

We were sorry to meet yesterday that you were not well.

We should and I think that everybody would have missed you terribly, had you been unable to be present.

We are thankful to you for having come, notwithstanding your indisposition, and more than thankful for the kind and happy words, in which you have characterized our son's short career.
You had understood him remarkably well!