

President of the Court

The Court has considered the submission made by the Defence that no prima facie case has been established and the ruling of the Court is that such prima facie case has not been made on either charges and the accused is therefore found not guilty and shall be released forthwith.