

we bring to you?" The following day the two beginners were increased to six and they came each day with various letters of the alphabet until they knew them by sight and could do as some of their clever children did—write.

Let us here take into serious consideration two quotations, the first from one of Miss Baker's letters given in the annual report of the W. F. M. S. of 1891-2. She says: "Oh, what strength it imparts to know that we have the sympathy and prayers of so many faithful followers of the Master; it makes us feel assured that the time will come when these poor heathen shall be brought into the fold. We feel, and know, how feebly the seed is sown, but God's Holy Spirit can cause it to bring forth fruit."

The other is from "The Story of Our Missions," by Mrs. MacGillivray. She says: "Miss Baker started the work in 1874 and continued until 1905 when she retired owing to ill health. The station was kept open for a few years; but owing to the difficulty of finding a missionary it was closed by advice of the
