

CHAMP CLARK LOSING GROUND AND WILSON IS LOOMING UP

Bryan Man Secures Permanent Chairmanship of Convention and Indications Are That a Progressive Will Be Nominated at Democratic Convention.

Baltimore, Md., June 26. — With nominations due to be made tomorrow, the situation in the Democratic national convention, with respect to presidential candidate, was as complex and uncertain tonight as at any time since the delegates began to pour into Baltimore.

There was much talk of a subordination of the Champ Clark wave, which reached its crest last night, but the Speaker's campaign managers were not willing to admit there had been any wavering in their forces. At the same time they went to the convention hall tonight with the expressed purpose of forcing the issue at the earliest possible hearing of this plan, prepared to block it. They did not wait the nominations to be made until tomorrow, hoping the situation would clear a little by the time. The address of Woodrow Wilson claimed tonight that their candidate had made district gains during the day. They asserted, without giving details, that some of the Clark sentiment was turning toward the New Jersey governor, and were in a more hopeful mood than at any time during the convention period.

Kern Leads Dark Horses.
"Dark horses" were being discussed everywhere by the leaders and delegates tonight, but there appeared to be some difficulty in crystallizing sentiment as to which one of the "dark horses" was darkest.

Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, Mr. Bryan's choice for temporary chairman of the convention, and chairman of the committee drawing the party platform, still appeared to hold the lead among the dark horses. The coalition of the Bryan and Wilson forces in the first night of the convention, however, led to talk of the Bryan strength ultimately going to Wilson.

The one outstanding fact in the situation seemed to be the absolute impossibility of any candidate having a sufficient number of votes on the first ballot to nominate. The two-thirds rule prevailing in Democratic convention always makes the picking of a candidate in advance a difficult problem.

After the first ballot is taken it remains to be seen how well the Clark managers can hold their vote together. Some of the delegates predicted tonight that the voting would run through a large number of ballots, while others predicted with equal confidence that the "break" would come quickly, and a nomination be made on the second or third call of the roll.

Victory for Bryan.
Friends of Mr. Bryan practically ceased to boom him as a presidential candidate today, though they were reported alert to take advantage of any psychological moments that might happen along. It was reported that Bryan buttons and banners had arrived in town, but they were not distributed today.

Two important victories were credited to Mr. Bryan today. First, he secured the election of Senator Ollie James, a progressive, for permanent chairman, and the second, the endorsement of his plan to have the adoption of the platform await until after the nomination of a candidate.

Mr. Bryan today declined to accept the chairmanship of the platform committee, but his close friend, Senator Kern, was chosen in his place. Tonight Mr. Bryan reported the platform as "coming along nicely."

It was said the platform would be ready for the convention by the time the nomination for president had been made. At Mr. Bryan's suggestion, it had been determined to present a platform until after the candidate had been named.

It was generally reported about the convention hall tonight that a number of the western Clark delegations that cast their votes for Judge Parker for temporary chairman were beginning to "hear from home" on account of alleged desertion of the progressive forces. It also was common gossip that there was a good deal of feeling between the Bryan and Clark forces.

Some of the Wilson men claimed tonight that sentiment in the big New

"Usin' Tiz, Gramma?"

"Yes, Harold, it makes Grandma's feet feel just like yours, free from tiredness, aches and corns."

"Your papa and mamma, your grandpa and your grandma all use TIZ. Harold and you'll use it, too, when you get to be a man. Then your feet will never hurt, or get tired. That's why we all use TIZ."

Most of us get old, feet first. The bunions get state, more wearisome and painful. Corns get harder and more stubborn as the feet become more tender. At a time when old people need their feet most, they can use them less—unless they use TIZ.

If you have never used TIZ before, your first use of it will bring back some of your childhood days. TIZ will make your feet feel young, strong and vigorous. They'll never be tender, never chafe or ache, never get blistered or swollen, and your corns, bunions and calluses will be no more. Nothing will do it or can do it like TIZ. Don't experiment with other things; other people have done that for you, and they are all now using TIZ.

TIZ acts on a new principle—draws out all the poisonous exudations that make foot troubles.

TWO ACRES DEVASTATED

St. Scholastique, Que., June 26. — Fire, which broke out here at nine o'clock this morning in the bakery of Mr. Max Galant, gained way so rapidly that it spite of all the efforts made to get it under control it swept away, building, covered over two acres of the village's area, and for a time threatened the existence of the major portion of the village. The entire loss was not over $30,000, although there were thirteen proprietors, but there was very little insurance on any of the property.

