TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

DIRECT ACTION BY FRANCE.

PARIS, Nov. 28.

The intention of France to seize ...ions of Germany, thus paying her... for reparations, comes before a ... meeting of Cabinet to-day. The ...n is for direct action, through seiz... of part of Ruhr District, and ab... ...olute control of French section of ...hineland, was considered and ap... ...roved at yesterday's meeting of mil... ...ary and civil authorities at the Ely... ...e Palace, and will be submitted for ...nal approval. There is no longer ...uch faith in any interallied solution ...f the reparations question.

RUPTURE WITH GREECE.

LONDON, Nov. 28.

There is a strong possibility Great ...ritain will break off diplomatic re... ...ations with Greece, if death senten... ...s imposed on former Greek Cabinet ...embers are carried out, it was stated ...n official circles to-day.

SENTENCED TO DEATH.

ATHENS, Nov. 28.

All but two Cabinet officers and ...ther officers accused of high treason ...n connection with the Greek debacle ...n Asia Minor, have been sentenced to ...eath by a Military Court Martial that ...ied the charges. Sentence of life ...mprisonment and degradations are ...assed upon Admiral Govdas and ...eneral Stratigos.

WAR MEMORIAL DESIGN.—Mr. R. ...Bandell, Chairman of the War ...Memorial Committee received an elo... ...ate design of a War Memorial ...rafted by Major W. H. Green for the ...proposed site on King's Beach. The ...sketch is now placed on exhibition in ...the Board of Trade rooms.

PROMINENT ODDFELLOW DEAD.

BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 28.

Alfred Spikerton, sixty-seven years ...ago, of Worchester, former Presi... ...dent of the Massachusetts Senate, and ...a Grandsire of Oddfellows of the ...world died yesterday.

CONFIDENCE IN MUSSOLINI.

ROME, Nov. 28.

The Senate last night gave a unani... ...mous vote of confidence to the Cabinet ...of Mussolini, after he had deliver... ...ed an effective speech, in which he ...said would be pleased if the Senate ...accorded a unanimous vote, but would ...not be excessively flattered by it.

SYMPATHY.

DUBLIN, Nov. 28.

The corporation of Dublin passed a ...resolution of sympathy with the relat... ...ives of Erskine Childers, Republican ...leader, who was executed last week.

ANOTHER SUNDAY TRAGEDY.

BARCELONA, Nov. 28.

Twenty-six women and children be... ...lieved drowned in sinking of a Sunday ...excursion passenger boat, rammed by a ...customs boat. Eleven bodies were re... ...covered yesterday.

INEVITABLE.

LONDON, Nov. 28.

William Cosgrove, President of Dail, ...during vigorous defence of adminis... ...tration of new Government, said yes... ...terday the execution of childers was ...inevitable. "I fear there will be many ...more," he added "we do not want ...these executions, and would do any... ...thing to avoid them, but no other ...course is open. We have tried to find ...other ways, but there is none. The ...only people who can stop them are the ...Republicans themselves."

A CITY INSOLVENT.

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 28.

Unless Victoria is granted substan... ...tial taxation relief in the form of new ...revenue sources, or a share of the ...provincial revenue, members of City ...Council will ask that a receiver be ap... ...pointed to take over the city's affairs.

