Morganatic Wife Claims Property

Greeks Have Novel Legal Problem Through Commoner Widow of Late King.

Athens, Greece, Nov. 8.—The question of the legal rights of Madame Manos, Morganatic wife of the late King Alexander, seems likely to create some difficulty, according to leading jurists of this city.

Her attorney on Thursday last asked the court to remove the seals from the apartments of the dead king, asserting Madame Manos, through her marriage and also because of her approaching motherhood would legally inherit Alexander's property. An attorney acting for former King Constantine then asked the court to suspend action until he had time to institute action in opposition.

Ex-King's View.

He declared Constantine intended to contend that the marriage of Madame Manos and the late monarch was invalid, and that Alexander's property should pass to his father and brothers. Should Constantine take legal action in the premises, the jurists point out, it would constitute an admission that he is no longer King of Greece, as the chief of state, being the dispenser of justice, cannot appeal to the courts. There is some speculation here as to the status in the dynasty of the child to be born by Madame Manos if her marriage should be declared valid.

Velvet Flowers As Wrist Ornaments

Vogue of Artificial Blossoms Just Now as Wreaths and Girdles.

(Copyright 1920, by Cross-Atlantic.) London, Nov. 8.—Nothing is more attractive than a flower in the right place. This, with the beautiful artificial flowers which are now made, is increasingly recognized and a flower or bud is fixed in every possible position.

This autumn it is rather in vogue of color on color that most originality is displayed. Evening dresses are hardly complete without a wreath of flowers around the head or a band of them circling the waist. Wreaths may be of shimmering gold or silver; flat flowers and fruits of velvet are also used widely.

The most pleasing and novel use to which flowers have been put this season has been by a famous dress designer. She has used a large velvet flower as a wrist ornament. The flower is a gigantic pink camellia, attached to the wrist by a band of pink velvet and worn with a flimsy dance frock of the same color. There are numerous flowers which could be used by the imaginative as similar wrist ornaments and thus add a finishing touch to any toilette.

The climax.

The beautiful girl had gone up stairs and had just got down when she heard a caller ask for her. She made a dash for her powder box in the dark and found, to her face and then she went down again to find a gentleman on whom she was anxious to make an impression.

And she did. He was puzzled at her appearance, but, being a gentleman, said nothing. She sat and chatted gracefully and had a delightful hour. As soon as she had gone, she rushed to the mirror, as every girl does when her beau leaves, she gave one screw and went off into hysterics. Instead of putting the pull into the powder-box, she had put it into the powdered cheeks used for her teeth.

Living In The Light
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

I confess a kind of child terror at great storms—the I love them! But I would never choose to live in a country where storms never came.

None of the great forces of Nature is more uplifting than that of the sun. He is a pretty poor sport who would not face his days courageously after having been touched by a billion sun rays on awakening in the morning.

And yet it is only on the bright days that great shadows are possible. It's that way with the most helpful characters—those who have become great. Their paths have been strewn with shadows. Because, you see, it is the shadows which force out the man as he stands boldly against a background of tests.

It takes all kinds of people to make a world, they say, but it takes more kinds of experiences to make a man.

By living in the light, we learn to go thru the darkness. The sun I like to think of as God's breath—breathing health and goodness into the world. It is a scientific fact that the rays of the sun are able to kill the most virulent germ—somehow nothing of evil has ever lived under its purifying power.

On the other hand, there is no other power so great in creative force as the sun. It makes all Nature glow—radiant! And we are all happiest on the sunny days.

Let us live in the light. And strive to bring others into it.

Very Interesting Letter From Japan

Miss Riddell, Missionary to Leper Hospital, Writes to Women's Auxiliary.

A very interesting letter from a missionary in Japan was read at the Women's Auxiliary of St. John's (St. John's) church, which held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon. Mrs. John Hay Doreen Dorcas secretary, was present and members were deeply touched by the many pathetic incidents related in a letter from Miss Riddell, who is a missionary to a leper hospital in Japan. Miss Riddell wrote of the children's pleasure taken by some of the women in a doll with a complete wardrobe which was sent in a bale from Canada. She also told of the joy which crocheted silk caps and large cushions gave to these sufferers whose lives are such tragedies, but who bear their sorrows so bravely helped by the consolation of the Gospel.

The President, Mrs. Alfred Morrissey presided at yesterday's meeting. Mrs. Sadler gave an excellent Bible study, taking as her subject the mottoes of the Diocese of Monrovia and Atlanta. Mrs. Edgar Golding and Mrs. Lively gave short readings on China.

Miss Edith Skinner, president of the Girls' Association, reported on their work announced at a tea and dance to be held this month. Mrs. Morrissey read the report of the monthly board meeting.

