MONKS SENT TO PRISON

Berusalem, July 11.—A sensational trial here, the result of the clash between Greek and Latin monks in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, surrounding Christ's Tomb, in November last, has resulted in the sentencing of thirty-four Greeks, including twelve priests, to terms of imprisonment ranging from a week to nine months.

The most interesting point which developed after the disturbance was the fact, now generally known, that Germany and Italy, in supporting the claims of their wounded monks, obtained an irade from the Sultan recognizing their right to protect their respective subjects, and that thus France's claim to an exclusive protectorate over all the Catholic clergy in the East is no longer admitted.

The best reason for seeking to rise in the world is, that the higher we stand the better we can lift.

HAD NO FINGERS

Pianist Attained High Rank Though Deformed From Birth.

Chicago, July 11.—Herbert D. Jones 21 years old, who, though he was born without fingers, had become a pianist of unusual ability, died yesterday morning at his home, 387 Fifty-Fourth street.

A musician by nature and the possessor of a baritone voice of great range and power, the young man had attained a high rank among Chicago musicians, both as a vocalist and pianist.

Besides being born without fingers, he was so badly deformed that he was forced to go about on crutches, and he at first began his musical studies as a means of passing away the time.

STILL AT IT

Poet Laureate Austin's Greeting to General Lord Kitchener.

London, July 11.—Alfred Austin, the poet-laureate, has written another poem which will be published on the day General Kitchener arrives in England.

The first verse:— Strong as is silence, patient as is time, Deaf to hot censure as to hasty praise;

The fourth verse reads:— And such is he, who, with the salt of life Still on his lips, comes homeward from afar,

THE MASKED WOMAN

Paris, July 11.—An incident which has just occurred in the law courts is causing some stir here. A wealthy widow, Mme. du Gast, well known on account of her automobile exploits, being the female competitor in the Paris-Berlin race, and who entered for the Paris-Vienna contest, was recently the plaintiff in a civil action.

The defendant's counsel was Maitre Barbois, who also is well known. During the hearing he produced a photograph of a picture called "The Masked Woman," by Gervey, exhibited at the Salon of 1886, representing a nude female, the face alone being concealed by a mask.

Mme. du Gast had served as the model. Mme. du Gast made an indignant denial, and demanded a retraction. M. Barbois took no notice of her demand, and Mme. du Gast has now brought an action against him.

The Figaro says this is the second time the picture has caused trouble. When it was first exhibited a jealous husband thought he recognized his wife as the original and challenged M. Gervey. The latter gave the name of the real model, but the husband was not satisfied, and insisted on a duel, in which eventually he himself was wounded.

PIERCED EYE

Lieut.-Col. Rankin Meets With a Painful Accident Which May Jeopardize His Sight.

Col. J. B. Rankin, K. C., is suffering from a very serious accident to his eye. Last evening he was taking a little exercise cutting the grass of his lawn, when he ran a pine tree needle in his eye, making a very painful wound.

Eye Specialist Dr. Garnet Holmes was called and is attending him. Col. Rankin was out for a while this morning, but is confined to the house this afternoon. The Doctor thinks the sight of the eye will not be lost.

IN LONDON

Lord Kitchener Was Met by the Prince of Wales and Cheering Crowds.

Special to The Planet. London, July 12.—Lord Kitchener arrived at Paddington railroad station at 12:48 p. m., and was greeted by cheering crowds.

The Prince of Wales welcomed Lord Kitchener at Paddington, where an address was presented to the general. The latter shortly after started for St. James palace, arriving there at 1:27 p. m. The Prince of Wales was already there, awaiting him.

WARM WELCOME

London, July 11.—Earl Roberts, commander-in-chief of the army, steamed for two hours down the Channel aboard a tug this afternoon, but did not sight the Orotava, with Lord Kitchener on board, which is not expected to arrive until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Earl Roberts, after returning to Southampton, took a train for London. He will await Gen. Kitchener at Paddington Station, where he is expected to arrive at one o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

The morning papers, reviewing Gen. Kitchener's career, recall that his first experience in war was under the French flag. He enlisted in 1870 as a private in the battalion of the Garde Mobile, under Gen. Chanzy.

He saw no fighting, but assisted in several balloon ascents. This resulted in a chill and an attack of pneumonia. He subsequently became a cadet at Woolwich, where he remained a year before he received a commission in the Royal Engineers.

SCHOLARS MUTINY

Berlin, July 11.—A duel with loaded pistols took place a few days ago in a country place near Erfurt, between two 14-year-old boys.

For some trifling reason one of the youths challenged the other to a duel. They took their places according to rule, and fired the first round. As nothing happened they fired a second time, with the result that one of the duellists fell to the ground unconscious.

The uninjured party hurried for a doctor, who could do nothing but order the patient's removal to the hospital.

200-FOOT SEA SERPENT

Halifax, N. S., July 11.—A special to the Herald from Sydney says that a serpent measuring about two hundred feet long was seen off Cranberry Head, C. B., yesterday afternoon by South Bar pilots.

It came up well to the entrance of the harbor, and then turned round and went northward. The American steam yacht Wacoast, with President Hill, of New York, and was last seen at Marienberg, where he suffered paroxysms of talkativeness. If seen, his arrest should be promptly effected.

