

Help to Save Canada's Fruit Crop

A Practical Thrift Suggestion

This year, as never before, every quart of Canada's fruit crop should be used to the very best advantage. Though it all ripens within four months, it can be made to supply every table, every day in the year, at moderate cost.

Canning and preserving, done at home at the time when each fruit is cheapest, provide in delicious and economical form the daily fruit so necessary in a wholesome diet. Fruit put up at home is much cheaper than that which you buy, and the slight increase in its cost, due to the higher price of sugar, is small compared with the mounting cost of other foods.

Successful preserving and canning are by no means difficult, either, if you are careful to boil everything, and use

DRAMATIC END OF THE STRIKE

Mr. S. A. Gardner Tells How the I.W.W. Strike at Bisbee, Ariz., Came to an Inglorious Conclusion

Bisbee, Ariz., July 16 '17.

Editor Ontario:

I wrote you at the beginning of last week concerning the strike in the Warren District and Bisbee and the trouble that the I.W.W.'s have brought here. Now I am writing to tell you how the strike has been settled.

It was certainly the most dramatic thing I have ever seen, and intermingled with it was much of the tragic. This gang, followed their usual tactics, that of intimidation, threats and the wailing and beating of miners who were returning from their work after nightfall. They have threatened women with death if they did not induce their husbands to quit work and join the strikers, or to burn them out. The result was that many who were not in sympathy with the strike quit work out of sheer fear and the production of copper fell on 50 per cent, and that at a time when every pound of copper is needed for the manufacture of munitions for the soldiers that are being sent overseas.

It is an undoubted fact that the leaders of the 'wobblies' at least, are under the pay of the Germans to hinder and embarrass the United States Government. The greater part of these men are foreigners, many of whom do not understand the English language, and are not citizens. Among them are Mexicans, Austrians, 'Bohunks', Finlanders, and people from south-eastern Europe.

Having established themselves here, they then set to work to make themselves stronger by bringing in I.W.W. tramps. These came on the promise of good wages and nothing to do, and soon the city was flooded with strangers, idlers who, as they increased in numbers, became more arrogant and offensive, so that it was soon evident that something had to be done and done at once.

Such was the condition of affairs on the evening of the 11th. People grumbled and asked why the authorities did not act; but the leaders were shrewd and kept the letter of the law, if not the spirit.

Soon after daybreak on the 12th there seemed an unusual quietness on the streets groups of men, each with a white handkerchief tied round his arm and armed with a rifle and a belt containing cartridges. Then these deputies gathered together and divided into detachments and set out to different parts of the city. It soon developed that these men were the deputies of Harry Wheeler, the Cochise County Sheriff, and that they were rounding up the I.W.W.'s and their dupes and sympathizers.

The deputies were grouped and sent in different directions. Not a street or lane was missed and soon from every street could be seen groups of I.W.W.'s under guards of armed men, marching down to Warren, a couple of miles away. Here they were put in the ball park, which is a large enclosure surrounded by a high board fence. It is said that there were two thousand deputies under the command of the sheriff.

who had a machine gun in his auto, and that there were four others in the city if really needed.

By 11 o'clock the city had been combed and there were in the park nearly 2,000 interned. The tragic part was where fathers and husbands were torn from their families. Over in Upper Lowell a real tragedy had taken place. A Finlander shot a deputy, O. P. McCrae, and a deputy standing behind McCrae shot the Finlander, both of whom were instantly killed.

Twenty-seven cattle and box cars had been run down to Warren during the night. Into these were placed 1,285 I.W.W.'s who would not agree to go to work. On the top of each car were placed ten armed deputies, and after a dinner of good bread and plenty of water, the engine was hitched on and away they sped to Columbus, about 300 miles away.

On arriving there they were not allowed to stop, so they were taken out on the desert, 25 miles away, to Hermanes, a railway crossing where a number of soldiers are stationed, and here they were left. It is the most desolate desert I have ever seen. Since that (I think on Saturday) the Federal authorities took them to Columbus and put them in a detention camp. No distinction was made. Among those at Columbus are some prominent citizens of Bisbee.

Thus the strike was broken and things are going on today as they did before the so-called strike. It was a desperate condition of affairs and required a desperate remedy. Yesterday the funeral of O. P. McCrae was held and it was a wonderful turn-out. The civic authorities have issued a notice sent to all parts of Arizona forbidding I.W.W.'s coming into Cochise County. They are still arresting men and sending them to the camp.

