

agriculture to one side". That bad habit has now been changed. And for that, Canada can take a lot of credit.

Whether the challenge is selling mushrooms in Switzerland, or getting agriculture in the GATT, or applying oil field technology in Asia, global market places spell opportunity for Alberta and are waiting for us to approach them with the kind of initiative and confidence that are the characteristics of this province.