"OUR SACRED SPOTS."

Thou budding rose kissed by the dew,
That heavenward climb'st 'bove thy thorns,
Again thou bring'st thoughts renewed,
As yon bright star of early morn:
Ah! meath thy shade my dear child
sleeps,
Close 'side his mother, Mary's tomb,
Withered and gone, all I loved best,
Leaving earth's thorns in heaven to bloom.

Thou sacred spot of double love,
To thee bring these violets bound,
As token of my faith above,
And pluck the wild weeds o'er thy mounds:
Here oft I pass an hour or so,
Watching the great St. Lawrence flow,
And the ocean steamers come and go,
Where oft my loved ones sailed below.

Afar the forest moans and sighs,
Skirting the Plains of Abraham,
Where noble heroes fought and died,
Beloved Wolfe and brave Montcalm;
Yon monument of double fame
To every loyal heart appeals:
Alike, in common, all should claim
An interest in our battlefield.

Lo! who would till or so defend
The landmarks of our liberty,
So dear to our Canadian race,
Where kinsmen strove for victory?
Bright daughter of our empire great,
Thy birthright will thou yield to gain?
With thou official seal too late,
To beautify thy hallowed plains.

My country, as this plot to me
Brings back sweet memories so grand,
Recall'st not yon fields to thee
The debt we owe our motherland?
Guard well the birthmarks of thy soil—
Who dare our sacred spots invade?
Who dares to mock my useful toil?
Here let me sleep by loved ones laid.

New Publications.
Scribner's Magazine for February opens with a most original and romantic story by Frederick Palmer, the war correspondent, entitled "For the Honor of the Balloon Corps." New light will be thrown on South America, as it now is, by Arthur Ruhl, in the series of articles which begins in this number with "Santiago: the Metropolis of the Andes." Charles M. Pepper, in his revelations of the influence of "The West in the Orient," brings out some dramatic contrasts of the old civilizations with the most modern applications of electricity.

James Montgomery Flagg, the well-known artist, made a trip last summer to a remote village of Saxony where everybody is engaged in the making of violins.

James Huneker presents an acute analysis of Beyle-Stendhal.

FIRE CAUGHT DYNAMITE CAR.
Explosion in an Iowa Town Did $60,000 Damage.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 25.—Five hundred pounds of dynamite in a box car at the mining town of Hocking, two miles from Albia, exploded during a fire which started in a mining company's store early to-day. Five men were injured and $60,000 worth of property destroyed. The shock was felt for five miles.

Miners fought the flames, even when they knew the dynamite was in the car next to the fire, and that an explosion was likely to occur at any time.

DEAD ON THE RAILWAY.
Ex-Councillor Phillips' Body Found Near Humberstone.

Port Colborne, Jan. 25.—James Phillips, ex-councillor of Humberstone township, was found dead on the G. T. H. railway early this morning, a mile north of Humberstone. It is supposed he was walking to his home last night about six p. m. when struck by a train. The body was badly mangled. Mr. Phillips was about sixty years of age, and leaves a widow and three children.

TO RENAMER HER ISLAND.
May Irwin Wants it Changed to "Irwin."

May Irwin, the actress, is in Washington, taking steps to have the name of her island in the St. Lawrence changed from Club Island to Irwin Island. Most people who have been to the Thousand Islands have had May Irwin's island pointed out to them. It is better known there by the actress's name than by its own.

Now she wants the name on the maps changed. The board on geographical names has a rule that no place shall be named after a living person. This rule applies, of course, only to the executive civil service. If the citizens of Oklahoma want to name one of their villages Roosevelt or Bryan they may do so without let or hindrance, but an employee of the departmental service has no such liberty. Now the charts of the St. Lawrence are made by the army engineers, and if the portly actress tries her wiles on a sufficiently gallant soldier, the name on the chart may be changed at once to Irwin Island. But such action would be against the rules. For the present it would seem as though Miss Irwin's only chance would be to educate the people along the St. Lawrence to call her island by her name. Gradually, then, the river chart makers will screw their courage up to the point where they will let local custom justify them in changing the name. Meanwhile the island will remain Club Island and the sympathy of the community will be extended both to Miss Irwin and the island.—Brookville Recorder.

Half a hundred representatives of Germany's nobility are now at Berlin to take part in the celebration of the Emperor's birthday, among them the sovereigns of Baden-Hesse, Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Oldenburg and Schaumburg-Lippe, and the regent of Brunswick, who are among those who have come to congratulate the Emperor.

Three men were injured by an explosion at the Toronto Island waterworks
