Gored by His Own Bull.

DUBLIN, Out. Oct. 30.—James Mullingan, a well-to do farmer, living in the township of Logan, was gored to death yesterday by a buil while crossing a field on his own farm to go to a neighbor's residence. In the bustle and strife of this busy world, we can scarcely venture upon any undertaking without meeting with more or less opposition. This is an acknowledged fact by all who have cast their lot Brothers will take the whole of the Canadian Pacific Bonds, and that the Company will return to the Government the $30,000,000 advanced last year. This would be very satisfactory but for the faxt the C. P. R. bonds are guaranteed by the Government, and if the Company makes default in the interest the Government will have to step into the breach. There is every reason to fear that the $45,000,000 of bonds will become an integral part of the Canadian public debt.—[Hamilton Times.]

edged fact by all who have cast their lot and faced Dame Forume. A very great deal of our troubles may be avoided, however, if we take things as they come, and with truth on our side make the best of them. We can give no clearer illustration of this than the one presented to Chief Windred a few nights ago. Early in the evening two "Tramps" loomed up before the chief and asked for a night's lodging in the "glory hole." There was a very striking centrast between the "pair." The one whom we shall call "Tom" was a great tall, strong, burly fellow, with dark complexion. "Jim" fellow, with dark complexion.