It was certainly well planned and carefully carried out, and it ends strikes in Bisbee for many years to come, and sounds the death-knell of the I.W.W.'s in Arizona.

I must crave your indulgence for taking up so much of your valuable time and space.

S. A. Gardner.

TWO MILLIONS DAILY

Canada's War Burden is Steadily Increasing

The war is costing Canada nearly $2,000,000 a day. You can help your country to bear that burden and improve your own financial position by investing in War Savings Certificates. It is a business as well as a patriotic proposition. The certificates are on sale at every bank and at every money order post office. They bear interest at a rate of nearly 5 1/2 per cent. They are purchasable in three amounts for three year periods and you can have your money back at any time with interest. The certificates are registered at Ottawa. The investment is secure. The financial return is splendid. The fact of doing your duty should be a greater incentive. The nation needs your money. You can purchase a $25 bond for $21.50, a $40 bond for $36, and a $100 bond for $88. These certificates and bonds are sold from every street corner and from every street could be seen groups of I.W.W.'s under guards of armed men, marching down to Warren, a couple of miles away. Here they were put in the ball park, which is a large enclosure surrounded by a high board fence. It is said that there were two thousand deputies under the command of the sheriff.

Mrs. J. A. McFee is a delegate at the Conference of the Conservation of Resources Committee at Toronto.

PAVEMENT DEPUTATION RETURNS

The civic deputation on pavements which visited Picton yesterday afternoon consisted of Mayor Ketcheson, Ald. Robinson, Woodley, Parks, Platt and Whalen. City Engineer Mill and the following residents of Bridge Street West, Messrs. Arthur Gail, W. J. Campbell, and F. P. Thompson. Mayor Haalip, of Picton and aldermen of the town, showed the delegation over the tar-macadam and macadam pavements. The party returned to the city last evening.

On Friday night at an adjourned meeting of the council, the matter of paving South Front and Bridge streets will again come up for consideration.

AN ONTARIO JEWEL

The Lake of Bays is one of the jewels in the Highlands of Ontario. The whole territory is one great mass of lakes, streams and forests. Speckled trout, salmon trout and black bass are plentiful in these waters. The altitude is 1000 feet above the sea, making the air rare and invigorating. Splendid hotel accommodation. Literature telling you all about it free on application to C. E. Hornung, D.P.A., Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

CASUALTIES

Wounded: R. E. Wegg, Peterboro A. Gordon, Madoc Sgt. I. M. Conley, Kingston Gr. E. B. Lloyd, Brockville

A SMALL MARKET

This morning's market was very well patronized by buyers. Potatoes had lowered to 75c. Raspberries brought 22c. Apples and gooseberries sold at the rate of three quarts for 25c. Red currants and cherries sold at 3 boxes for 25c, green peas at 25c per quart, beans at 50c per quart.

COAL CITY MENACED

Haig's Forces Make Steady Progress Towards Lens

Haig is steadily driving towards the coal city. Large numbers of men and guns have been captured in the month's operations between Messines and Wytschaete Ridge. The foe's position at Lens grows daily more precarious. The mobilization of the human resources of Great Britain is proving superior to that of the enemy. There must be equal mobilization of Canada's resources. Every man and woman in the Dominion must be animated by the spirit of the soldiers in the firing line. The country must adopt the motto of the National Service Board "Serve by giving." It must abandon luxuries, eliminate waste, practise economy. And it must invest the money thus saved in War Savings Certificates. Every dollar the country can spare is needed for war purposes. Every man and woman in the country is faced with a direct war duty. Save your dollars and invest them in Government war bonds where they can be used for national purposes and employed to the best interest of the country.

THOUSANDS ATTENDED OAK LAKE CAMP MEETING

Crowds Estimated at 7,000 at Sunday Services—Great Interest Manifested—Singing a Prominent Feature—Evangelist Sharpe Held Undivided Attention of his Large Audiences.

Oak Lake, the beautiful town nestled among the high hills in the northern part of the Township of Sidney, was on Sunday the mecca for a great concourse of people. It was the second Sunday of the Oak Lake Tent Meeting, under the auspices of the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference. Owing to rain and incomplete arrangements the meeting on the first Sunday was somewhat of a disappointment, but this was more than made up by the unqualified success of this week's Sunday services. It was the hottest day of the year to date, but, owing to the high altitude, no discomfort was felt. The temperature at this elevation is always several degrees lower than at Belleville and there is the added advantage of catching whatever breeze may be stirring.

