VOTE for Purdon and honest government.Dr. Brock is the biographer of Walt Whitman, the poet. An interesting account of the poet's career may be expected.WEST MIDDLESEX is safe for the Minister of Education; but let the full vote be polled. Over-confidence often results in disaster.Mr. PURDON has the support of many respectable Conservatives in East Middlesex, who refuse to be dragged into supporting a man for whom they have lost respect.THERE is nothing the matter with the Lambtons. Our advice is that both the Mackenzies will be returned by substantial majorities. But every Liberal vote should be polled.ST. THOMAS JOURNAL: "Meredith's ascending star" is the way the Free Press heads an editorial. Well, everything that goes up has to come down, and 5 o'clock on June 5 we would fix the hour when this bright particular star will switch on to the down track.The Liberal platform provides for one man one vote. That is a genuine Right to the platform. It gives an equal amount of political power to each man in the Province. No man can buy political prominence in several constituencies as has been done under the Dominion one-sided laws.With one man one vote, it should be comparatively easy to poll the full Liberal vote if the organization is properly worked.
Our friends should get every available vote to the poll as early as possible, and be ready to go after the stragglers. This advice should be taken in every constituency.MEREDITH, who has been around some, is convinced that the Mowat Government is rotten.—Hamilton Spectator.
But Mr. Meredith is a thorough failure as a prophet. On the Friday evening prior to last general election, he went to Hamilton and prognosticated that the Liberals would be beaten, and by a large majority.
Liberal majority in last Legislature was 241.JOHN WATERS has made a gallant fight against the most crooked influences of the Tory bosses, who have one set of tactics for one portion of the riding and a totally different set for the other. The friends of the able Mr. P. P. should see to it that these disgraceful doings are rebuked by returning Mr. Waters with a larger majority than was given him in 1886. They can do it.
Get out every vote in North Middlesex!
The county stands solid for the Government.An extraordinary attempt at intimidation has been made by Mr. Raikes, Postmaster-General in the British Government.
As many of our readers are no doubt aware, the telegraphs of the motherland have for over 20 years been in the hands of the Government, and the clerks are therefore directly responsible to the Postmaster-General, whose department is charged with their oversight. The men have been acting for better hours and increased remuneration, as they have a perfect right to do, but Mr. Raikes, specimen Tory auto-crat that he is, holds to the opinion that these hardworking clerks have no right to meet and consider their grievances, at least not without his being cognizant of their every move, for he has issued an order forbidding them to meet unless his official shorthand is present to take down every word that is uttered. The National Conference of Telegraphers, which has just held its meeting at Leicester, has very properly denounced the Postmaster's order as tyrannical and unconstitutional. They resolved that their leisure time belonged to themselves, and decided to refuse admission to the note-taker. The men are well organized and full of fight, and as Raikes is as obstinate as a mule, he may force matters to a general strike. The experience shows how unreasonable the average Tory boss is apt to become when dressed in a little brief authority.EAST MIDDLESEX TO BE RE-DEEMED.The people of this district know Mr. T.
H. Purdon, the Liberal candidate in East Middlesex, to be an upright, honorable and trustworthy citizen. As a servant of the county, as a trustee of the General Hospital, in the proper management of which the county is deeply interested, Mr. Purdon has done good service for the district in the past, and we are assured that as a representative of the riding in the Legislature he will be able to look well after the interests of his constituents. An attempt has been made by the friends of Mr. Tooley to disparage the ability and independence of his opponent, but the effort is too ludicrous to succeed. Every person who has listened to the exposition of public affairs by the candidates must have seen that of the two Mr. Purdon is by far the ablest man. Mr.

