. The fire started from the carelessness of wandering vagabonds in throwing a cigarette stub into the dry brushwood, the countryside being dry by lack of rain and intense heat.

The pavilion of Queen Mother Olga and the palace of the Crown Prince were destroyed and also, it is feared, the tomb of King George. King Constantine shed tears at the sight of the devastation worked by the flames.

FINANCIAL CONFERENCE OF ENTENTE

Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy Represented at Meeting in London.

WHY DECLARATION OF LONDON ABANDONED.

Manifold Scientific Improvements in Warfare have Precluded Conditions Unknown in Previous Naval Wars.

New York, July 14.—A London cable to the Journal says: "A financial conference between representatives of Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy was held this morning at the treasury office."

London, July 14.—The British foreign office addressed a note to neutral governments today explaining the reasons which prompted the abandonment of the declaration of London. The declaration was abrogated by an order-in-council, published on July 8, and a similar decree was issued in Paris on the same day.

The present British note explains that the Allies adopted the declaration of London, at the beginning of the war because in their anxiety to conform to international law, they believed the declaration provided a suitable digest of principles and a compendium of working rules.

"These rules," says the note, "did not necessarily possess the force of law, but seemed in their main lines, to present a statement of rights and duties of belligerents based on experience in previous naval wars. But, as the struggle proceeded, it developed, beyond all previous conceptions, new and manifold scientific improvements in warfare, and produced conditions altogether different to previous naval wars. It then became clear that the attempt made in times of peace by the declaration of London to determine the principles of law and their application, failed to produce a satisfactory result.

"The Allied governments, forced to recognize the situation thus created, therefore declared they must confine themselves simply to applying a historic and admitted rules of the law of nations."

GRIT OFFICERS HAD HAND IN TROUBLE AT CAMP BORDEN

For Political Purposes Helped Create Dissatisfaction Among Men—London Interests Also Helped Engineer Disturbances.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, July 14.—General Sir Sam Hughes stated tonight before leaving for Lindsay that he has been conducting a thorough inquiry into the causes of the troubles at Camp Borden and he is now assured from reliable sources that the agitation was engineered by London interests, chiefly liquor and tobacco, who want the troops brought back to London.

"The Allied governments, forced to recognize the situation thus created, therefore declared they must confine themselves simply to applying a historic and admitted rules of the law of nations."

The minister states that influential parties in London with whom he consulted agreed that it would be a wise move to take the troops away from Carling Heights. The object was in the interest of the men themselves, who were being preyed upon by camp followers. At Camp Borden they will be free from the objectionable followers. Liquor and politics were at the bottom of the trouble, he says.

M'GRAW, GIANTS' MANAGER, JAILED

Arrested on Warrant Sworn Out by Fan on Disorderly Conduct Charge—Out Under Bond.

Cincinnati, July 14.—John J. McGraw, of the New York National League team, was arrested here late tonight on a warrant sworn out by John T. Reed, a local fan, charging him with disorderly conduct. McGraw gave bonds for his appearance in the municipal court tomorrow and left with the team for St. Louis tonight.

Trouble started after the game when remarks by several spectators were addressed to the New York team while they were in their dressing rooms. McGraw resented the remarks. There were no blows struck but some ugly language was used, according to the police.

After McGraw's arrest Arthur Fletcher, skipper of the New York Club, swore to a warrant causing Reed's arrest.

Crack Shooting of Canadian Snipers Gets Several Huns

Ottawa, July 14.—Major General Sir Sam Hughes has received the following communique from the Canadian general representative at the front:

Canadian Corps Headquarters in France, via London, July 14.—There was a noticeable diminution in the volume of hostile artillery duels during the last few days on the Canadian front. Only one severe bombardment was directed upon our positions. Starting at 7.30 in the evening it continued until 10 with exceptional violence. Our heavy field batteries responded with the greatest vigor, and under the concentrated weight of their fire, the hostile guns were eventually silenced. Our artillery, on many occasions, shelled the German lines. Enemy machine gun emplacements, observation posts and strong points were damaged and in some instances destroyed. Numerous hostile working parties were also dispersed.

Our battalions in the front lines displayed particular activity. A daily toll of victims was claimed by our snipers. By night and by day our machine guns harassed the enemy and hampered his efforts to strengthen his defenses. The size and number of our patrols was increased, and an unquestioned ascendancy established over No Man's Land. One night a French-Canadian patrol, under Scout Sergeant Pouliot and Corporal Labelle, was returning from an inspection of the German entanglements when it encountered an enemy party of equal size. Simultaneously bombs were thrown by both sides.

