The Weekly Monitor.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 23RD, 1896.

In New Brunswick as in Nova Scotia widows and spinners have the right to vote at municipal elections. In our own province strenuous efforts have been made in the House of Assembly to extend the franchise to women in the same degree as now enjoyed by men, but so far without avail.

Some years ago our legislature passed a law on the statute book allowing widows and spinners, having the necessary property qualifications, to vote at municipal elections, but the law is a dead letter. Now, if our women do not care to exercise their franchise in a modest council's election, where the candidates are well known to them and where the issue is not political, but merely a selection of the best man to administer county matters, it would seem to create a comedy over the great ambition of women to vote.

With the advent of the new school year comes a change of text books. Long the fellow's Evangelist, which has been in the schools for some time, is displaced by Goldsmith's Described Village, and the History of British America is supplanted and in its stead is to be used Dr. Eschscholtz's "How Canada is Governed." The change of one poem for another is not an important one and the Described Village will afford a good opportunity to students to search out the beauties of our language and at the same time create a liking for one of the English authors. The great claim Evangelist had to recognition in our schools is the fact that the scene of the poem is laid in Nova Scotia and as long as its prose were the early settlers of Acadia. In one drawback is its American authorship, for the classics of our own writers should be studied in preference to those of a foreign nation, notwithstanding we have in common tongue. This change is a good one, although the discarded work is one of the gems of the English language. "How Canada is Governed" is a comparatively new work and savours rather more of politics than of history. It is well for every Canadian to thoroughly understand how his country is governed and it is well for him to get the valuable information at the hands of the impartial school teacher, aided by this new text, in order that he may be equipped for his part in political life, but we hope the history of our land is not to be laid on the shelf, for that is a country the most important subject than how we are governed.

This good crops of this year throughout the Dominion are likely to offset to some extent the depression in business which seems to exist in commercial quarters. The North West crops are good. Ontario crops are not quite up to the average in some branches while in others the yield is above. Reports from Quebec indicate that another good return has crossed the year's lot of the farmer. In Nova Scotia the agricultural department's bulletin declares of the potatoes that "it may be said generally that this is a most fruitful year," and "the promise of a magnificent output of apples places this important branch of agriculture beyond peradventure." What is true of Nova Scotia is also true of Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick.

A prominent Newfoundland merchant who has recently been on a business trip to Nova Scotia, stated that a notable change has taken place in that colony respecting the question of confederation. The people of Newfoundland the gentleman declares, are now almost unanimously in favor of union with Canada, and if satisfactory terms could be arranged between the two governments they would like to see the union take place as early as possible. There is no doubt that both countries would be benefited by Newfoundland coming under the Canadian constitution.

Should the apples which went forward from Halifax the latter part of the past week reach the English market in good condition the prices realized will doubtless prove gratifying to the shippers, as from late advice received yesterday the outlook is promising. The English apple crop, which is exceedingly light, is almost totally cleaned up, fully a month earlier than previous years. A few English Gravenstein, of inferior quality, and wormy, were sold a few days ago at 4s. 6d. per bushel, equal to 1s. 6d. per bbl.

Peace has been concluded between Italy and Abyssinia. Negus Menelik demanded that Italy should pay him 2,000,000 francs as compensation for maintaining Italian troops captured during the war, and also that the limits of the Italian colony of Erythraea be definitely fixed and that Italy keep within those limits. Russia, it is said, supported the conditions laid down by Menelik, and they were agreed to by the Italian Government.

Within two months one Chicago street railway company has laid off 100 cars and 200 mep, alleging that the increasing use of the bicycle renders their services unnecessary. The wheel is becoming quite revolutionary, but one of these days the invention of the motorcycle will give the street cars a worse set-back.

The Dominion Government has decided to arrange at the next session of parliament for the taking of a plebiscite on the question of prohibition. It is a majority of the voters decide in favor of prohibition the government pledges themselves to introduce prohibitory legislation.

KILLED BY THE TRAIN.

HARRY TREMPERMAN, OF HAMPTON, INSTANTLY CRUSHED TO DEATH AT SAGOU, WHILE ON A VISIT TO BELLEVILLE.

