

	PAGE.
16. Memorandum by Dr. Daniel Wilson, President of the Canadian Institute, for transmission with second issue of Mr. Sandford Fleming's papers, by His Excellency the Governor-General. (April 5th, 1880)	40
17. Note from His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada, transmitting Mr. Sandford Fleming's papers, together with Report of the American Metrological Society, to various Scientific Societies in Europe. (May 12th, 1880)	43
18. The Imperial Academy of Sciences, St. Petersburg, to His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada. (Oct. 29th, 1880).....	44
19. Report to the Imperial Academy of Science, St. Petersburg, by M. Otto Struve, Director of the Astronomical Observatory at Pultowa. (Sept. 30th, 1880)	45
20. Remarks presented with a Spanish Translation of Mr. Sandford Fleming's papers, by Don Juan Pastorin, Lieutenant-Commander of the Spanish Navy. (April 30th, 1881)	49
21. The Geographical Society of Berlin. Remarks upon a Normal Time to be common to the whole earth, by Dr. G. v. Boguslawski. (1881)	52
22. Address by Mr. Sandford Fleming, Delegate of the Canadian Institute and the American Metrological Society, at the International Geographical Congress at Venice. (September 21st, 1881)	56
23. Remarks on the Cosmopolitan scheme for regulating Time, by Prof. Simon Newcomb, Superintendent of Nautical Almanac, Washington. (1882)	64
24. The Italian Geographical Society. Examination of the scheme of Time reform, by M. Ferdinando Borsari. (1883)	64
25. Report on the Washington International Conference, to the Canadian Government, by Mr. Sandford Fleming, Delegate of Great Britain, representing Canada. (31st December, 1884) ..	67
26. Appendix to Report on the Washington Conference	74
27. His Excellency the Governor-General, Canada, to the President of the Canadian Institute.....	83
28. The Earl of Derby, Colonial Secretary, London, to His Excellency, the Marquis of Lansdowne, Governor-General of Canada. (March 17th, 1885)	83
29. Observations on the Resolutions of the Washington Meridian Conference. By M. Otto Struve, Pultowa, Russia	84