Random Complaints of Indiscriminate Relief.

Editor Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir,—I crave a small space in your highly appreciated paper to inform the public of the waste going on in the giving out of Government flour at this place. People who are not in need and who have their winter's food in and also part of their summer's supply are receiving as relief their half barrel of flour, 1 gallon molasses and a pound of tea. This has been going on all the spring and in addition the parties have been given as much as $40 for pit props. I cry shame on a Government which gives such relief without any investigation. I would like to know if there is any man in the Government looking out for the country's interest, or trying to lighten the burden on our fishermen. I understand that this flour is given out to the Relief Officer. The people call on him and say "I want a share as well as my next door neighbour." To see single men receiving this miserable dole is shameful. Is it not time it was stopped. Our burden is heavy enough.

Yours sincerely,
 A. SUFFERER.

Obituary.

MRS. ALPHONSUS CRAWLEY.
 "O Death! stern and silent usher leading to the judgment for eternity, after the trial scene of time."
 Separation from our dearest friends, or from those to whom three or four years have bound us, by the sweet ties of friendship must come, and so, only a few days ago the Angel of Death visited Holyrood and selected as its victim Mrs. Alphonsus Crawley. For the past year she had been suffering from lung trouble, and only a short time ago contracted a cold or an attack of grippe (as the latter is prevalent) to which she succumbed. Her funeral took place from her late residence, April 12th, and was attended by a large number of friends. During her illness she was constantly attended by Rev. W. P. Finn. Death is at all times, and in all places sad, but when the young are cut off in the spring-time of life, there is a peculiar sadness, which in this instance was intensified by the fact that Mrs. Crawley was only in her 23rd year, and her death, which came so unexpectedly, might be compared to the shutting out of a sunbeam which had radiated joy and happiness in the home. By her quiet, unassuming manner Mrs. Crawley endeared herself to all who knew her. To know her was to have a sincere admiration for her, as she possessed the happy faculty of making friends and helping them. She seemed born for happiness, for when trifling troubles seemed to overwhelm her, they were soon dispelled by the sunshine of her laughter and conversation, and as she lay there in her beautiful casket, the smile of happiness seemed to linger. She leaves to mourn their sad loss a husband and baby girl of 2 years at Holyrood and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Osmond, three sisters, Gladys, Blanche and Mabel, and four brothers, Stewart, Arthur, Baxter and Clarence at Tizard's Harbor. To her husband, parents and relatives our loving sympathy we extend, and if Almighty God has chosen to take our youthful friend to enjoy an everlasting crown, before life's battle was well begun, we must bear it, and trust that in the land of the joys, which "eyes hath not seen nor ear heard," we shall all meet again.

"After"—such is the word for us. "The more than word"—the prayer: They do not part, who do part thus. For all our homes are there."

Who Are the Israelites?

This was the subject at the Adventist church last evening. The "word Israel," said the speaker, "means a prince of God or a pre-eminence with God." Mr. Maniel went on to show how the name was given to Jacob after that night of wrestling near the brook Jabbok, as recorded in Gen. 32: 24-29, and as a result his name was changed from Jacob to Israel. The Jews boasted of being the children of Abraham but it was an easy matter for God to raise up children unto Abraham. Matt. 23: 35. Christ told them that if they were the children of Abraham they would do the works which Abraham did, John 8: 39. Thus he made it plain that the literal seed does not necessarily constitute the children of Abraham; but it is a question of doing the works of Abraham. This is still more clearly pointed out in the following scriptures. Rom. 9: 7-8; Rom. 2: 28, 29. The Israel of God includes much more than the fleshly descendants of Abraham. Abraham was made the father of many nations. Rom. 4: 16, 18. Those who believe in Christ and accept Him as their Saviour are the true children of Abraham hence Israelites, Gal. 3: 29. In Jer. 11: 16, "The ancient Israel is likened to a 'green olive tree and of goodly fruit.' The apostle Paul says that some of the branches were broken off, and branches from the wild olive tree, (representing the Gentiles) are grafted into the good tree. (See Rom. 11: 16-18). God did not destroy or cast away the good tree and adopt the wild tree; but some of the Jewish branches were broken off, because of unbelief, and the Gentile branches took their places. But God is able to graft the Jews in again, "if they continue not in disobedience." Rom. 11: 20-24. All therefore who are grafted into the good olive tree become a part of Israel, and come under the covenants of promise made to God's people. This work is accomplished through Christ. "But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometime were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ." Eph. 2: 11-13. And so all Israel shall be saved, as it is written, "There shall come out of Zion a deliverer and he shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob." Rom. 11: 26. It is our privilege to be amongst that number.—Advt.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

GENOA, May 1.
 A sub-commission on Russian affairs of the Economic Conference insists upon the necessity of foreign producers and traders to re-enter Russia, but says this is attainable only by ensuring for foreigners who possessed property in Russia, their safety, and by acknowledging Russia's debts. If Russia accepts these conditions and proposals of the Commission, assistance will be forthcoming from all powers to help Russia industrially and commercially. It is pointed out that while the world is temporarily embarrassed by the fact that Russia no longer exports foodstuffs and raw materials, it can very well get on without her, because the deficiency will be filled from other sources.
