On Friday evening, Feb. 22nd, an impromptu debate was called "Resolved that men spend more time and money on their own pleasure than women." The prizes offered for the best recitation brought forth some splendid selections and were won by Beatrice Gault and Velma Parker. These meetings will be continued on Friday evenings in the school house of S. S. No. 11 for a few weeks, at which all are welcome. They will eventually close with a large entertainment.

The wood lots are being much sought after and appreciated, although getting badly thinned out since a few years, as the price of coal is unusually high, and is likely to remain so for a while. Wood is a valuable substitute and a substantial one.

A problem which has been occupying Petrolia council since its inaugural, involving the disposal of the town's team of horses and the release of the driver in an effort to cut down expenses, was definitely settled at a special meeting held on Monday night, when it was decided to keep the team. The driver's salary was lowered to $75 a month, however, with a free house.

Further evidence of the extensive migrations of Jack Miner's wild fowl was received last week when a tag taken from a duck killed by Peter Sandstrom of Dubuc, Sask., was delivered to Mr. Miner at Kingsville. For the past 10 years Mr. Miner has caught and tagged thousands of wild ducks and geese which visit his place annually. He keeps accurate dates when these birds were caught and when reported killed.

A young English home boy, employed on the farm of John Hilborn Bosanquet, who left for parts unknown some days ago, has reappeared safe and sound with the explanation that he just went away "for a lark." It was feared that he had met with some mischance and a search party was called into service for a couple of days without result. He refused to tell where he had been or why he left, but admitted he was periodically afflicted with the wanderlust.

Owing to an epidemic of intestinal disease in Kingsville, orders were given to boil all drinking water. Samples were sent to the Provincial Analyst, who reported the absence of any deleterious germs, which gave the water supply a clean bill of health. As people of Gosfield South adjoining the town, who do not use the town water, are afflicted the same way, it is concluded by the physicians there that the epidemic has some other cause as yet undetermined. In the meantime because of the warning issued by the Medical Officer of Health to boil the water, false rumors have gone abroad that typhoid exists in that town. Officials are doing their utmost to kill these stories.

Old King Winter's recent contribution of snow not only hampered railway traffic in many divisions but put a quietus on motor travel in the rural sections. Bus lines along with private cars found the drifts too heavy but one enterprising driver operating from Sarnia to Eftrolea determined to give service to his regular customers despite nature's self imposed handicap. and employing a horse drawn cutter he is making periodical trips to and from the old town but naturally not as often as he would de with the automobile.

Wyoming and vicinity is becoming noted as one of the best honey producing districts in Western Ontario. The four leading apiarists in this territory are Messrs. Harry Lucas and Matthias of the village and J. D. Wright and James Locke of the 6th line, all of whom sold several tons last season. The product, on account of the dry weather last summer, was of exceptionally fine flavor. Owing to the proximity of fine clover fields on his farm, Mr. Wright states that he was unable to supply the demand for the product of his bees, which exceeded three tons from 40 hives.

Attacked by three men who leaped upon him as he stepped from his automobile to open the doors of his garage at 11 o'clock Monday night, Joseph Lake, 33 years old, living on Huron line, Sandwich West township, was knocked down when one of the men struck him across the head with a piece of iron pipe, fracturing his skull. As he lay bleeding his gold watch and chain was torn from his clothing and $115 in an inside pocket was taken. The thugs then leaped into Lake's car, the motor of which he had left running, and disappeared just as Mrs. Lake came out of the house to see what was detaining her husband.

The Supreme Court spring assizes for Lambton County closed on Friday when Justice H.E. Rose reserved judgment in the civil suit of W. R. Dawson, of Inwood, against Donald A. Brown and others. This was an action for the specific performance of an agreement for the sale of land and chattels, namely the store, building and property at the Village of Inwood under lease by defendants acting as an advisory committee of the United Farmers' Co-operative Company of Toronto, for the plaintiff. It was claimed that the defendants under the agreement were to purchase the store within two years from August, 1921, at a stated price of $8,500. The defendants set up that the agreement was void under the statute of frauds. Only one witness was called by each side. The other defendants were J. H. Johnston, Brooke; J. Dobbyn of Euphemia, and J. Smith of Enniskillen.
