In other words -- we must not only preach freedom -- we must practice it.

Field Marshal Smuts-- October 17, 1934 -- Rectoral Address -- St. Andrew's University: -- "In the long run only the spirit of international comradeship can solve the problems of freedom and of peace. But in the meantime the supreme cause has to be kept going and to be safeguarded from all danger till the coming of a new renaissance of the European spirit."