A despatch from Lynn, Mass., says: Harry Tremperman, 17 years, was killed this morning while he and his uncle, F. J. Hall were fishing from a draw bridge near the Electric river works on the Seaboard branch of the Boston and Maine railway. The accident was witnessed by a number of horrified spectators. Mr. Hall was on the south side of the track just as the train was coming, about 11.10 a.m. Harry tried to cross the track but slipped and fell face downward across the rail. The wheels cut him in two, mangled his legs, cutting off one arm. His jaw-bone was broken. He received a bad gash in the head. The train was immediately stopped. The trainmen collected the remains and sent for an ambulance which removed the body to undertaking rooms.

The deceased was born in Boston, but before he reached his sixteenth year had the misfortune of losing both his father and mother, when he was adopted by his uncle, Captain Thomas Tremperman, of Hampton, where he has since resided. He was one of the most exemplary young men of that vicinity, and has been closely identified with the success of Flashlight Division, S. T., and at the last installation of officers was appointed conductor. Some six weeks ago he left on a vacation, in company with Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hall. His untimely death is a severe blow to his many relatives and friends.

A Former Resident Passes Away.

DEATH OF W. A. MILLER.

From the Minneapolis Tribune, Sept. 19. One of the old settlers of Minneapolis, who at one time was prominent in every public enterprise of the city, but who, in recent years, has been in comparative retirement, died last evening.

It was W. A. Miller. Death came at 8.30 o'clock, after a lingering illness extending over four years, but which had partially run its course four weeks ago when he was compelled to take his bed, never to rise again, although he had not been out of his home since.

Mr. Miller was born in Shelburne, Nova Scotia, March 24, 1838. He was the eldest of a family of seven children. His father was Rev. Alexander Miller, a Wesleyan minister who ministered to a flock in that province.

After growing into manhood Mr. Miller was minister to the New York City. He subsequently spent nine years in Australia, and returned to the United States shortly before the war. For several years he served his adopted country in connection with the commissary department and was stationed for a long time at Nashville. It was while serving at Nashville that he went north to Middleton, Conn., to be married to Charlotte L. Wheelock, daughter of Joseph Wheelock, of Bridgetown, N. S.

After the war Mr. Miller was in business in Pennsylvania, and came to Minneapolis in 1861. He was manager of the Minneapolis end of the St. Paul and Minneapolis Pioneer Press. It was in this capacity that Mr. Miller had much to do with public matters in Minneapolis. He had been practically out of business during the past four years.

During his residence in the West Mr. Miller was closely allied with the Odd Fellows, but after leaving Boston he dropped his membership and did not resume it. Since his residence in Minneapolis, however, he became an active and progressive member of the Masonic fraternity. He was, on the whole, one of the most enthusiastic Masons in the city. He was past commander of Darius commandery, and past master of Hennepin lodge, No. 4. He had the talks of the thirty-second degree and was a Shriner. His last absence from the city was in connection with the Masonic convocation in Boston, last summer, which, without doubt, gave him strength enough to live through last winter.

Death came at the family residence, 732 Sixteenth street east, last evening. All of the family were in the city when death ended the suffering, as he had remained unaccounted for hours before the final dissolution. There were three children to comfort their mother, Katharine E. M. Mabel and George A. Miller. They grew up in Minneapolis, and have a large circle of friends who share their loss with them.

Our Great Apple Crop. BETWEEN 300,000 AND 400,000 BARRELS FOR THE ENGLISH MARKET. C. R. H. Starr, of Wolfville, who knows nearly everything about the apple trade, informs the Halifax Herald that the output of Nova Scotia orchards to the English market this year will be between 300,000 and 400,000 barrels. The crop will be the greatest in the history of Nova Scotia. The year before last the export from Nova Scotia to England was 225,000 barrels, and last year it was less. The crop is light in England, as well as in Nova Scotia. Tonnage is comparatively scarce and shippers are compelled to pay about five cents per barrel more than last year.

The steamer St. John City sailed last Saturday for London with 13,000 barrels; the Danvers took 8,500 on the 12th, and the Tug had 7,600. There will be weekly shipments hereafter for the season.

