

Visit of President Eisenhower

gradual evolution towards individual and collective security, so intelligently sponsored by the present Prime Minister and his immediate predecessor.

(Text):

On motion of Mr. Drew the debate was adjourned.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER*INCLUSION OF ADDRESS TO BOTH HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT IN PROCEEDINGS OF TODAY

Right Hon. L. S. St. Laurent (Prime Minister): Mr. Speaker, before moving the adjournment of the house I should like to take just a moment to express what I know is to each and every one of us the great satisfaction we are deriving from the present visit of the President of the United States and Mrs. Eisenhower. Although the President's visit is to be a very short one he has agreed to address a meeting of both houses of parliament, and it has been arranged that he will be here at eleven o'clock tomorrow morning to address us in this chamber. Of course it will not be a formal meeting of the house but I am sure we will all want to take advantage of the opportunity of meeting and hearing this great man who has in the last few years meant so much to the free nations of the world and who is still in a position to do so much for the free nations of the world.

I think most hon. members would be glad to have the text of the address we will hear from him tomorrow and if I have the unanimous consent of the house I would move, so that it might be done at once and be available in the report of today's proceedings:

That the address of the President of the United States of America, Mr. Dwight D. Eisenhower, to be delivered before the members of the Senate and of the House of Commons on November 14, 1953, together with the introductory and related speeches, be included in the House of Commons debates as an appendix and thus form part of the records of this parliament.

If that motion were passed today the Clerk of the House would find in it authority to have the text of the President's address as soon as it is available printed as an appendix to our proceedings and we might have it available on Monday.

Motion agreed to.

BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE

Mr. St. Laurent: I move the adjournment of the house.

On Monday afternoon we will continue consideration of the speech from the throne.

Motion agreed to and the house adjourned at 3.47 p.m.