

Brant Chapter I.O.D.E.

The Brant Chapter of the I. O. D. E. held their meeting at the home of the regent, Mrs. E. C. Ashton yesterday. It was the best rally that the chapter has experienced there being between forty and fifty members present who were presided over by the regent. The session was commenced with the singing of the National Anthem which was followed by prayer, a service of which has been given out especially for use during the coming winter by the head office at Toronto.

The report of the secretary was then read and the minutes of previous meeting adopted. The treasurer's report, read by Mrs. Ashton, in the absence of that official showed everything financially to be satisfactory. The Sanitarium visitors for the month reported the requirements of the patients who need new raiment to withstand the outdoor treatment during the coming winter.

Mrs. Hurley and Mrs. McFarland were delegated to the duty of noting the necessary requirements and are to report back to the chapter.

The Indian native troops who are now at the front, will be the especial regard of the Brant Chapter and their requirements will be catered to in a very large extent. This work is to be taken up in addition to that already entered upon by the ladies of the chapter.

Mrs. Digby and Mrs. Ashton were appointed to purchase wool for the supplying of further equipment. The first Canadian troops had made a request for "Chiclets," and the ladies are to send several boxes of the sweetmeats with the second contingent as a donation. The soldiers find that chiclets are excellent to chew during marches.

The visitors for the following three months were appointed and they are as follows: From now until mid-November, Mrs. Julius E. Waterous and Mrs. George D. Watt; from mid-November until mid-December, Mrs. D. J. Waterous and Mrs. McFarland; from mid-December until mid-January, Mrs. Herbert Yates and Miss Van Norman.

These ladies will, when visiting, gladly take donations from any giver to patients, at their desire.

Guaranteed Pure Italian OLIVE OIL

1-4, 1-2 and 1 Gallon Tins -FOR SALE ONLY BY- P. CANCELLA Market Square and 270 Colborne St.

Roofing

Slate, Felt and Gravel, Asbestos and General Roofing of all kinds. Repair Work and Re-Roofing attended to promptly

Brown-Jarvis Roofing Co.

(Formerly Brown Bros.) Telephone 590 Office: 9 George St.

The Slightest Cause

puts a watch all wrong. A speck of dirt the size of a pin point will do it. Every watch once in a while is sure to show signs of dirt sickness. When yours does hand it into us. We will overhaul it for you and hand it back, ticking away as accurately as it ever did. The charge will be as small as we can make it.

NEWMAN & SONS

Man's Jewellers 93 COLBORNE ST.

WITH THE CANADIANS AT SALISBURY PLAIN

Plenty of Hard Drill is Now the Order of the Day—Much Discussed "Wet Canteen" Has Not as Yet Materialized.

BUSTARD CAMP, Salisbury Plain, Eng., Oct. 20.—Housed under canvas on the great rolling plains of Salisbury, the Canadian Overseas Expeditionary Force has entered upon its long course of training. For weeks if not months, the boys from across the ocean will drill, go off on long route marches, participate in divisional tactical schemes, and in many other ways will strive to make themselves better able to serve their country against the Germans. And it will not be make-believe soldiering either, for they are on active service in earnest now. But the Canadians are a hardy lot, and are prepared to do their best.

Most of the troops are now in camp and are settling down to the routine of training. The fourth battalion of the first brigade, composed chiefly of Central Ontario volunteers, including the 12th York Rangers and 13th Hamilton Regiment, has not yet reached Salisbury, but is expected tomorrow. This will complete the force with the exception of small details left in Plymouth to assist in loading the guns and heavy equipment. The 48th Highlanders, who disembarked last Friday were the first to reach camp, arriving on Saturday morning. The Queen's Own did not leave their ship, the Tunisian, until Monday evening at seven o'clock, arriving in camp during the small hours of the following morning. They had been on board for 23 days, and were very glad to get ashore, even though they enjoyed themselves thoroughly while crossing.

One Private Ill The only serious illness in the regiment was the case of Private George Keith, who developed appendicitis. He was operated upon, but the appendix was not removed, as it was considered unnecessary by the surgeon, who merely drained the part. He was removed to the Plymouth hospital, and is reported to be practically well again at this writing. Since writing my last letter a death has been reported. One of the Nova Scotians in the 17th battalion died while crossing, and was buried at sea.

