A BARREN MONTH.

Before the Autumn session of the Dominion Parliament was called the Government, announced that there would be some six weeks of the sea sion before Christmas, and that the tariff bill would be through the House by that time. As the beginning of the session was delayed and the Christmas vacation extended the House has only been in session nine teen days, and these so short that the whole time of activity was 66 hours. Beyond Mr. Fisher's cold storage and meat inspection bill no Government legislation was accomplished. As for the tariff bill, not a single clause of the new schedule of duties has been passed, or even read in the ways and means committee. Mr. Fielding has either by remaining outside while Mr. Fisher occupied the time, or by adjournments before the evening sitting, prevented the committee reaching these clauses. It is clear that the Government decided soon after the budget was delivered that the tariff was to stand until

Meanwhile the public accounts committee, which ought to be inquiring into last year's expenditure, has not done anything, for the reason that the Government has not yet brought down the accounts. The Sunday school of St. Stephen's church will hold their entertainment in the House has not yet before it the House has not yet before it the detailed accounts of the expenditure of a single department. The absence of these returns makes it practically impossible to vote sup-Meanwhile the public accounts practically impossible to vote supplies for next year, because members choose to know before they vote more money what was done with last year's appropriation.

The other important, legislation promised by the Government has not been introduced; This includes the measure increasing the Northwest representation, the bill giving effect to the conclusions of the Interprovincial Conference, respecting antee of satisfactions Provincial subsidies, amendments to the election law, and post office act. It will be judged from the progress so far made that Sir Wilfrid is likely to be mistaken in his predictions that the session will be over about the time that the robins come. Unless' the Government gets on a greater burst of speed the prorogation will be more likely to come about the time the golden rod

If you try "SURPRISE" Soap

Some folks say they would buy and e "SURPRISE" Soap for colored clothes if it cost a dollar a cake, so it's pretty plain why so many people use it when it costs no APURE SOAP more than common soap.
