

Q. Yes.

A. While your conditions in Western Ontario are very different from ours, and in some seasons it would be quite safe to plant trees in the fall, yet as you are never sure of the kind of winter you are going to have, I think it is much safer to plant in the spring.

Having read over the preceding transcript of my evidence I find it correct.

WM. SAUNDERS,
Director Dominion Experimental Farms.