

able book, and is clear up to the present time. The description and comparison of the variety of methods of gardening under glass, commencing with the cold frames, then taking up cold forcing houses, next forcing houses with steam pipes or flues, and finally discussing the respective merits of steam and hot water, is worth to any gardener a ten dollar bill, to say nothing about the rest of the book. The engravings are beautiful: the print is second to none; and best of all, the author is a practical gardener—one who loves the dirt, especially when it is enriched up to its highest capacity, and who evidently loves every tool used in the garden. He is not only conversant with all the new seeds, plants and fertilizers, but he evidently has read up almost everything written in the agricultural papers on the subject of market gardening. The book is 6 inches wide, 10 inches long, $\frac{3}{4}$ inch thick, and contains 272 pages, and ever so many pictures. The price is \$2, post paid.

LIFE MEMBERS OF THE N. A. B. K. A.

There are now twelve life members of the N. A. B. K. A., and the prospects are that there will be a number of others almost immediately. Perhaps some Canadian Bee-keepers would like to become members for life, and for the information of such we may say that the fee is $10.00, which, when sent to the Secretary, Mr. C. P. Dadant, Hamilton, Ill., will be acknowledged. It is now 10 years since the senior editor of THE CANADIAN BEE JOURNAL became a life member, and in this time there are at least a score of others who have regularly attended and who have as regularly paid $1 per annum, and now they have, many of them, paid $10 for life membership. The two old heads of the A. B. J. and O. B. J. looked ahead you see! Here are the names of those who are now on the list in their order of joining:

D. A. Jones, Beeton, Ont.
 Thomas G. Newen, Chicago, Ill.
 A. I. Root, Medina, Ohio.
 E. R. Root, Medina, Ohio.
 J. T. Calvert, Medina, Ohio.
 Charles Dadant, Hamilton, Ill.
 C. P. Dadant, Hamilton, Ill.
 Eugene Secor, Forest City, Iowa.
 Dr. C. C. Miller, Marengo, Ill.
 O. R. Coe, Windham, N. Y.
 C. F. Muth, Cincinnati, Ohio.
 A. N. Draper, Chicago, Ill.