The Chamber of Commerce and leading merchants are collaborating these arrangements and under present plans the first ten days will be spent in London where the delegates will be met by the foreign press and the Lord Mayor. Automobile trips will be made to points of historical interest and to great trading centers nearby. From ten days will be spent in Scotland and Lancashire in hosiery districts, one week in Yorkshire among the textile mills and one week in the midland counties of Birmingham, Stratford-on-Avon and the Cheshire peninsular district will also be visited.

"If possible," says J. B. Quilter, Jr., secretary of the London Drapers' Chamber of Trade, "We hope to give the delegates an opportunity during their visit to tour Ireland for one week. The British merchants feel indebted to Americans and Canadians for their great kindness during their trip through America and would like to show these delegates a really good time and to reciprocate by a trip through Great Britain."

50 Years Ago

A young man who practiced medicine in a rural district became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. He finally made up his mind to place some of his treatments before the entire United States and, moving to Buffalo, he put up what he called his Favorite Prescription, and placed it with the druggists in every State and in Canada.

That was fifty years ago. For fifty years this Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce's has sold more largely throughout the United States than any other medicine of like character. It's the testimony of thousands of women that it has benefited or entirely eradicated such distressing ailments as women are prone to.

For over fifty years some of Dr. Pierce's home medicines have been selling over the drug counters, so that more than forty-eight million bottles have been sold during that time. This speaks well for the reliability and value of Dr. Pierce's standard home remedies. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood tonic and strength-builder which contains no alcohol, yet has tonic qualities that have endeared it to the American public. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, composed of May-apple, aloes and jalap, have long been considered a reliable vegetable laxative, in the same way that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has long been recognized as a tonic for diseases peculiar to womanhood. More recently that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's—namely, Anuric (anti-uric-acid), has been successfully used by many thousands of people who write Dr. Pierce in unqualified terms of the benefits received—that their backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble have been completely conquered by the use of Anuric.

Hundred Children Heard An Address

Interesting Services Held in St. Mary's Yesterday by Rev. W. B. Williston.

A very interesting address was given by Rev. W. B. Williston at the Bible Study Class held at St. Mary's church yesterday afternoon at three. He spoke on the Second Coming of Christ, one of the central doctrines of the church's teaching. These classes will be held at three o'clock daily.

At four o'clock one hundred children assembled and listened with earnest attention to a talk on the Gospel of Truth. At the evening service the sermon was upon the three parables in the fifth chapter of Luke, the Lost Sheep, the Lost Piece of Silver, and the Prodigal Son. Mr. Williston pointed out that all were lost, all out

St. Paul's Young People's Programme

Unique Entertainment Carried Out at School House Last Evening.

A hundred young people of St. Paul's congregation greatly enjoyed a unique entertainment at the school house last evening. "Mystery Night" was the title given the affair, which was arranged by the following committee: F. W. Hewittson, W. G. Peters, Miss Edith Hamm, Miss Hazel Peters, Miss Peters, Mrs. F. W. Hewittson and Mrs. P. N. Woodley looked after the refreshments.

The proceedings opened with a singing, when a number of popular songs were heartily sung. Then followed a clever guessing contest, called a "Song Story," in which a story was read, entire sentences being left out by the reader. A pianist played a song, the title of which supplied the missing words of the story. It was required of the guests to fill in the song titles, and prizes were won by E. Till and Miss Marjorie McConnell.

Amusing Contest

An amusing contest was that in which photographs of the backs of some twenty members of the congregation had been taken. Those guessing the largest number correctly were Mrs. A. H. Crowfoot and Miss Clara Schofield.

A spelling match was another item on the programme, in which the team captained by the president, Rev. Archdeacon Crowfoot, won from the team captained by E. Till. The prizes for all contests were such some of which were quite elaborately dressed.

During the evening the society voted $25 towards the furnishing of a new altar in the Nurses' Home. It is planned to start a Choral Club in connection with the society and to give entertainments at the various institutions in the city. Twenty new members joined last evening, and all indications point to a very successful season.

Do Them Good, Too

The Salvation Army, according to General Booth, is carrying on a great work among the beggars of eastern countries and in Colombo, where they were very numerous, they have almost disappeared. "I will tell you how we treat the beggars," said the general. "We make the beggars work."

Cutting Off Heads

Lord Leverhulme cut the head of a portrait of himself he didn't like, and the artist is kicking. He ought to be pleased. In earlier times disaffected patrons used to cut the head off the artist.

The Surrogate's Court

The Surrogate's Court a year ago last September, asserting that she had lived with the millionaire more than a year as his wife. She said their common-law marriage took place April 10, 1918, and that de Arco publicly acknowledged and introduced her as his wife.
