LAVAL NORMAL SCHOOL.

To the Editor True Witness: Dear Mr. Editor: As the schools closed their doors for their summer vacation, it was my privilege to occupy a portion of your valuable space with a description of the events attending the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Jacques Cartier Normal School, in our city.

Gignac, G. E., Marquis, P. Gault, school inspector, T. Simard, S. E. Dorion, F. D. Frève, E. Tramblay, Thos. Blais, C. A. Lefebvre, G. Gagnon, A. Barbeau, E. Gagnon and E. Aubé.

The foregoing, therefore, Dear Mr. Editor, brought to a close the first day's proceedings of the golden jubilee, only to prepare for the gorgeous portion to take place the following day.

Therefore, thanking you most heartily for the space thus graciously accorded me, with the promise of a continuation in your next issue, I have the honor to remain, dear Sir, Yours respectfully, M.

Church News of the Week

ST. ANN'S.

Last Sunday the people of St. Ann's held their annual pilgrimage to Cote des Neiges. In spite of the fact that the car service was interrupted by the laying of new tracks, yet the attendance was very satisfactory.

The Way of the Cross was conducted by the Rev. Father Christopher, O.F.M., with the ordinary prayers and the preaching of a short sermon at each station; the whole being closed by the solemn chanting of the Libera for the souls of the departed.

Before starting the solemn procession of the Way of the Cross, a Libera was chanted by the Rev. Father Rioux, of St. Ann's, for the late John McGuirk, of Montreal, who has recently been honored in the Young Men's plot.

ST. ANTHONY'S.

The Young Men's Society held a largely attended meeting on last Sunday afternoon. They mapped out a programme of amusements and other work for the season. With a Glee Club, a Dramatic Club, a gymnasium, and the many other amusements, quite a lively time may be looked forward to.

Father Heffernan's young athletes, who did so well during the summer, will play their last lacrosse game for this season on Saturday next. They appear quite confident that victory again awaits them, and hope to return the proud possessors of the league cup, for which they have battled so manfully and well.

ST. GABRIEL.

High Mass was celebrated at ten o'clock Sunday last by Rev. Father Singleton. After the usual announcements by the pastor, Rev. Father Fahey preached an eloquent and impressive sermon upon the eighth commandment of God, drawing a well-traced line regarding the nature and gravity of the different offences that are committed against this precept.

During the day meetings were held of the St. Gabriel's T. A. & B. Society, the dramatic section of the Juvenile T. A. & B., and the St. Gabriel Young Men. All of those societies are in a flourishing condition and bright and prosperous futures are assured.

OBITUARY.

MR. HUGH DENNIS BRADY.

In his eightieth year, Mr. Hugh Dennis Brady Tuesday morning passed away at the residence of his sister, Mrs. H. Syms, 30 Aylwin street, after an illness of four weeks duration.

He was born in the city of Quebec in 1827, and was the second son of Phillip Henry Brady, shipbuilder, of that city, and this occupation the son followed in Montreal for many years. The business reached such proportions that he took into partnership ex-Ald. John Lee, and two decades later formed a partnership with his son, Mr. F. J. Brady, and Mr. D. Britt, the firm being known as Brady & Son.

He was one of the first elected members of the Shamrock Lacrosse Club, and in many a great lacrosse match his enthusiasm and all-round support did much to bring the flags to Montreal. He was the organizer of the Excelsior Lacrosse Club, at one time the intermediate champions.

He is survived by one son, Mr. F. J. Brady, and one daughter, Mrs. Norris W. Brown, of New York.

MRS. P. JARDIN.

In chronicling the death of Mrs. Pierre Jardin, of St. Charles parish, this city, the mind of the inhabitants of St. Gabriel and St. Charles is brought back to one of the oldest figures among them. Born at Cote des Neiges, almost seventy-three years ago, Miss Virginia Cardinal spent her childhood in her native district, until close upon the time of her marriage to Mr. Jardin, since which period she had resided in Point St. Charles. She died on Saturday, Sept. 28th.

Although failing for some time past, still the end came rather unexpectedly. The deceased lady is survived by two sons and three daughters, as well as a large number of other relatives to whom we extend our sincere sympathy.

MRS. THOMAS C. COLLINS.

The death occurred on Tuesday evening of Mrs. Collins, wife of Mr. Thomas C. Collins, after a short illness. In the death of Mrs. Collins many have lost their best friend. Charities, private and public, strongly appealed to her, and her hand was ever open to the deserving. The Home for Incurables more especially had her sympathy, and she gave her time as well as her means to further the good cause.

The funeral will take place tomorrow (Friday) morning from her late residence, 384 Lagache street west, to St. Patrick's Church.

Death of Sir Henry Hawkins Famous Lawyer and Judge.

Lord Brampton, who was Sir Henry Hawkins, the great lawyer and judge, is dead. He was born in 1817. He celebrated his ninetieth birthday on Saturday, September 14. Quite late in life he was received into the Catholic Church.