Conditions here are considerably different from those that obtained at Valcartier. To begin with, there are no railway sidings entering the Camp area. The nearest station to the Canadian camp is at Amesbury, seven miles away, and all the troops had to march in, carrying their equipment with them. Since the majority of them disembarked either late in the afternoon, or early in the evening, they marched into their lines during the early hours of the morning, very tired and very hungry, but neither too tired nor too hungry to sing lustily "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," thus greeting Salisbury with the same song with which they said farewell to Canada.

A Fine Camp. This country is a magnificent place for a military camp, and at the same time is very beautiful. In some respects it is similar to Valcartier, but it is not nearly so high or so rough. For miles upon miles stretches a great gently undulating plain, covered with short grass. In summer must suggest a huge carefully kept lawn, though at present it is sere and brown from the touch of autumn. Here and there are groves of trees that relieve the monotony of the landscape. These also show evidences of season, for the leaves are turning and falling.

The Canadian volunteers are far better paid than the English soldiers, and most of them are well supplied with money at present. They are rather surprised at the value of a penny which seems to be the price of everything that they have paid five, ten or even fifteen cents for in Canada. The food they find is of a quality so varied as that furnished by the Canadian government, but with what they are able to purchase at the canteens they are doing very well. The volunteers found a tremendous amount of mail waiting for them on their arrival, though it was not all sorted owing to lack of accommodation for the postal corps. Indeed, there has been not a little difficulty in regard to mail up to the present. Eighteen men are doing the work handled by a force of 42 at Valcartier, so it is little wonder that a delay has occurred. The postal authorities are expected, however, and within a few days there will be regular deliveries to all brigades. The boys have forgotten the pleasures of home either. The Kaiserin Elizabeth, which took refuge in that harbor soon after Japan declared war on Germany. It is also thought that the Germans have destroyed the floating docks.

Obituary

Infant Anna Isabel Van Bradt, Anna Isabel, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Bradt, 127 Northumberland street, passed away last night. The funeral will take place tomorrow from the late home to Mount Hope. The sympathy of many friends is extended to the parents in their sad bereavement.

Nuptial Notes

DICKSON—ROBERTS. Miss Elsie Roberts became the bride of Frank Dickson yesterday at a pretty little wedding, which was solemnized by the Rev. Matthew Kelly. JOHNSON—SHACKLETON. The Rev. C. C. Loney quietly united in wedding Herbert Johnson, Queen street, and Margaret Shackleton, both of this city, on Saturday last. NO ALLANCE. PETERS—GRAD. Nov. 3.—The Persian legation here declares that no alliance exists between Turkey and it is stated, are without foundation.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children In Use For Over 30 Years Always bears the Signature of J. C. Watson

The brilliant hues of the Canadian woods in the fall are absent, however, here plain yellow and brown tints alone are found. There are a few farms scattered about, but for the most part the plains are bare.

The organization of the camp is also different. At Valcartier the force was concentrated at one point, forming a great tented city of some 32,000 men. Here there are four separate camps several miles apart from each other, each brigade having been given an area to itself. The division headquarters have been established at what is known as Bustard camp. Here also is the first brigade, which is known also as the Ontario brigade, with Lt.-Col. Mercer, of Toronto, in command. The second brigade and divisional artillery, under Lieut.-Col. H. E. Hurstall, is at West Down North camp, nearly four miles away from headquarters, while the Highland brigade, under Col. R. E. Turner, V.C., D.S.O., is quartered at West Down South camp. Lieut. Col. J. E. Cohoe's brigade, the 4th, is at Pond Farm.

More Room for Parade. This arrangement is held to be far superior to the method of concentrating the whole division on account of the fact that it allows more room for parade grounds and simplifies the administration work. Major-General Alderson and Col. Hurd, chief of staff, who is also an imperial officer, direct the operation of the whole force from headquarters. No civilians are allowed in camp without a pass except on Saturday afternoons and Sundays which have been set aside for "resting days." So far as the rank and file of the force are concerned, the camp is "dry" at present, and it is understood that no "wet" canteens will be allowed in the future. It is quite possible that the order will be made applicable to the officers' mess.

The nearest village is several miles away, but the men are allowed to go there occasionally, and have a rather good time with the villagers. A burly Highlander was seen the other day wheeling a baby carriage for a pretty nursemaid, with whom incidentally he was chatting and laughing.

