are warmer in their seats and not quife so warm in their heads, the affairs of Quebec will run along smoothly and charitably and the membership increase rapidly. There seems to us an amount of surplus energy that might nicely be devoted to forming new branches in the new Grand Comneil and increasing the membership of those already instituted.

While, then, the Weekly is grateful tor being disignated an official organ of the Grand Conneil of Quebec, by accepting that favor it has not forfeited its independence, nor has it become partisan. It will gladly publish official documents; but by publishing them, does not adopt them as its own sentiments. It is entirely independent and claims the right to give fair and honorable criticism, favorable or unfavorable as the case deserves.

regular meeting since the sad event was recorded, beg publicly to express the grief we feel at the loss of one who was a saintly and scholarly priest, who by his zeal and devotedmess in the cause of our holy religion, had recognized and rewarded by our Holy Father, Leo. XIII., and His Lordship the Bishop of

No poor words of his bereaved brothers of the afflicted.

We deeply mourn the loss of a priest who adorned the Church of God, and of a member who was among the ablest of the Association; yet, in the midst of our sorrow and commiseration, we bow submissively to the divine decree, and add our tribute to the many that have gone forth, trusting that Providence has placed upon the brow of our late Very Rev. Resolved, that the charter of our Branch be draped in mourning, for a period of thirty days, as a mark of respect to the memory of our Very Rev. departed Brother,

On Wednesday, Oct. 11, at St. Patrick's church, kinkora, a large crowd assembled to witness the marriage of Miss Julia Kennedy of this place, to Mr. J. J. O'Brien, merchant of Stratford. Precisely at 9 o'clock the bride entered the church, leaning on the arm of her brother. Cornellus, who also gave her away, and accompanied by the bridesmald, where she was met at the altar by Mr. O'Brien. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Kennedy, brother of the bride, assisted by Father O'Neill. The nuprials were blessed with all the solemnity of the Church, in the presence of a large number of friends of the brides and bridegroom. The bride was attired in a fawn colored cloth, trimmed with beaver—with hat, gloves and veil to match, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemus, gerantiums and maiden hair ferns. The bride was assisted by Miss Nellie Dalton, sister of the groom, while Mr. William Feeney, brother of the bride, performed a like duty for the groom.

After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Father Bayard, the happy couple repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where, with about forty guests, they partook of a most sumptuous wedding repast. They left on the evening train for Chicago, amidst the hearty good wishes of their numerous friends.

The large number of valuable presents received by the bride shows the high esteem in which she was held.

It must be gratifying to the manufacturers of "Saniight" Soap to find their goods so splendidly appreciated in the Canadian market; and it must also be pleasing to them to receive the highest recognition at Canadian Exhibitions for the superior quality of their soap. At the recent Fall Shows held at London and Ottawa, "Saniight" was awarded a Gold Medal, which brings their gold medal list up to 13. Added to this grand record is the important fact that "Saniight" is used in Windsor Castle and in the Royal Laundries, and owing to the excellence of their soap, the manufacturers have been specially appointed soap makers to the Queen.
