RIGHTS OF BEAUTY

Young Woman Entitled to Any Profits Accruing From her Personal Attractions. Rochester, N. Y., July 24.-The apellate division of the fourth departnent has decided that a prepos oung woman has a distinctive right to any profits which may accrue from the beauty of her former face, and that the unauthorized reproduction of the same by photograph gives sufficient cause for action. The case in question, Miss Abigail Roberson, against the Rochester Folding Box company and the Franklin Mills Co, of Lockport, was brought to recover $15,000 damages for the unauthorized use of her portrait for advertising purposes. When the case was called in the Supreme Court a demurer was entered. The court held that ther was sufficient cause for action, and i was from this ruling that the defend ant companies appealed. On the first argument the court was divided. On deciding in favor of Miss Roberson on the re-argument, the court cites the instance of the Siamese twins, nd holds that the use ... Miss Rober son's likeness would be as unwarrant able as to depict the curious monstrosity without permission. Miss Rober son will now commence her suit in

Supreme Court to collect damages.
