VISIT OF C. W. N. A. MUCH ENJOYED

Weekly Publishers From All Parts of Canada Gather At Halifax—Aims of Association.

A notable event of the past week was the visit of officers and members of the Canadian Weekly Press Association which held its annual gathering at Halifax. This body includes some 550 publishers from all over Canada and beyond to Newfoundland. The visit of the party was necessarily brief but we believe they enjoyed the hospitable extended, and experienced many changes of preconceived ideas of Eastern Canada. The visiting pressmen and their wives to the number of two hundred arrived at St. John John on Saturday crossing over to Digby on Sunday where they were shown such attentions as could be given in the course of an hour. At Annapolis a short cop not on the schedule was made and the party viewed Fort Anne. At Kentville about a hundred autos from that town, Wolfville and surroundings took the visitors through to Grand Pre where a half hour was spent on historic spots. The Mayor and 300 citizens gave a welcome at Windsor. The train arrived in Halifax about eleven o'clock Sunday night. Monday and Tuesday were spent in general business and enjoying the hospitality of the city. This included auto drives, civic reception, band concert and dance at the Waegwoick, reception and tea at Sherif Hall by the governors of Dalhousie, luncheon by the Government of Nova Scotia to the Association directors, sail on the harbor and on Tuesday night the Press Special left for Sydney, where the newspaper men were greeted with the abundant hospitality for which Cape Breton is noted. Visits were made to the steel plant and a trip was taken up the Bras D'Or Lakes. Some hours were spent at New Glasgow, shorter time at Truro, Amherst and other towns, then proceeding through P.E.I. before going West again.

The next Annual Meeting is to be held in Quebec City, after which a party limited to 150 will proceed to Europe and spend a month in the British Isles and on the continent.

The Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association has as its aim and interest the betterment of the weekly newspaper of the Dominion. The membership is now over 500, having representatives in every province and practically every county.

The main idea is for the unification and information from an editorial standpoint, to educate the men directly responsible for the publication of the weekly newspapers. It is an attempt to educate the editors about every part of Canada. To teach the East the needs of the West, and the West the needs of the East. The whole convention, with the travel involved, is a very enjoyable one, entertainment is considered one of the side issues, the paramount one being to gain knowledge that will aid in making the Canadian home papers greater powers for good. By yearly meeting their brothers of the press from all parts, discussing common problems and ideals, the tone of the press will be raised higher and its scope broadened.

Mrs. Herman Bent, of Salem, Colchester Co., and Miss B. M. Small and little Jeal Graham, of Amherst, have been spending a couple of weeks in town, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dalrymple.

YOUNG'S COVE

School Principal Joseph E. Steadman and wife, of Bear River, spent June 23rd, with his parents here. His father, Mr. Allen Steadman, has been sick since last November. Miss Beulah Steadman, teacher at Upper Granville, also spent the day at home. There seems very little improvement in their father's health.

Mr. Frank Clayton is having several hundred cords of old pulpwood cut into lath at Criss Cove and shipping from here to St. John. Wm. Sarty & Sons have moved their mill there and are doing the sawing.

Mr. Sarty's little son, Chester, while tending one of the saws last Tuesday, got the end of one of his fingers cut off.

Allen Steadman has several men working on Criss Cove wharf putting on the covering and other finishing work.

About four weeks ago the old Baxter home, Young's Cove, East, was burned with all contents. Mr. Baxter, aged about sixty years, the proprietor, had made a fire and went to a neighbor's house for some milk when the house took fire and nothing could save it. It turned out he had over $300 burned, a life's savings. His neighbors picked up about $50 in coins, mostly silver, from the water in the cellar where it had fallen, also two charred rolls of bills, too badly burned to be of any good. No one thought he had more than a few dollars.

Having buried her husband, an elderly lady was sorting out his belongings when she unexpectedly found an insurance policy for $5,000. So grateful did she feel that she went at once and ordered a large tombstone to be erected with the words "Rest in Peace" inscribed thereon. When she later presented the policy to the insurance company she was informed that it had lapsed the previous year. Finding that she could not cancel the order for the tombstone, she instructed the sculptor to carve on it the additional words, "I'll We Meet Again."

COURT DOCKET MOSTLY CRIMINAL

Very Small Civil Docket—Charles Sims Gets Five Years in Dorchester—Other Cases.

A number of cases went over to a sitting to be held at Annapolis on July 26th, included in these was the case of Ernest S. Freeman and the Royal Bank of Canada, and the case of Charles Wilson, charged with manslaughter at Clementsport when the auto which he was driving collided with another car causing the death of Mrs. Warren, of Digby. A settlement was arrived at in the non-jury causes.

In the case of the King vs. Fred T. Nichols, of Upper Clements, shooting with intent to murder Kenneth Thibideau, his stepson. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty, but on the count of causing bodily harm conviction was made and the defendant was sentenced to two months in jail and bound over to keep the peace for two years. This will be recalled as a case in which Nichols was charged with wounding his stepson during an alleged altercation at the Nichols home at Upper Clements.

In the cases arising out of the Ingelwood discoveries. The King vs. Eddie Bauckman, unlawful carnal knowledge, a verdict of guilty was found and a sentence of two months in jail was imposed by Justice Ritchie. The penalty given was three years in the one, and two years in the other, sentences to run concurrently.

In the case of Harold Sims, fourteen year old son of Charles Sims, for unlawful carnal knowledge, a verdict of guilty was found and the accused was given two years in the Industrial School. Attorney General W. J. O'Hearn was present during the court sessions and spoke very strongly in these revolving cases, the three girls in the case ranging from ten years to under sixteen.

In the case of the King vs. Edward O'Brien, assault, a sentence of three months in jail was given.

In the case of King vs. Raymond Lewis, breaking, entering and theft, no bill was returned.

BEAR RIVER CLAIMS BALL GAME BY DEFAULT

The news conveyed in a despatch from Bear River to the Halifax papers to the effect that Bear River claimed by default the regular league game of baseball which was to have been played on Wednesday last at Bear River between that town and Bridgetown created a considerable amount of surprise here in baseball circles. Jack Malcolm, Bridgetown's pitcher, was ill, and on the Bear River management being notified of this fact and a request made to postpone the game, a favorable reply was given and the question considered settled. The next news in this connection was furnished the public in the despatch referred to above.

It is felt that some explanation is due on the matter as the present state of affairs shows rather poor sportsmanship in Bear River baseball circles.
