EXHIBITION FLAG INCIDENT.

Directors Regret That Erroneous Idea Has Been Spread Abroad.

At an exhibition board meeting yesterday with Vice-President George H. Gooderham in the chair, it was moved by John A. Cooper, seconded by H. R. Frankland, that "the directors desire to express their regret at the discussion which has taken place with regard to flying of the United States flag at the exhibition on Americans Day, and to inform the public that no United States flag was hoisted on the administration building, which is considered to be the official position. A United States flag was flown, but in an unofficial way, just as has been the custom during the past twenty-seven years.

The sale at the regular Tuesday's fixture at The Repository was first-class in every way. Senator Edwards, Rockland. Ontario, purchased eighteen fine big blocks, from fourteen to sixteer hundred pounds. Charles Greer, Port Arthur, was on haid to pick out a number of extra fine heavy chunks. The Canadian Express Co. purchased a grand big bay gelding, and the Coleman Baking Co. purchased a team well worth the money. The demand for heavy young blocks is extra good at the present time, the firm saying they are unable to get horses enough to supply the market. They have enquiry from the west for a carload of heavy workers, and cannot place the horses. Peterson Lake Silver Cobait Mining Co., Ltd.

The regular Monday sale of this week at the Canadian Horse Exchange brought five carloads of as good horses as one could wish to see under the hammer. P. Jackson, a new shipper to the Exchange, reports business most favorable in Toronto. Previously he has shipped his horses to the Montreal market, but has now laid definite plans to become a regular shipper to the Exchange. Isaac Williamson was on the market with a carload of good general-purpose horses, together with a capital purpose horses, together with a capital good pattern, breedy-looking, and air to quite green, able to show a 30 clip. DEBENTURES MUST CARRY HIGHER INTEREST RATES.

World Office, Tuesday, Sept. 25.

Bonds and debentures are a drug in the money markets, both of Canada and the United States. Municipal and corporate expenditures are growing on at an enormous rate, and contributing to the use of funds faster than they are accumulating. With money to the use of funds faster than they are accumulating. With money on excellent securities returning on an average of 8 per cent., it should cause no surprise that municipal debentures, even of communities of the best of standing, are slow of sale and have to carry a higher interest rate than has been the case previously. Municipalities which could borrow on a 4 per cent. basis a few years ago will find it difficult to finance at the present time at 412 per cent., altho the security may be even more gilt-edged than it was formerly. The money market is subject solely to the old-time regulator, that of supply and demand. A cessation in the demands for business accommodation and a general slackening in the manufacture of investments will gradually relieve the financial strain, when bonds and debentures will be more wanted than they are now. There was a theory among financiers a few years ago that interest rates were gradually declining, but the history of the last three years does not accord with this idea, and the tremendous development going on thruout the world promises to retard the process if it is really in process of formation.

while sentiment continues quite bullish, the crowd in general/appear to be playing for a reaction.

For the present we advise taking profits on bulges with a view to replacing on recessions.

Ennis & Stoppani wired to J. L. Mitchell. McKinton Buliding:

Wheat—Has been dull all day, averaging a shade lower than resterday's close, with very little of general interest in the market. Cash prices were about 1/4c lower for both spring and winter wheat and on the hard spots there appears to be long wheat for sale. Receipts from the Northwest were some larger and the Minneapolis market showed a downward tendency. Duluth reported a better enquiry from abroad. As a whole the market was unattractive, with no change of importance in the general situation.

Receipts from the Northwest were some larger and the Minneapolis market showed a downward tendency. Duluth reported a better enquiry from abroad. As a whole the market was unattractive, with no change of importance in the general situation.

Corn and Oats—Responded to continued support, with cash prices an advance of from 1/2 to 1/2 per bushel. The present larger receipts of corn seems to be due in part to the arrival of several hundred cars which have been tied up on the Northwestern road. We can only reaffirm our previous advice to buy these cereals on every little setback, for the legitimate situation is such that they are destined for higher prices.

and moved within a narrow range thruout the day. Cables were steady; the export demand has improved, altho there is not any large quantity of wheat being worked as yet. The outside markets were a little easier to-day, and this caused a corresponding feeling in Chicago, but the recessions were only small fractions. The market possesses a very good undertone and we think advantage should be taken of all recessions to make purchases.

Winnipeg—Market firm and wheat in fairly good demand, but as far as we can let rn it is not yet on a workable basis for export. We do not care to recommend purchases of Manitoba wheats at this level.

Corn—Firm, particularly the Sept. options which scored a good advance on buying by Bartlett Frizzier and which caused a lot of shorts to run to cover. On any setback buy May corn.

Outs—Showed independent strength throout the day. It does not seem to us as the there would be any break to speak of in this cerenl, and as we have said for some time back, buy oats.