The Austrian Cruiser Kaiserin Elizabeth seemed to have been blown up in the harbor of Tsing-Tau. The Kaiserin Elizabeth, which took refuge in that harbor soon after Japan declared war on Germany. It is also thought that the Germans have destroyed the floating docks.

The Austrian Cruiser Kaiserin Elizabeth, reported sunk by the Germans in Tsing-Tau harbor, evidently for the purpose of re-venting her from falling into the hands of the Japanese and British, who have been vigorously bombarding the fort there for some time. She is rated as a nineteen knot boat and has 8.5 inch guns in her main battery. The Kaiserin Elizabeth, according to previous Japanese reports, has been aiding the forts in replying to the attacks of the Japanese and British warships which are gathered before Tsing-Tau.

SINK A CRUISER

In Order to Prevent It Falling Into the Hands of the Allies.

TOKIO, Nov. 4.—In a statement issued here to-day, the navy department says it believes the Germans at Tsing-Tau have sunk the Austrian cruiser Kaiserin Elizabeth, which took refuge in that harbor soon after Japan declared war on Germany. It is also thought that the Germans have destroyed the floating docks. The Austrian Cruiser Kaiserin Elizabeth, reported sunk by the Germans in Tsing-Tau harbor, evidently for the purpose of re-venting her from falling into the hands of the Japanese and British, who have been vigorously bombarding the fort there for some time. She is rated as a nineteen knot boat and has 8.5 inch guns in her main battery. The Kaiserin Elizabeth, according to previous Japanese reports, has been aiding the forts in replying to the attacks of the Japanese and British warships which are gathered before Tsing-Tau.

SUCCESSFUL AERO RAID

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A despatch from Rotterdam to the Daily Mail dated Tuesday night, says: "This morning British aeroplanes dropped bombs on the state railway works at Bruges, in Belgium, doing great damage. At four o'clock this afternoon another British warplane dropped bombs on Bruges."

Social and Personal

The Courier is always pleased to use items of personal interest. Phone 276.

Larry O'Toole of Goderich is spending a few days in the city.

Walter Rice of Tillsonburg, was a visitor with city friends yesterday.

H. F. Gored of Montreal, is to-day paying a visit to friends in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Whitehead are in residence at the Kerby House for the winter.

Mrs. (Dr.) Behan of Parry Sound is spending a few days in the city the guest of her cousin Mrs. H. B. Beckett, Dalhousie street.

Mrs. A. J. Grieve has returned to Brantford after spending a few months at Vancouver Island and other points.

The Reverend A. E. Lavell accompanied by Mr. E. Sweet will leave this week for Winnipeg to attend to matters in connection with the proposed changes in the Western Branch of the Methodist Church.

Mr. Lawrence D'Orsay, the pre-eminent English comedian, who comes to the Grand Tuesday, Nov. 10, is known the world over as the "Earl of Pawtucket." His wonderful performance in the role of the Earl has stamped him as one of England's greatest comedians.

During the first few minutes of a conversation with Mr. D'Orsay, one is obsessed with a baffling sense of familiarity; there is a puzzling resemblance to somebody known years ago; not only the Earl of Pawtucket, for it is certain the acquaintance dates back much further—besides that there is a number from Brantford, who have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

There is no excuse for bewilderment there; it is the beautiful hero of "Under Two Flags" who is chronologically impossible for Mr. D'Orsay to have been the original of Bertie Cecil, the only explanation is that Bertie Cecil was the original of Mr. D'Orsay.

J. M. YOUNG & CO. J. M. YOUNG & CO.

"Made in Canada" Display

TO-MORROW (THURSDAY) and following days--Friday and Saturday--we are making a special display of all goods made in Canada, such as:

Ladies' and Children's Underwear Dresses and Skirts Coats, Blouses, Hosiery Gloves, Corsets, Underskirts, Millinery Sweater Coats, Neckwear Parasols, Hand Bags Knitted Goods, Infant's Wool Coats Infant's Bonnets Men's and Boys Underwear, Shirts, Braces Sox, Gloves, Ties, Collars, Sweater Coats Umbrellas, House Jackets -All to be seen, and on display in the Gent's Furnishing Dept.