The Execution of Justice

Editor Evening Telegram

Dear Sir.—Please permit us the use of a little space in your valuable paper to make a few remarks on some of the things happening here at Rose Blanche. First we will refer to the bad times, which however, we know are everywhere and especially on the South West Coast. Such a condition of affairs as at present exist would never have been, had it not been for the iniquitous Fish Regulations. These alone ruined our island, and we are sure it was these that made prosperous Rose Blanche, the poverty stricken harbor it is to-day. Permit us now to tell the public of an incident that happened a short time ago. Four of our fellow fishermen could not get any credit, and therefore they were without food for themselves or families. They applied to the Relieving Officer and were told he could do nothing for them. The men then did not know what to do for food for their hungry wives and children, but at last they did what any man in the same state would do. They went to a store here in broad daylight and took one sack of flour each, in full view of every person around, the value being $4.40 per sack. The Magistrate of Channel was sent for to try these men for their crime—if it can be called a crime under such circumstances—and after trial all four were sentenced to one month's imprisonment each in Channel gaol. They were taken to Channel in the motor boat "Douglas" owned by the fog alarm keeper and his son. Our light keeper here once had a boat, but was compelled to sell it or lose his job. But it is not so with the fog alarm keeper He can have his boat and carry passengers, to the detriment of the fishermen who could earn a few dollars in this way. The money paid for hiring the "Douglas" to take these four fishermen to Channel would have not been accepted by any of their fellow, and we do not believe that the Magistrate could have offered enough to induce any fisherman of Rose Blanche to convey these men to prison. So it was left for a Government official to do it and accept the hire. Here is another instance which shows how inscrutable to the lay mind are the workings of justice and the administration of the law. A short while ago, a man here was tried before the local Justice of the Peace, for stealing another man's fish. The accused was found guilty and was fined $10. Compare the two cases and note wherein justice miscarried. For taking (not stealing) flour to keep their families alive, four men get thirty days in gaol. For stealing his neighbour's fish another man is let off with a paltry fine of $10. Which is the most heinous offence? Taking flour openly to relieve starvation or deliverately pilfering the goods of a neighbour, and so placing the family of the latter in a destitute condition? It would have been far better and less expense to the country if the Government had paid for the flour which would have been $17.60, because as we heard $20 was the hire of the motor boat to Channel, and in addition there is the cost of dieting while in gaol, not to speak of the government having to maintain the families of the men during the period of their sentence. Great indignation prevails here, Mr. Editor, and we are waiting impatiently for the coming election to put the present party out, and elect a party of sensible men who can, and will do something for the people. Rose Blanche was once known as "Little Gloucester." To-day we are nothing but little poverty, and this has been brought upon us by Coaker's Fish Regulations.

Thanking you for space, we remain,

Yours truly,

ROSE BLANCHE FISHERMEN.

Rose Blanche, Nov. 21st, 1922.

Train Notes.

Sunday's cross country express arrived at Port aux Basques only twenty minutes late. Fine weather is being experienced all along the railway.

The local shore train arrived at 1 p.m.

The Trepassey train was due at the depot on time.

Workmen Dissatisfied.

GANGS RETURNING FROM HUMBER.

Judging by events of the past few days the Humber proposition, as a solution of the labor problem, is not the bonanza that some would have people believe. As far as relieving the situation in the city is concerned the unemployed prefer working in the store yards. Out of one batch of 24 men sent from here to work at Deer Lake 22 have returned. Others are seeking to be sent back. They complain that the worst feature is lack of housing provision, no arrangements for shelter having been made, and they had to sleep on boughs under canvas tents. Many have contracted colds and are unable to work. The pay, too, they say is inadequate, as with the high price of food $2 per day leaves practically nothing to send home. Men who have gone to the Humber from other sections of the country have the same complaint, and many have returned home. The great grievance with all classes of labor seems to be that wages are not sufficient to cover expenses. That it is not a question of an unwillingness to work is borne out by the fact that on Sunday last some 40 picked woodsmen belonging to Trinity Bay, who were working in the logging camps, quit work and proceeded home, with the intention, if possible, to get out of the country. The A.N.D. Co. are open to employ numbers of good axemen, but apparently the men cannot be induced to work under present conditions.

MAIL BOAT DIVERTED FROM ROUTE.

The following message was received yesterday by Capt. Winsor, Chairman of the United Fishermen's movement:—

Wesleyville, Nov. 17.

"Malakoff made special trip yesterday bringing delegates direct from Port Union, the public think at Government's expense. If so, can't fishermen demand a Government boat to bring their crews and supplies home?

SAMUEL ROBERTS.
RAYMOND TILLER.
KENNETH CARTER.
MARTIN SPARKS."

From the above message it is apparent that the Malakoff which is chartered by the Railway Company, has been diverted from her regular route to suit the purposes of a private concern. Whether or not the delegates paid any passage money is not certain, but the diversion of the steamer from her regular ports of call must be paid for by the taxpayers, since the Government is to all intents and purposes running the railroad under special agreement.
