Peter Visits the Old Orchard And Hears a Very Bad Rumor

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Peter Rabbit had been spending so much time in the Green Forest and at the Smiling Pool that he had rather neglected the Old Orchard. He was reminded of this one day when Carol the Meadow Lark happened to stop near where Peter was peeping out from the dear old Briar Patch. As usual, Peter was curious.

what are the neighbors saying about Jenny and Mr. Wren?"

"They are not really saying anything," replied Carol. "They are just hinting at things. It is a rumor that is going around. You know what a rumor is, don't you, Peter?"

Peter rubbed his nose thoughtfully. "It—it is a story about something or somebody that no one seems to know mebody that no one seems to know mebody."

dear old Briar Patch. As usual, Peter was curious.

"What's the news, Carol?" he asked.

"There isn't any news," replied Carol.

"That is, there isn't any news, unless it is news to you that some of the people in the Old Orchard are talking about on the Old Orchard are talking about that Jenny Wren was talking about or just how it came to start, isn't it?" asked Peter.

Carol nodded. "That's it," said he.

"Well, some bad things have happened up in the Old Orchard this spring and up in the Old Orchard this spring and with the Old Or

"What kind of bad things have happened up in the Old Orchard?" he demanded.
"Well," replied Carol, "some eggs have been thrown out of nests and have been thrown out of nests and is some others have had holes made in them as they lay in the nests."
"Sammy Jay's work!" cried Peter.
"Carol shook his head. "No," said he, "it wasn't the work of Sammy Jay. In "Tommy Tit and his pretty little wife,"
