My "Bike" and I.

BY JOHN IMRIE, TORONTO, CANADA.

My "Bike" and I are comrades dear
As we roam the country o'er,
We know not worry, care, or fear,
While we Nature's haunts explore:—
Chorus—Whirr! whirr! whirr!
Swift as on wings we fly;
Whirr! whirr! whirr!
My trusty "Bike" and I.

We leave the city far behind
With its pomp, and pride, and show;
With love and beauty store the mind
As we feel health's ruddy glow:—
Chorus—Whirr! whirr! whirr!

The trees bow welcome as we pass,
And the glad leaves clap their hands;
Sweet flowers peck at us from the grass
As we rush through fertile lands:—
Chorus—Whirr! whirr! whirr!

A grateful prayer our hearts express
As we view God's goodly earth:
He knows we love Him none the less
When our hearts are full of mirth:—
Chorus—Whirr! whirr! whirr!

When evening zephyrs gently blow
We seek our well-earned rest,
Then home we hie at sunset's glow
With a bouquet at our breast:—
Chorus—Whirr! whirr! whirr!

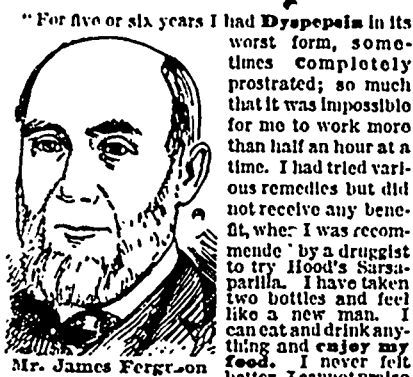

My "Bike" gives courage, joy and health,
As we spin in God's free air;
Enjoying these I've nature's wealth,
More rich than a millionaire:—
Chorus—Whirr! whirr! whirr!

JOHN IMRIE'S POEMS, containing about 400 pages, neatly bound in cloth and gold, will be sent, post free, on receipt of one dollar. IMRIE, GRAHAM & Co., 31 Church St., Toronto, Canada. Only a few copies left.

THE Ontario Gazette announces that the British American Business College Company of Toronto (limited), has been incorporated with a capital of $10,000, and we notice that the proprietors are all business men of wealth and influence. As might be expected a change of proprietors brings about a complete change in the course of study. The schoolroom is now practically a large business office, and the work is that of a book-keeper from the start rather than that of a student in the old-fashioned college. In a word, the student handles and makes out all the papers in the office, and, as it were, grows up with the business, really becoming a part of it.
Students with this sort of training will not experience the difficulty they have in the past in making a start in business houses.
The shareholders of this institution comprise such men as S. Caldecott, Pres. Toronto
Board of Trade; F. R. C. Clarkson, Chartered Accountant; Wm. McCabe, Managing Director North American Life Assurance Co.; Frederick Wyld, wholesale dry goods merchant; Edward Trout, President Monetary Times Printing Co.; D. E. Thomson, barrister, and S. F. McKinnon, wholesale milliner. The great advantages of attending a business college owned and controlled by such practical men are too apparent to be questioned for one moment.