CATHOLIC SAILORS' CONCERT.

The entertainment last evening was in the hands of Branch No. 232, C. M.B.A., and it may be said that they did all in their power to make it an agreeable one in every particular. Mr. A. D. McGillis occupied the chair.

The programme was a good one and well carried out. Mention is due to the following: Misses Baker, Fitzgerald and Grant, as well as to evening of Mrs. Collins, after a short Antler, McWilliams, Gaudry and an old and ever-welcome friend Chas. Mallon, for the manner in which they acquitted themselves. It was announced by the chairman that next week's concert would be in the hands of Division No. 5, Ladies' Auxiliary, A.O.H.

Hints and Helps.

It seems funny that a man who is rich thanks to his mother's hard work should glory in his money.

If people saw some of the scribes responsible for newspaper joke columns they would realize how easy it is to make people laugh.

"The Church should have no voice in education," said a New Dispensation Gideon (?) as he stood on a barrel. "We should not leave all the good music to the devil," answered a stranger, who, like the man who went down to Jericho, found himself astray.

What is a mean man? One who will borrow a religious paper which he or his wife could easily pay for, read it, and then find fault with the paper's management.

Our daily papers would find advertisements a whit more profitable were the "hod-carrier" not to figure.

Many Irishmen may have been hod carriers, but we notice they are not too numerous among the thieving oil-kings.

A member of the Amalgamated Federation of Frenzied Religious Howlers says that all Methodists and Roman Catholics will go to the bad place. There will be noise enough without the holy (?) howler himself.

When Diogenes was asked by his first cousin whether he, Diogenes, had found his honest man, he answered: "Yes, but the rascal ran away with my lamp as soon as I got him."

One of Chiquig's first renegade apostles is now doing penance in his old days down in Kentucky.

The Scriptures tell us that no man knows whether he is worthy of love or hate, and yet there are people who believe they are in Heaven before they have had a chance to die.

Although General Booth has proved a hard worker, yet we might expect his Salvationist spoken of in his newspaper contribution on how he started the Army, to know more about who his Savior is. He ought to know where our Lord was born, at least.

It is strange that people will find other people to their liking whom every honest man must loathe.

Say like me, and I'll say you're a fine fellow.

Vol. LVII. Glimpses (John O'Callaghan, in Globe). Few indeed of the checked as has been the most of them, 'can surprise interest or in antiquity of St. Canice, I the 'City of Confederation' every stage in Ireland struggle for National Liberty every crisis in the nation old contest against alien the stalwart old city of E proudly shaken its locks its stand on Ireland's side battle. A MONUMENT TO THE QUERABLE SPIRIT. Although like many of ancient Irish cities, much mer glory has departed, a grandeur and spirituality forever link its name with history past may not to quite so apparent as a gone by, Kilkenny still stands a monument to the unquenchable spirit of the Irish nation proof that the sublime faithfulness of a people can every trial and trouble, stand unchangeable and unconquerable. The lovely Nore glides by, and the echoes ring out old belfry at St. Canice's century as they did more centuries and a half ago, tramp of armed men awakens echoes of Kilkenny, in the Papal Nuncio, Rinnuccini went as the special representative of Pope Innocent X. to offer assistance to the struggling nation. Although the hand has dealt harshly in the with many other Irish cities by the Nore still preserve of its historic features and proudly to a past which time be interwoven with the making incidents of one of saddest but most glorious THE LAST ORGANIZED OF THE CATHOLIC THROW OFF THE YOKE THE OPPRESSOR. Within its walls was planned last great and concerted against the wiles and threats of the marshaled forces of the hierarchy and clergy, Irish hierarchy and clergy, side with the Catholic aristocracy who sacrificed everything to lives, in the effort to break yoke of Britain. That they was mainly because they were confident in, and too trusting British king, who was unworthy their allegiance, and who, were shedding their blood in port, was treating with the misers for their destruction. Knowledge that they had been betrayed and too late to meet them to retrieve their fortunes, with the result that downfall of the "Confederate Kilkenny" marks what was the last organized effort part of the Catholic people land, as such, to shake off of the foreign oppressor. Kilkenny is somewhat out beaten path of travellers in and is therefore not as well known to tourists as other Irish which do not begin to approach in historic interest or beauty lies in the beautiful valley of Nore, about eighty miles from, and thirty from the equator city of Waterford. Nestled in the midst of a rich and picturesque country, with a waterfall, the traveler on the between the Nore and Waterford the first glimpse of the city, the bold and time-scarred ments of Kilkenny Castle upon the view. THE CASTLE OF KILKENNY Kilkenny Castle now, as in time of Rinnuccini, constitutes residence of the Marquis of Ormonde and is one of the most beautiful of the old Irish strongholds. How of Ireland's present thraldom is justly traced to the Marquis of Rinnuccini's day is a subject on which there is slight of opinion among Irishmen day. It is generally recognized to him more than to any other was due the failure of the federal plans for the emancipation of the Catholics of Ireland.