The Dominion Atlantic Ry office at 28 Washington Street, Boston, is fast becoming a centre toward which Provincials living here, and those visiting Boston, wander whenever news is wanted or information required "down home." The latest and most commendable idea is having papers on hand from every part of the province. Cape Bretoners, New Brunswickers and P. E. Islanders can be well acquainted with home news as Nova Scotians. These papers are free to be read by every one and Mr. Masters, Boston agent, extends a most cordial invitation to everyone to drop in and avail themselves of the opportunity to keep in touch with down home news.

The Provincial editors, through whose kindness these papers are sent, are kindly asked to make this known through the columns of the respective papers, for the information of their many readers.

The Yarmouth Exhibition. The Western Divisional Exhibition of Nova Scotia, under the authority of the Provincial Government, which is to open at Yarmouth on Wednesday next and continuing for three days, gives promise of being one of the best ever held in Nova Scotia. The cash prizes of $5,000 are attracting a lot of attention, and already entries are going in very freely to the secretary from nearly all the counties. For the benefit of those who wish to attend the D. A. R. will run a cheap excursion from Kentville and all intermediate points on Wednesday next, returning same evening.

All the Way From Nova Scotia. The Albuquerque (New Mexico) Register, Sept. 20th says: Prof. W. W. Ward, who was principal of the Las Cruces public schools last year—elected to be the best school that town ever had—on Oct. 1st this morning from his old home in Nova Scotia, to enter the Normal department of the University. Prof. Ward is already a graduate of a normal school in Canada, and expects to take his degree in New Mexico in one year. The normal class for this year will be a strong one.

—Since 1850 the mortality from consumption in England has decreased more than one-half. In the year mentioned above there were 2,984 per million inhabitants; now it is only 1,082. Modern sanitation and scientific methods of combating disease have largely improved the conditions of life. Some day they will triumph even over consumption. —Vice-Admiral Sir John Hopkins, who was at Halifax in 1892 in command of the North Atlantic fleet, has been promoted to the command of the Mediterranean squadron in place of Admiral Seston, retired from active service. The Mediterranean squadron will sail in forcing the Dardanelles should England resolve to act against Turkey as now seems immediately probable.

—Richardson (Kentucky) says: Rev. Father Wilkins, who for the past four years has pastored the Episcopalian church in this city, has accepted a similar call at Maryville, Mo., and will shortly leave for his new charge. Father Wilkins has been a most faithful and earnest worker in the Master's service here, and his departure will occasion much regret among his flock. —Miss Mina A. Belleville ladies have already won an enviable reputation for the excellence of their socials, and should the day prove successful doubtless many of our citizens will avail themselves of the beautiful drive and the hospitality of our Graniteville friends.

The Annie Kempton Monument.

T. N. Stanton, of Stanton Bros., St. John, was in New River last week supervising the erection of the Annie Kempton monument. The monument is of sarcophagus style and when completed will be very handsome. It consists of two bases, upon which rests the top of polished granite. The first base is rough and is 4 feet 6 inches long, 2 feet 4 inches wide and 1 foot 6 inches high. The next base, slightly smaller, is made of polished granite. On this rests the top. The faces of the top are very highly polished and beautifully chiseled. The monument is all of gray granite and its entire height is 5 feet 10 inches. The inscription which is to be placed upon it is as follows:

ERECTED TO THE MEMORY OF ANNE KEMPTON, who was murdered in her father's house in a desperate struggle to preserve her chastity, January 27, 1866. The subscribers hereby express their profound respect for the heroine who maintained up to death the sacred honor of womanhood, one of the highest virtues of Christian civilization.

—Arrangements have been made by the St. John Exhibition Association with the world-renowned Hand Fireworks people to furnish a series of pyrotechnic displays on six evenings during the show. The materials are now stored in the Exhibition building, and provide for some of the best fireworks ever seen in the Maritime Provinces. Many novel features will be introduced, and no expense has been spared in providing for one of the most magnificent exhibitions in that line that has yet been witnessed.

—There is some talk of erecting a monument to the memory of the late Alexander MacKenzie, on Parliament square, Ottawa, Canada, and it is not unlikely that a monument erected to the memory of a man who by sheer force of diligence and ability rose to the highest position in his adopted country. —A full attendance of the members of Crescent Lodge, I.O.O.F., is requested for Monday evening next. The first degree will be conferred and other business of importance will be transacted.
