MISS B. BENNETT BURLIGH WAS IN ST. JOHN SATURDAY

Noted English Lady Interviewed By Standard — Had Many Thrilling Experiences Since Start of the War—Has Travelled Much—Witnessed Crimes and Acts of Germans To Awful To Talk About.

To enter Brussels on foot, passing through the German sentries; to inspect German prison hospitals at Mons; to escape from Blakenberg in a sailboat shelled by aeroplanes and shot at from the shore; and arrested by her own people by mistake, are but a few of the stirring experiences of Miss B. Bennett Burligh, the daughter of England's greatest war correspondent, Bennett Burligh, who on Saturday evening passed through St. John en route to New York. Miss Burligh is a typical English lady. Her refined manner and distinct pronunciation leaves a permanent impression upon those with whom she converses. Interviewed by a Standard representative Miss Burligh said:

"A German is a German and no other word is necessary to convey their real character. Why, the Hun is a gentleman compared with these people," emphasized Miss Bennett, with an expression of disgust upon her countenance. "There is only one way out of it, and that is in this war has got to be continued until these people are forced to surrender."

Miss Burligh, notwithstanding the countless atrocities committed by the Germans against the women of Belgium in August, 1914, decided to cross the English Channel and see for herself the cruel methods adopted and which have since been carried into effect by the soldiers of this tyrannical dynasty.

From the time of her departure from England, Miss Burligh has been an eye witness to crimes and acts of degradation, which call to Heaven for vengeance. On one occasion Belgian women who were travelling on a train following the one on which she was a passenger, were taken off the train and stripped of their clothing and thrown upon a table while German officers stood by and laughed with scorn. This sight turned the correspondent sick, and at the same time she recalled what might happen to her if she fell into their hands. "It was not the fear of them killing me, that I worried about, but it was what they would do to me before they put me to death," Miss Burligh, if captured by the Germans preferred to be shot on the spot rather than be in their hands for any length of time. In order to hasten her end in case she was detected, she always carried a camera with her, as she was sure then that death would be sudden.

Miss Burligh was the first woman war correspondent to go right into the heart of the conflict and write from scenes witnessed by her own eyes. It is doubtful if any other war correspondent has ever taken the chance to learn the truth of the facts, which involved the penalty of death if caught. Miss Burligh has been in Canada during the past two weeks lecturing to the interest of some of the patriotic societies in Nova Scotia and her style

GR. HARRY PIKE IS IN HOSPITAL

Was Admitted on June 2—Shell Gas Burns Received—Has Had Worthy Career as Soldier.

Mrs. J. W. Pike, 213 Queen street, West St. John received a telegram from Ottawa yesterday informing her that her son Harry Pike, a military medal man had been admitted to hospital in Bologna, France on June 2nd suffering from shell gas burns. No other information was received regarding the injuries of the young soldier.

Gunner Harry Pike has seen about as much war as any young Canadian soldier that has left the shores of Canada. For two years during the Boer war he served his country faithfully in South Africa. While at home he was always a member of the Carleton Battery in the 3rd Regiment Canadian Artillery, all when this present war broke out and there was a call for volunteers he was one of the first to sign on with Major Magee in the heavy artillery then mobilizing on Patricie Island. Coming to France with the first contingent he has been with the Heavy Brigade ever since the commencement and during all that time he has only been off duty from the front line and the rear of the big guns twice, once when he was ill in hospital for a few weeks and once last year when he had furlough about ten days in England.

Gunner Pike has one brother with a slight battery and another with the infantry in France both fighting strong. His friends wish him a speedy recovery and sincerely hope that his injuries are not serious.

CAMP SUSSEX STILL UNDER QUARANTINE

Three Cases of Spinal Meningitis Developed There—Men Reporting for Duty Come to St. John—Extension to Those on Farms.

Camp Sussex is still under quarantine and without likelihood remains so for some little time, as three cases of spinal meningitis developed last week among the troops quartered there.

This outbreak has made necessary a change in the quartering of the men reporting and until the quarantine is lifted all men will report here at the St. John barracks. Major McArthur and Capt. Pitt with other members of the staff have arrived in the city and Major McArthur will be in command of those who report here for duty.

Orders have been sent out for all men ordered to come to the city this week to report at St. John instead of Sussex and any who may go to the latter place will be immediately sent here.

In consequence of this quarantine the time of leave of those absent on the farms has been extended from June 15 until July 3.

ANOTHER CASE OF SMALLPOX IS DISCOVERED

Person Located Saturday in the West End—Taken to Isolation Hospital—Visitors Not Yet Allowed to General Hospital.

T. M. Burns, secretary of the board of health stated, that the suspected case of smallpox, reported on Saturday, turned out to be a case, and the patient was removed to the isolation hospital. The case was on the West Side but no anxiety need exist, as near all the residents of that section are vaccinated. No other cases are reported.

It was rumored last evening that the quarantine had been permanently lifted off to the General Public Hospital. Upon enquiries being made at this institution it was stated a quarantine yet existed, but only as a precautionary measure.

Doctors and nurses were allowed out as usual, but before entering they took aseptic baths as a precautionary measure also.

One of the doctors at the institution added this quarantine has existed for a time, but no alarm need be felt by the citizens, as this rule was only as a precautionary measure for the inmates from visitors.

THE BOY SCOUTS FIND MISSING BOY

Eight Year Old Wilfred Paxton Left His Home Saturday Morning—Found By Scouts Yesterday Afternoon.

That the Boy Scouts of St. John are always on the job was again proved yesterday afternoon, when they succeeded in tracing a small boy in two hours, although he had been lost since early Saturday morning.

Little Wilfred Paxton, eight years of age residing in Sheffield street, after locating a few cents in the house, quietly disappeared from his home and was not heard of again by his anxious mother, until brought to her door by members of the Trinity and Stone Church Troops, yesterday afternoon.

Just before Sunday School time, the office of the Local Boy Scouts Association received a telephone call, after the Scouts were asked to search for the "prophetic son"; thirty minutes later, except where the boys had been refused leave of absence from the Sunday School service, the troops were organized and actively traversing the streets and alleys of the district, from East St. John to Fairville, the cyclist patrols of St. Pauls and Portland troops leaving the work of searching the more remote sections, whilst patrols were also endeavoring to trace the missing lad in Rockwood Park.

At one o'clock certain members of the Trinity and Stone troops, following a clue which they had picked up, succeeded in locating the little boy in a house in Queen street, and immediately restored him to his anxious parents—it is understood that his father is overseas, wounded in an English hospital.

It appears that the boy had spent part of Saturday in the Queen street house, and left for the purpose of going home, in the evening, but instead, slept on a wood pile, in his own yard, and then returned to Queen street yesterday morning, giving the people the idea that he had been home; he was there until found by the Scouts, and taken back home.

Thus ended the incident in which a small boy was the means of giving work to nearly two hundred boy scouts, and, we understand, members of the police force; at least so far as they were concerned.