CROPS ARE LIGHT

Around Kincaidine Hay Will Be Scarce and Peas a Failure.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Kincaidine, June 27.—There is great difference of opinion regarding the probable yield of grain.

Peas are considered to be nearly a failure. Only two good fields are to be seen in this district. Mangolds could not get in in time on account of the wet weather, and when the ground was fit to sow, it was considered too late, and turnips are being extensively planted. Some fine fields of fall wheat have not yet been seen, but rust is visible. Hay generally is light.

GAVE HER A WATCH

Popular Member of Ivan Church Was Pleasantly Surprised.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ivan, June 27.—Quite a number of the ladies of Melville Presbyterian Church, Ivan, assembled at the manse recently and spent a delightful evening prior to the departure of Miss Esther Argo, sister of the pastor.

A well prepared address was read by Mrs. A. Freese, while the presentation of a gold watch and chain, also a handsome jewelry was made to Miss Argo by Mrs. D. W. Campbell and Miss S. Jary respectively.

Although taken absolutely by surprise, Miss Argo, in a few suitable words, acknowledged the gifts with thanks and appreciation. She spoke of the pleasure of becoming acquainted with the members of the congregation during the six years which she spent at Ivan.

She will be greatly missed by the congregation, for her services as president of the Women's Auxiliary and also as teacher in the Sabbath school; but owing to ill health she thought it best to return to her former home, Eden Mills.

Following the presentation a dainty lunch and tea were served by the ladies.

FRENCH INDESTRUCTIBLE

Will Always Be Held in Honor of Quebec, Says Etienne Lamy.

Quebec, June 26. — Today was somewhat of a day of repose for the members of the French-speaking Congress. The delegates took part in an excursion to Petit Cap, St. John, nearly 1,000 persons being in attendance. The delegates were entertained at lunch and returned to town at 5 o'clock in time to resume the labors at this evening's general session of the congress. On the way back the excursionists visited the famous shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre.

Etienne Lamy, member of the French Academy, who was here for the congress, left this afternoon for New York, whence he will sail for France. Before leaving he expressed the highest praise at the success of the congress, from which he thought the most important results would flow.

A permanent organization of all the French-speaking citizens of America, he said, should be formed in order to safeguard the language. French was indestructible in the Province of Quebec, and the language would always be held in honor.

CROPS ARE GOOD IN WYOMING DISTRICT

Hay Will Not Be Plentiful, But Good General Yield Is Expected.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Wyoming, June 27.—Although the fall wheat fields were pretty badly winter killed, one occasionally comes across one, even above the average. Alfalfa is in full and as usual a good crop. Red clover and alsike medium, or even below. The farmers expect a big price for any hay they may have to sell next winter. Even timothy is not heavy in this vicinity. However, this spring's seeding shows a good catch.

Spring crops are looking fair, the best being oats, and although so late in being sown, are looking very well. Corn, being late planted, is not high, but gaining with these warmer days. A field of beans is seen about 1½ miles from here, of about 20 acres, in excellent condition. Very few sugar beets were sown this year, as sufficient acreage was not secured by the sugar companies.

Potatoes Planted Late.
Potatoes were planted late, and owing to scarcity and high price of seed, not so many acres were put out as usual by each farmer.

Going Into Dairying.
The farmers here seem to be taking a fresh interest in dairy stock. With four routes in competition, the farmer may take his choice of destinations for his cream. Very few cars to make butter in the old way during the hot months. The cream separator has become a household necessity. On the whole, this vicinity, in fact the township of Plympton, presents a prosperous appearance with its comfortable farm homes, large commodious barns and up-to-date machinery.

Mr. James Mustard, wife and child, are visiting the parents of the former, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Mustard.

Dr. William Read has been appointed coroner for East Lambton.

Forty-one pupils wrote on entrance exams here.

Mrs. (Rev.) Ross is spending some months at Calgary.

LITTLE CHINESE GIRL MADE LONG JOURNEY

Laundryman Sees Daughter for First Time On Her Arrival in Sarnia.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, June 26.—Fong Wing Chong, dark-eyed, petite and eight years of age, has arrived at the home of her father, Wing Chong, a local Chinese laundryman, after a long journey from Hong Kong. Little Wing Chong bears the unique distinction of being the first of her sex to reside here. In the home of Wing Chong there is much rejoicing, and the happy parent seldom lets the child out of his sight. This is not to be wondered at, for the daughter until never before seen her father until her arrival here. Some time before his daughter was born, Chong left his wife in her parents' care and came over the Pacific to seek his fortune in Canada. Sarnia looked good to the industrious young Chinaman and he embarked in the laundry business on a small scale. Hard work, thrift and the memory of a little woman far across the seas conspired to drive Chong along the stern pathway to success.