Tooley has had a long trial, but as Farmer Grive said at a public gathering he does not improve as he grows older; "he goes lower instead of higher." The intelligent electors of the east riding want to be represented by a man who will reverse that order of things—one for whom doings they will not be called upon to continually apologize. We feel sure that they have found such a man in Mr.
Purdon, who, despite the sneers and unfair attacks of his detractors, has made a splendid campaign and has left an impression on the minds of the electorate that will bear fruit on polling day. As the unanimous nominee of the Liberal Convention, Mr. Purdon can claim the united vote of the supporters of the Government, and he will no doubt get it. But we are glad to be assured that in the ranks of those who are working for him are to be found such men as J. B.
Fram, of West Nisour, formerly a strong Conservative, who has become thoroughly disgusted with Mr. Tooley and his leader, and who will vote for Mr. Purdon.
Moreover, there are many who can see no reason why East Middlesex should continue in the cold shades of Opposition, and under the double disad-vantage accruing from being misrepresented by a man who is rarely able to take part in the proceedings of the House, and who is the butt of even those sitting on his own side of the Legislative Chamber.
For these reasons, we believe that the small majority by which Mr. Tooley was elected to the last Legislature is destined on Thursday next to be turned into a minority. No one can say that the change from Tooley to Purdon would not be decidedly advantageous to East Middlesex.
What our friends in the riding have to guard against is over-confidence. If they work with a will from now till polling day, and see that no favorable vote is left unpolled the riding will take its proper position as a supporter of the Government by the agency of an able man.

THE PETTY PROGRAMME OF MR.
MEREDITH AND HIS PARTY.

The campaign now happily drawing to a close is perhaps the very peculiar which the present generation of politicians has known. There are a number of large questions of public policy which might and ought to have been discussed, but one and all of them have been shunned by Mr.
Meredith, his organs and his candidates.
The matters which go to make up the Government's record of the last eighteen years might very properly furnish topics of discussion for the Opposition, if that party had any reason for its existence; yet the whole record goes practically unchallenged, or if taken up in any particular it is to be shamelessly misrepresented.

Take the French schools as an instance.
For more than a quarter of a century French had been allowed to be the language of a few schools, although the attention of Dr. Ryerson had been specifically called to the use of a number of occasions. Three years before a member of the Opposition had raised a voice against it, the Minister of Education had taken steps to make English the language of instruction in all the schools, and under the regulations adopted by him the number of schools in which French had been used was reduced by more than one-half. And by gradual enforcement of his regulations and making reasonable provision to qualify French teachers to give instruction in English, a stage has now been reached where English is the language of instruction in all the schools, saving in a few cases where children in the primary classes are instructed in their mother tongue because they do not understand English. Yet Mr. Meredith, his candidates and his organs are addressing the electors as if the state of things is still what it was 30 years ago, when Dr.
Ryerson and the Council of Public Instruction ordered that French might be the language of instruction where the teacher could not speak English. It is a deliberate intention on their part to mislead the electors and to snatch a verdict against the Government by misrepresentation and falsehood. Five years ago there were some 60 schools in the Province out of a total of over 5,000 in which English was not taught.
Two years later, as a result of the regulation adopted and authorized by the Minister of Education, the number was reduced to 27, three years later the number was reduced to six; and last year the commission appointed by the Government to inquire into the matter found that English was taught in every school. At the beginning it was a small matter, a trifling matter—one school out of 830 giving instruction in French instead of English. Yet, although the grievance, if it can be called a "grievance," has been completely removed, Mr. Meredith and his followers continue to make as much noise over it as if the first step had yet to be taken to its removal.

Then there is the question of the assessment of separate school supporters. The law which required notice to be given to the clerk of a municipality before any person could be placed on the collection roll was clear enough for any intelligent man, and it had never been changed; but to make it so plain that a wayfarer man, though a fool, need not err in the understanding of it, the Government last session placed an act on the statute book declaring what the law is and always has been, and providing still more definitely for the way of assessing public school and separate school supporters in municipalities where the latter exist. But in spite of this plain and simple statute Mr. Meredith and his followers and organs go on telling the people that the law was changed ten years ago, and that Roman Catholic ratepayers are compelled by their priests to become separate school supporters whether they like it or not.

Then there are such questions as the ballot for separate school elections, the representation of Catholics on high school boards, the inspection of separate schools, the use of text books, the price of text books and half a dozen other contemptible and petty questions which go to make up the policy of Mr. Meredith's party in this campaign, including the appointment of balliffs and division court clerks, the transfer of control of the liquor traffic, an autocratic chief superintendent for a responsible Minister of Education, and the plans of the new Parliament buildings.