It is certain that if the perpetrator of this announcement is discovered he will be severely punished. It was at Marienberg that the Kaiser made a vehement speech denouncing Polish arrogance.

DEATH OF A GIANT

Chicago, July 11.—One of the giants of the earth died today at the Presbyterian Hospital, when Lewis Wilkins expired after several months' affliction with a tumor on the brain.

Wilkins was thirty years old and eight feet two inches in height. When in good health he weighed 365 pounds. A casket nine feet long and twice as wide as the ordinary coffin is being constructed for the body of the dead giant.

A special bed had to be constructed for him at the hospital. A ring that Wilkins had worn on a finger of his left hand was so large that a silver dollar can be easily passed through it.

WORLD OF SPORT

LACROSSE

Yesterday's lacrosse game at Blenheim, between Thamesville and Blenheim teams, resulted in an easy victory for the home team by a score of 16 to 3.

The game was a pretty clean one, neither side indulging in much rough work. No one was hurt badly. The game was largely attended; besides the large Blenheim crowd there were representatives of Chatham, Wallaceburg and Thamesville on the grounds.

A much closer game was expected from the result of the Chatham-Thamesville match on July 1st. Not five seconds had elapsed after the face-off before Blenheim had scored its first goal by some pretty passes and excellent combination.

Blenheim scored ten goals by their fine work before the Thamesville boys had one. Then they seemed to pick up and, after several rushes on the Blenheim defence, succeeded in putting the sphere through the goal.

Blenheim then scored again, then Thamesville repeated its former operation twice, following which Blenheim scored four more goals and time was up.

Stevenson, Shillington and McCallum put up star games for Blenheim. The line-up was as follows:—

LEAGUE STANDING

Table with 4 columns: Team, Won, Lost, To Play. Chatham 6 0 2, Blenheim 4 1 3, Thamesville 1 3 4, Rodney 1 3 5, Wallaceburg 0 4 4.

BOWLING

The two rinks of Chatham bowlers who went to Ridgeway, defeated the home rinks by 20 shots. This was quite a victory for the Chatham players, as they played the same rinks as were runners up last week at the Chatham tournament.

The grounds were in good condition and the weather splendid. The visitors were most hospitably treated by the Ridgeway men. The playing of D. A. Hutchison was exceptionally fine.

The result:— Chatham-Rink 1. A. H. VonGuten, W. E. Merritt, D. A. Hutchison, A. E. Jewett, skip—22.

Ridgeway-Rink 1. A. Long, W. E. Graham, P. Bawden, W. H. MacMackon, skip—14.

Chatham-Rink 2. J. Mitton, J. W. Webb, R. E. Titton, R. A. Smith, skip—25.

Ridgeway-Rink 2. H. Thompson, R. Reid, E. E. Newcomb, W. A. Little, skip—13.

Chatham, 47; Ridgeway, 27.

IMITATED ELDERS

Berlin, July 11.—A strange scene was recently enacted in Juchcken, a miserable village near Berent, in Polesia Prussia.

The school assembled as usual, and morning prayer had just been read by the schoolmaster, when the oldest pupil suddenly rose, and shouting "Now's the time!" jumped over the forms and attacked the teacher with a big stick.

He was immediately followed by the other scholars, who had also smuggled sticks into the class, and they proceeded to belabor the astonished teacher.

The latter finally got the upper hand, whereupon the youths flung down their weapons and rushed to their homes, where their parents were awaiting them.

What impelled the riot is not known. Fly poison may be made with a strong solution of white arsenic sweetened with moist sugar, molasses or honey.

TOILET TIPS

Never brush or rub the eyebrows the wrong way. Keeping the hands long in hot water or in very cold water should be avoided.

In washing the hands only tepid water should be used. It is often difficult after washing long hair to comb it through, but if a comb is squeezed over it the tangles will quickly disappear.

Salt as a tooth powder is better than almost anything that can be bought. It keeps the teeth brilliantly white and the gums hard and rosy.

Tincture of myrrh added to a glass of water in quantity sufficient to make a milky liquid is a good solution with which to sponge the gums after the teeth are cleaned.

If your hands are very dirty, rub a little olive oil or vaseline well into them before washing them with soap and water. The oil helps to loosen the dirt and will also make the skin softer than it would otherwise be.

Keep at hand half a lemon from which the pits have been removed and a fibred stick piece of borax inserted. The juice will remove almost every kind of stain, and its constant use keeps the hands white and soft.

Pretty Clothes

It may seem an odd prescription—that of "pretty clothes"—but, since it has been known to work wonders in certain instances, its value will probably become better appreciated in the near future.

"One of the things that helped my recovery," said a woman recently who has just regained her health after a severe illness, "was a pretty bed jacket which my sister brought me one day in lieu of juices and fruit. It was becoming, and I enjoyed it. The doctor, when he first saw me in it, said I looked 20 per cent better than I had before. Manlike, he didn't appreciate the reason, and my spirits, and consequently my condition, became better in proportion."

"Too often invalids are wrapped in any old thing that is handy. I remember laughing once when a friend in robust health showed me a dainty lace trimmed sick gown. 'For me,' she exclaimed, 'if I ever need it.' The notion struck me as absurd, when she was that bed jacket I appreciate better the value of attractive environment under depressing circumstances."

"I never," said the illiterate shoe clerk, "forget a man's face that I have fitted shoes on."