It is estimated that the combined attendance at the three services yesterday amounted to more than seven thousand people. No service was announced for the morning but at an early hour the people began to arrive and by eleven o'clock fully 1,500 people were on the grounds. An impromptu service was at once organized with Evangelist Sharpe in charge.

In the afternoon almost a solid procession of automobiles and other vehicles converged on the winding roadway leading to the pine grove at the western extremity of the lake, where the camp is located. The capacious tent was altogether inadequate to accommodate all who came. In fact a tent several times as large would have been needed, for probably 4,000 people were in attendance. Some came as far as fifty miles in their cars to be present. Fifty individuals came from Bath where Mr. Sharpe has recently conducted evangelistic services. At every approach to the grounds cars and carriages were "parked" by hundreds. In the evening the tent was again thronged and many remained on the outside, the voices of the speakers and the singers being plainly audible in any part of the grove.

Mr. Sharpe, at the afternoon service, chose for his text, Gal. 6:7-8: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting."

"The thing that is deceiving today is sin," said the speaker. "Sin was the most deceiving thing in the world."

"Whenever the devil holds out anything good there's sure to be a hook in it."

"When you sow a bushel of wheat you expect to reap ten or twenty bushels. But you can't sow anything that will give so large and certain a harvest as sin."

"No man behind the bars today ever intended to be there. No harlot in the red-light district ever intended to be there. They were deceived by sin."

"Our boys and girls in our homes reap the seed we sow, whether it be good or bad."

These various points the speaker illustrated by many apt stories from his unusually well filled repertoire of personal experience and from the experience of others.

The audience was deeply moved and impressed for at the afternoon service more than twenty testified their intention of leading a changed life. So numerous a body of penitents is very unusual at the beginning of an evangelistic campaign.

At the evening service the audience was no less orderly and no less attentive to the words of the speaker. Mr. Sharpe chose for his evening text, Matt. 22:32: "Pilate saith unto them, what shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him: Let him be crucified."

This was the greatest question ever asked, said Mr. Sharpe. It was a question every man had to answer for himself. Our welfare in this life and in the life to come depended on what we did with Jesus. We must either confess Jesus Christ or deny Him. These outlines were again developed and illustrated in a manner both masterly and effective and lures people to the better life just as a matter of commonsense. Mr. Sharpe is like Billy Sunday in his entirely unassuming and unassuming nature. He doesn't impress

NOTES

Revs. W. H. Adams, Belleville, R. T. Richards, Thomasburg, and S. F. Dixon were present at the afternoon service. Rev. J. Egan, Belleville's veteran clergyman, was present in the evening.

Mr. Thos. Laycock, Reeve of Mar-Mora, was an interested spectator at the afternoon service.

Huffman's and Aselstine's auto buses carried full loads to the afternoon services and were compelled to leave a number behind who desired accommodation. Mr. Huffman made a second trip to the camp in the evening.

One of the most notable features of Sunday's services was the good order both inside the tent and about the grounds. Although special constables were present their services were never in request. Excessive emotionalism and ecstatic outbursts at the services were conspicuous by their absence. Mr. Sharpe had thorough control of his audience at all times.

Among those in attendance from this city were Mr. Chas. Walters and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Anderson, Mr. A. E. Bailey, Mr. Geo. Woodley and family, Mr. C. B. Scantlebury and family, Mrs. Ethel Herity and Miss Herity, Mr. M. W. Mott and son, Mr. C. W. Ruston, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Anderson and family, Mrs. S. Macaulay, Mr. and Mrs. J. Murphy, Dr. Ackrill, Mr. L. R. Terwilliger and party, Mr. Thos. Willis, Mr. Newton Miller, Miss Kemp Mr. Esmond and very many others.

Mr. O. M. Alger, publisher of the Tweed News, and Mr. John L. Newton, Deputy Reeve of Hungerford, were present in the afternoon.

Mrs. (Rev.) J. N. Clarry presided at the piano and gave to the singing a remarkably effective direction and lead.

The singing of the Hartshorn sisters, of Peterboro, is a notable feature of each service. The one voice is alto and the other soprano. They blend together in a melody that is wonderfully pleasing, resonant, smooth-flowing and distinct in enunciation. The southern melody, "I've Got Shoes," appeared to be the favorite with the audience.

