"That night the troops on the Mount of Olives let off a number of star-lights and the bells all over the city rang. They were fairly going all over Jerusalem from all the little tinkles to the big boom of the Holy Sepulchre. The first event was a big service at the Holy Sepulchre. After this we set to work to prepare for a great service of thanksgiving in St. George's Cathedral. The Church

Army took up the decorations. They hung festoons of flags across the courtyard and flowers across the screen in the church. I went to see the Governor and found him very keen. Eventually, there turned up the Archbishop and three Archiman-drites of the Greek Church, two Bishops and one Priest of the Armenian

Church, Abbot and two Priests of the Coptic Church, one Bishop and two Priests of the Syrian Church, Abbot and four Priests of the Abyssinian Church, Mufti Effendi (Moslem), Rabbi (Hebrew), mayor and municipality, judges, Zionists, and others, General Sir Arthur Mooney and staff, the Military Governor and staff, representatives of fifty-two units of the British forces.

"Faith, I did," came the gasping answer, "and bedad, it's thryin' to let go

The endorsement of the Daylight Saving scheme for 1919, by the St.
John Board of Trade is a timely action, and should be ratified by the remainder of the Dominion—provided the movement is to be a universal one throughout the United States as well. It is quite true, that the night workers are deprived of an hour of daylight rather than gaining one, but daylight rather than gaining one, but they are numerically so much smaller that they can hardly hope to over-rule the 99 per cent. who work by daylight. Daylight Saving gave much added pleasure as well as opportunity to work in the cool evenings to many last year and should be equally ser-vicable this season. The only fly in the cintment will be a lack of co-operation or rather universal adopoperation or rather universal adop-tion.—"Argus" in Morning Chronicle