By and by the business became larger and larger, the treasured bank book contained many more precious figures and the fond husband began to indulge in dreams of joyous anticipation. Finally the momentous day arrived. The letter containing the transportation tickets was dropped into the mailbox and Chong returned to the washbasin and several long weeks of wearisome suspense.

Somewhere over in the distant Orient a dainty little Chinese woman bustled around preparing her small wondering daughter for a most astounding trip of thousands of miles to the heart of a strange country. For into the heart of the laundry business Chong should come first, the mother following later. After an endless procession of most amazing adventures too long to mention, Miss Fong Wing Chong, formerly of Hong Kong, landed safe and sound in her father's arms.

The youngster was clad in a dainty and exotic Oriental costume, exquisite embroidery with quaint little birds and flowers, but this was not to the taste of Wing Chong, Canadian citizen, who escorted Miss Chong to the nearest clothing store today and made innumerable purchases of European clothing suitable for the daughter of a thriving laundryman.

The child appeared rather pleased than otherwise by the change of apparel, and all day long she stood in the door of her father's laundry, casting shy, startled glances at the white children who passed up and down the street. The other Chinamen throughout the town appear to be highly pleased over the new member of their colony, and show their teeth in broad grins whenever she is mentioned. Mrs. Chong, the mother, left on the next boat from China, and has also arrived.

MURDERER FOR DRINK

Quarrel About Price Ended in Restaurant Being Shot Dead.

Montreal, June 26. — Louis Guay, proprietor of a restaurant on East LaSalle street, was shot and killed this evening at the door of his establishment by Dominique Blyano, a young Italian, with whom he had quarreled over the price of some soft drinks. The Italian was seized and held by others in the restaurant. He will be arraigned on a charge of murder tomorrow.

Gives Out Statement in Regard to Developing Port of Quebec.

Quebec, June 26. — Premier Borden, before sailing from Quebec today on board the steamer Royal George, gave out the following statement respecting the equipment of the port of Quebec and construction of railway terminals:

"The Government thoroughly realizes the importance of the port of Quebec, and the necessity of pushing the development of the harbor and the construction of terminals to completion with as little delay as possible."

the great future trade which undoubtedly will come to this port."

The Premier was given a hearty send-off by a crowd of prominent people, including many ladies, who presented Mrs. Borden with many beautiful bouquets of roses. Hon. Mr. Pelletier, who is spending a few days with his father at Trois-Epis, will join his fellow-ministers on board the steamer at Father Point.

When Summer Stops the Swing

Most of us can remember the school lesson in the law of accumulated motion—momentum.

If you exert a pound of pressure against a man in a swing, you'll start him moving slowly "to and fro." If you continue to exert a pound of pressure against him every time the swing makes a trip, you'll soon have him going so high that he almost turns the whole circle. If you stop pushing, the momentum will die out and the swing come to rest at "dead centre."

Winning trade follows the same natural laws.

Advertisements are the force behind the swing of public favor. Each new advertisement increases the momentum. Finally, the accumulated force of these numerous impulses swings indifference to the buying point.

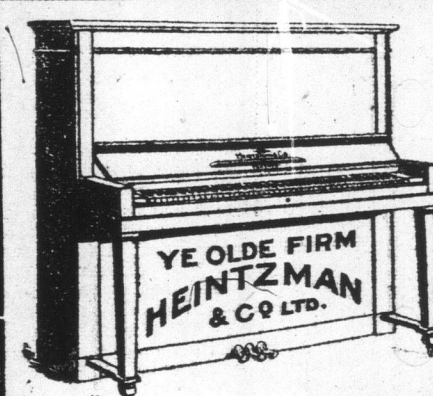

If you stop Advertising, you lose momentum.

The moral of which is:

Don't stop the business swing in Summer.

Keep adding the pounds of Advertising pressure.

STOWAWAY STARVED.

New York, June 27.—The shrunken body of a man, half buried in a cargo of pork from Spain, was found by longshoremen today in a remote part of the hold of the steamship Francesco Clampani, which sailed from Seville, Spain, for this port on June 1. The man was a stowaway and had given his life as the price of passage to America. Death was due to starvation.