One Prisoner Wore Iron Cross.

Led by the sergeant our men rushed at the enemy. The foremost two of the Germans were seized and overpowered, while the remainder of the hostile party rapidly withdrew, carrying with it a wounded man. One of the prisoners taken was a corporal, wearing the Iron Cross. On many former occasions Scout Sergeant Pouliot greatly distinguished himself by his courage and enterprise.

Another night scouts of a Calgary battalion located an enemy working party of about one hundred and fifty men in the open. Word was carried back to our trenches, and the machine guns were promptly turned on the Germans. At daylight two bodies were still lying on the ground.

At a different point in the line, after a short bombardment by our artillery, five parties of a Winnipeg battalion carried out a raid on the advanced positions of the enemy. The posts were all found vacant but close to one of them fifteen Germans were discovered in a crater. Bombs were at once thrown among them. The majority of the enemy fled back to their front line trenches but five or six were left lying at the bottom of the crater presumably dead.

The other parties, having encountered no opposition, advanced to the enemy's parapets and bombed his saps and trenches with excellent result.

A patrol of a Montreal battalion under Lieut. Fryer encountered a German party numbering over fifty men. Our patrol at once opened fire with a machine gun and the enemy soon withdrew, leaving a number of dead on the ground.

An attempted raid of the hostile trenches by parties of a certain Ontario battalion under Captain Scott and Lieut. Ansley and Lieut. Green was frustrated owing to unexpected entanglements close to the German parapet. The enterprise was most gallantly conducted by all ranks. Under a withering fire of bombs, machine guns and rifles, our men made repeated and desperate efforts to cross the obstacles and only desisted when the order to retire was received. Our party suffered casualties but much valuable information was gained in regard to the enemy's disposition in this action.

BRITISH STEAMER SILVERTON SUNK

London, July 14.—A report to Lloyd's says the British steamer Silverton has been sunk.

Latest maritime records report the Silverton, a vessel of 2,685 tons, as leaving the River Tyne, England, on June 11 for an unnamed destination. The Silverton was built in West Hartlepool in 1891 and was owned in Leith.

ICE CREAM REWARDS FOR UNIVERSAL JUVENILE PLAYERS.

On one of the big stages at Universal City, Lisle Warrenton, one of the best known character actresses of the photoplay world, and in days gone by a noted Shakespearean artist, was directing a one-reel picture in which the principal actors were children, and the featured one a little colored girl.

Mrs. Warrenton is producing pictures intended solely for children, made by children, and with a heart interest for the young mind.

Never for a minute during the time she was at work did Mrs. Warrenton lack an audience of the actresses of Universal City. There seemed to be an attraction about that school-room scene, with the little boys and girls, that spelled more to the feminine heart than the work of handsome Jack Kerrigan or his rival for matinee adulation, Herbert Rawlinson.

But the real treat was when Margaret Whistler, who played the teacher, served the children with a huge bowl of ice cream during the recess. There was no acting about this, it was real.

POPE TO APPEAL FOR PEACE ON WAR ANNIVERSARY?

New York, July 14.—A news agency despatch from Rome today says: "Pope Benedict, it is reported in church circles here, is preparing to issue a second appeal for peace on the occasion of the second anniversary of the beginning of the war, now only two weeks away."

The issuance of the appeal depends upon the success of the Allies in their present offensive. If the Anglo-French forces, for example, have made a wide breach in the German lines and are steadily pushing back the enemy as the anniversary draws near, His Holiness will regard the time as inopportune, and will have little or nothing to say regarding peace.

MR. GUTELIUS DOING WELL

Montreal, July 14.—The condition of Mr. P. P. Gutelius, general manager of the Government Railways, who was operated upon at the Western Hospital here on Wednesday for appendicitis, was regarded as so favorable today by the doctors in attendance that his family physician, Dr. Ferguson, of Moncton, N. B., left for home. There are strong hopes of Mr. Gutelius' recovery.

BARGE SUNK IN COLLISION WITH PIER

Sydney, N. S., July 14.—This afternoon, a barge being towed by the tug Springhill, through the Grand Narrows bridge, collided with pier No. 6 and glancing off crashed against the swinging span pier and immediately sank. Her masts are sticking up directly in the line of the track and above it, it was impossible to close the draw with the result that railway traffic will be held up until the masts can be sawed. The Steel Company sent an acetylene plant to do the sawing which will take some time. It is expected that navigation will be closed for at least two weeks or until the obstruction can be removed. The draw cannot be opened or closed as the pier is damaged.
