Kaiser William Suffering With Cancer in Throat.

Paris, Jan. 4.—The Matin affirms, notwithstanding denials, that the German Emperor is suffering from cancer of the throat, and is no longer able to speak.

"In February, 1911," according to the Matin, "the Doctors were considering whether it was necessary to remove the entire larynx in order to stay the progress of the disease. That raised the question as to whether the emperor would be able to speak if such an operation were performed. The leading specialists of every capital in Europe were consulted. It was learned that an eminent surgeon of Paris had with an artificial larynx and a breathing tube opening into the trachea, restored the power of speech to cancerous patients who had undergone total ablation of the affected organs."

"This doctor, whose name the Matin withholds, for reasons of professional etiquette, was asked to go to Berlin by the German ambassador. He was offered 100,000 francs and all expenses, and was requested to bring with him a patient who had been fitted with the apparatus, so that the emperor himself might see if he was able to speak."

"Meanwhile, as a result of a minor operation with a bistoury and a few weeks absolute rest, the emperor's condition improved, as is often the case in this disease, the progress of which is inoperable, but slow. It is another operation of this kind which has just been performed, but is it only palliative. The German emperor must either make his mind to complete removal of the larynx, or be stifled by the growth."

"This explains why the emperor went neither to Warsaw, Constantinople nor Brussels."