Wool and Flannelette Blankets, Sheeting Towelling, Towels Table Linen, Napkins Cottons, Flannelette Linings, Dress Goods, Cloaking, Tweed Suitings, Carpets, Curtains, Laces Linoleum, Floor Oil Cloth Tapestry Curtains Tapestry Coverings Couch Covering, Window Shades, Hooks and Eyes, Dome Fasteners, Combs. All will be displayed throughout the store in the different departments at special prices.

J. M. YOUNG & CO. Tailor-Made Suits for Ladies Dressmaking a Specialty

ARMENIANS AT 32ND BATTERY MEN FIRST PARADE

Will Get Chance to Qualify in Artillery Work at Kingston. Lieut. Col. Ashton, Commanding Officer of the 32nd Field Battery this morning received word that a special course for officers and non-commissioned officers in the artillery would be opened at Kingston November 9. It is expected that a number from Brantford will desire to attend and their applications must go in at once. Col. Ashton will meet the men at Battery Headquarters to-night at 8.30 to take the matter up. All desirous of entering the class at Kingston should make their wishes known at once to the Commanding Officer.

KING INSPECTS CANADIANS LONDON, Nov. 4.—King George and Queen Mary, accompanied by a small suite, left London to-day for Salisbury Plain, where they will inspect the Canadian troops, who have been encamped in this locality since their arrival in England.

Squad of Fourty Attended Drill at the Collegiate Institute.

The Armenian Rifle Club held their first parade last night at the Collegiate Institute when they mustered forty strong under their missionary Armenian Armenian. It was a splendid turnout and the credit redounds to the Armenian Colony. Colonel Ashton was in command and he gave the men a most instructive drill. Very few of them understood much English, but they soon grasped the meaning of "shun," slope arms, present arms, and at ease, and the earnestness of the men under drill will be understood when it is stated that their mission had not to repeat any interpretation twice. The muster passed the expectations of all who had the matter in hand and there promises into shape. Colonel Ashton has promised to do all he can to aid the club and Principal Burt has already shown his willingness in that direction. During the evening, a number of prominent citizens paid the Armenians a visit and some of them promised to give the club their support. The class is to meet every Tuesday when various military men will instruct the new organization.

PURE RICH BLOOD PREVENTS DISEASE

Bad blood,—that is, blood that is impure or impoverished, thin and pale,—is responsible for more ailments than anything else. It affects every organ and function. In some cases it causes catarrh; in others, dyspepsia; in others, rheumatism; and in still others, weak, tired, languid feelings and worse troubles. It is responsible for run-down conditions, and is the most common cause of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest purifier and enricher of the blood the world has ever known. It has been wonderfully successful in removing scrofula and other humors, increasing the red-blood corpuscles, and building up the whole system. Get it today.

Swimming at the Y. M. C. A.

The prospects, for the swimming season are excellent indeed at the Y. M. C. A. Although many of the experts have flagged during the summer months they are now beginning to return to the tank and already the nucleus of a fast polo team is formed. There are a number of young crawl swimmers, who although without any special brilliancy as a team will be hard to surpass. They have developed a steadfast stroke which stays, and in squadron work they promise to eclipse everything that comes before them. There is already one or two water attractions announced, the first being around Christmas time when George Mosley, the swimming instructor, has arranged for a visit from Hamilton. It will be remembered that Brantford severely drubbed Hamilton at home and then cleaned up on them in the Ambitious City. This performance, they say is to be repeated.

"MADE IN CANADA" DISPLAY

The last three days of this week will be a Made-in-Canada display, and will be given by the retail business men of this city, when every merchant in Brantford is requested to give the utmost prominence, in his windows and throughout his store, to the merchandise that he usually carries in stock which is "Made in Canada." The purpose of this display is to familiarize the people of this vicinity with the nature of the goods that are the manufacture of Canadian artisans, so that such an increased demand will be created for this merchandise that the wheels of industry will be kept in operation during these trying times and unemployment reduced to a minimum.

When it is remembered that last year Canada bought nearly $700,000,000 worth of foreign goods, nearly half of which could have been made in Canada, it will be realized that if this business can be diverted into the factories of this country that the commercial depression caused by the war would be largely minimized. Every Canadian is imbued with a strong sense of loyalty, and if every opportunity is taken to make the people more familiar with what "Made in Canada" actually means, undoubtedly the business of the industries of this country will be increased as a result.