Rev. A. J. Terrill, the manager of the camp, is doing and has done a prodigious amount of work to make of everything a success. As an organizer he has few equals. The pronounced nature of the success of the present experimental camp is certainly more due to the personal work and enthusiasm of Mr. Terrill than to any other cause.

The commercial possibilities of the situation have been sternly kept in the background. Absolutely nothing is offered for sale. A refreshment counter almost looks like a necessity, but nothing along that line will be permitted this year.

The lighting of the tent, the grove and the roads leading to the park is now brilliantly carried out. A 20-h.p. threshing-engine supplies the motive power.

Mr. Newton Bird, among the committee-men, has done a prodigious amount of work to make everything a success.

Mr. Sharpe, the evangelist, has been called the Billy Sunday of Canada. He is not like Billy Sunday in saying smart things or in his indelicate use of slang. He is too wise to try to imitate Billy Sunday or anyone else. His style and method are his own. His preaching is notable for its directness and earnestness. He doesn't try to work up the emotions but makes a straight, business-like appeal, something like D. L. Moody used to do. He shows that sinfulness and the wasting of talents and opportunities are bad business, bad both in the world and in the spiritual sense. He again there was a considerable number of penitents who were moved to Sharpe is like Billy Sunday in his entirely unassuming and unassuming nature. He doesn't impress one as being goody-goody. There is no "side" about him. He does his preaching clad in an ordinary business suit and, on Sunday, both afternoon and evening, he threw off his coat and advised the men in the audience to do the same. He is tall, erect and has a fine pulpit presence. His voice, both in speaking and singing, is strong, pleasing in tone and with good carrying power, but he uses it in a most unassuming manner. He is like Billy Sunday in his success. He hasn't, of course, reached the fame of the great American baseball evangelist, but his revival last fall in Rawdon and Stirling, that has come to be called "the Rawdon Revival" was the most important that Canadian Methodism has known in twenty years. While Mr. Sharpe is uncompromising and does not sacrifice any essential principle he is unusually tactful and diplomatic. He leaves no sore places to be healed over when his campaigns are concluded. The after effects are entirely good and uncommonly permanent.

A WAR MESSAGE

Stephen Leacock Appeals For NATIONAL SAVING

"Save every cent. Live plainly. Do without everything. Rise early, work hard, and content yourself with a bare living. The man who does this—if he uses the saved money properly—is doing war work for his country. He may wrap his last year's coat about him and eat his bread and cheese and feel that he, too, is doing something to show the world the kind of stuff that is yet left in it." Such is the declaration of Stephen Leacock in "National Organization for War." Save every cent and save it properly! This way to save it properly is to invest it in War Savings Certificates. By such investment your dollars will be utilized directly for war purposes. The National Service Board is urging such investment as a means to the financial mobilization of the country. It asks you to practise thrift, save your money and give it to your country. Are you doing so? Or are you still indulging in luxuries and betraying the men at the front by your carelessness and indifference at home.

WOMEN WORKERS HELPING THE ARMY

British Headquarters, France, July 22nd.—Every host coming from England brings new companies of women workers. Six hundred young women carpenters are at work building army huts. In clerical departments the women have very largely replaced the men. As chauffeurs they are being employed by hundreds not only on ambulances and light supply wagons, but also on heavy transport lorries with entire success.

LIEUT. E. D. SLITER MISSING

Principal E. O. Sliter of the Collegiate Institute, Kingston, has received a telegram from Ottawa stating that his son, Lieut. Ernest D. Sliter of the Royal Flying Corps, has been missing since the 13th of July. He went overseas with the Queen's Engineers of the second Canadian contingent. Later he was given a commission in the Pioneers and some time ago he transferred to the Royal Flying Corps. Lieut. Sliter was a crack player on Queen's rugby team some years ago.

LAI TO REST

The obsequies of the late William Hunter Adams took place yesterday from the residence of Mr. R. A. Adams, South Front Street, where Rev. J. Egan conducted service. The funeral was under the auspices of the I.O.O.F. of Franc's Lodge, Frankford, Belleville brethren representing those from Frankford at the service here. The funeral cortege was met at Frankford by Frankford band and I.O.O.F. A solemn service was held at Stockdale Methodist Church by Revs. Knox and Patterson and at the grave in Stockdale cemetery. The band and lodge members officiated at the interment. The bearers were Messrs. D. A. Vandervoort, Gilbert Nolan, Henry Potter, Alex. Smith, Herman Hey and Murney Sine.