Such a beggarly array of hollow cries against a Government we never before had experience of in this Province. It is an insult to the intelligence of the people of Ontario that they should be called upon day after day and night after night for the whole course of the campaign to listen to the discussions of such small questions in public meeting. The evidence of the incapacity and imbecility of the Opposition is deplorable as furnished by the programme, and it is a humiliating thing to the Government and its friends that they should be compelled to spend their time in replying to such drivelling accusations as are brought against them by the Opposition.

The whole programme is as empty and noisy as a cow-bell, and nothing else is needed to demonstrate how poorly qualified Mr. Meredith and his friends are to take charge of the Government of this great and prosperous commonwealth of ours. There is not an issue which they have raised in the campaign that would justify the rejection of a school trustee or a town councillor by the people, not to make mention of the proved capacity, wisdom and statesmanship of the Hon. Oliver Mowat.

What Meredith, Creighton, French, Clarke & Co. should do is to apprentice themselves for seven years to some town council, where they might hope to outgrow some of their petty ways.

A GERMAN steamer which is intended to make the round of the ports of the world, carrying a floating bazar as cargo, is now being loaded at Hamburg, and the originators of the idea hope that she will sail before the end of June. Stalls are to be erected on the decks, and German goods will be exposed to all alluvages. There will be curiosities and side-shows, refreshments peculiar to the German nation, and music of the Fatherland's composers given by famous German bands. A small army of commercial travellers will invite largely all possible customers at every port of call.
There was an idea of having young ladies to preside over some of the stalls, but it did not entirely commend itself to favor, some of the older heads thinking the damsels might part with their own sensitive hearts well as with their goods and quit the ship altogether. Each voyage is to last two years, and the first stoppage will probably be New York. The great ship and her cargo have cost $250,000.

What is a fire? Is the question which a Paris court was recently called on to decide. The Countess Fitzjames had had her effects insured by the Union Fire Insurance Company for 685,000 francs. In the list of jewels covered by the policy was a pair of pearl earrings valued at 18,000 francs and insured for 10,000. One afternoon while dressing the Countess knocked the earrings accidentally from the mantlepiece into the open fire. Despite her strenuous efforts with shovel and tongs the jewels were destroyed. She recovered the gold, valued at 60 francs, and demanded from the company 9,340 francs indemnity for the loss of the pearls. The company refused to pay a cent, on the ground that an ordinary grate fire was not the kind of a fire contemplated in the insurance policy. The Countess appealed to the courts, and got a decision in her favor. The judge held that "an insurance against fire was an insurance against all kinds of fire, insurance against any loss caused by any flames."

ALTHOUGH still of very moderate proportions, and but little heard of outside of Austria, the petroleum industry of Western Galicia is said to be older than the Pennsylvania industry by nearly ten years. The advance in the world's markets of the American product and the extraordinary growth of the supply acted a disquieting feature in the development of the Austrian deposits just as the use of petroleum as an illuminating material began to be understood there. A State investigation, made public in 1880, according to a writer in the Leuven Neue Prese, showed that the Galician petroleum region embraces about the whole northern slope of the Carpathian Alps from near Sandee to the Bukovina, and is of far greater extent than any of the industry, and only some small works, but nothing on any large scale, has been attempted. The quality of the oil raised in Galicia varies with the strata containing it.

Record of the U. S. Station Work.
From the office of experiment stations, Department of Agriculture, Washington, we have received copies of No. 2 and No. 3 Experiment Station Records, giving an account of the third annual convention of the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations throughout the Republic. In 39 States, 43 stations are now in operation, expending, with the Washington office, about $725,000 per year.
Over 400 persons being engaged in directing or conducting investigations in almost every conceivable branch of agriculture or related subjects. An admirable synopsis is given in the two volumes to hand of experiments carried on last year in a large number of the stations. There are also abstracts from publications issued by the Bureau of Animal Industry, the division of Economic Ornithology and Mammalogy, and the divisions of Forestry and Pathology. A careful reference to farmers and farm writers, these volumes are especially valuable.

Another Butter Record Breaker.
James Paul, a Holstein cow owned by J. B. Dutcher & Son, Pawling, N. Y., has broken the 90-day butter record, making 382 pounds 14½ ounces in that time. The cow has received copies of No. 2 and No. 3 Experiment Station Records, giving an ac-
Association of American Agricultural Col-
the Republic. In 39 States, 43 stations
