LAMILTON APPENINGS

NOT HYDROPHOBIA, BUT A SIMILAR DISEASE

Victim is Five-Year-Old Girl -Moulders Strike is Still On.

HAMILTON, Aug. 2.-(Special.)-The scare which was created to-day by the report that another case of hydrophobia had been discovered in this city, was exploded to-night by a state ment purporting to come from the, physicians in the case, that it was not a case of hydrophobia, but was some similar disease. The victim is fiveyear-old Marie Mitchell, whose par-ents reside at 253 North Wentworth-She exhibited symptoms of what was supposed to be hydrophobia to-day, and was hurried to the hospital. Drs. Parry and Langrill thought it was a case of hydrophobia; but declared that theye would be unable to tell for certain until to-night. What the similar disease is, with which is said the doctors have discovered the child to be affected, could not

The periodical reminder that the moulder's strike is still on in some of the shops, was delivered this evening when Robt. Stephenson, 430 North Ferguson-avenue, was arrested for an alleged attack on Wm. Jones, a nonunion moulder, at the D. Moore foun-dry. Stephenson is one of the union nen who have been on strike for over tie Tabb, who was killed by a bullet from a revolver in the hands of her cousin, James Sibbald of Toronto, last week, was held to-night, and a verdict of accidental death was returned.

The works' committee of the city council had 47 items on the order pa per to-night, and it was nearly mid er. A deputation of west end residents threatened to sue the city for damages from the flooding of their premises, unless something was done to enlarge the Main-street sewer. The committee informed the deputation that as soon as it could be learned what proportion of the cost of a general west end sewer the government was going to bear, a new sewer was to be built. Miss Jeanette Lewis' request for permission for a stand on the southeast corner of the city hall, for the purpose of selling brick paper weights, on the ground that it would result in an obstruction was decided to ask the Dominion protection to the approaches to the Hunter-street tunnel. The request of the waterworks foreman for an in-crease in pay was referred to a special committee. As no offer had been resucker, nothing could be done regard. R. A. Smith, Kagawong, Ont., $5; J. L. ing it.

WROTE TO THE CORONER

Dumas, Sought by Police in Baby Brown Case, is in Cleveland-Jury Alleges Neglect

Negligence on the part of C. R. Dumas and wife was blamed by the jury at the morgue last night for the death of Walter Brown, the illegitimate child of Nellie Goodwin, who died at 3 Gerrard-place on July 2. The jury recommended that in all cases of illegitimacy, where young girls were placed in maternity homes, the case should be reported to the police.

Dumas was heard from. He wrote a letter to Dr. George W. Graham, the coroner, dating the letter at Buffalo.

N.Y., July 27, and finishing and mailing it at Cleveland, Ohio. The letter says that when they received the child it was very emaciated. The Goodwin family expressed themselves as not wanting to have anything further to do with it. The child had several diseases, and they were of the opinion that it also had consumption. opinion that it also had consumption.
The letter showed that Dumas was familiar with medicine, as he used a number of technical terms in explaining the child's complaints. It also said that a doctor who was called was of the opinion that the child was an idiot and could not live. Dumas said he would receive letters addressed to him at the general delivery, Cleveland.

Jonathan Goodwin of 222 Annettestreet, brother of the mother of the deceased infant, said he knew the father of the child by sight. He saw him walking with Nellie Goodwin one evening in June, 1909. As he wished to make sure that he would know the fellow again, he followed the pair for some distance. He saw the fellow sev-eral times after that. Nellie had told eral times after that. Nellie had told him the name given by the father of the child, James Brown, and he stopped him on the street and asked if that was his name. He was answered in the affirmative. The fellow was of medium height. The money paid to the Dumas family amounted to $60, of which $10 was for clothes.

LAURA JEAN LIBBEY IS UN VAUDEVILLE STAGE

Advises Maidens Ferlern, Commends Widows' Ways and Cautions Widowers.

YORK, Aug. 2.4-Looking as young and charming as one of the b-e-y-u-tiful heroines of her "seventy novels and eighty plays," to quote the veracious press agent, Laura Jean Libbey discoursed twice yesterday to the patrons of the American Roof Garden

"What is love that all the world Talks so much about it? What is love, that neither you

Maidens lovelorn and al she asked. forlorn who for full ten years-Laura admiration, while the masculine por-tion of the audience leaned back and looked toward that part of the hall to which the youthful ushers refer during the intermission as "Promenade and cafe to the left."

Laura Jean expressed the view that merican girls were too shy, and advised them to take a lesson from the "Merry Widow's" book. "A widow does not give her admirer time to calculate," she continued. 'She's more apt to say, "Are you thinking something sweet

The coy way in which this was said. with the shy glance from under a pretty white bonnet with broad tulle bow. made the men sit up and take notice. "Modesty in a pretty young girl is the rose bloom that jewels existence. But there are occasions a psychological moment—when you must help your own cause," was another of the pearls of wisdom which the gifted author laid pefore her audience, and she recalled Priscilla's advice to John Aiden as a sample.

"Wedded bliss is the sweetest, tenderest in the world when the hearts are truly mated," sighed the monologist, and there was an answering sigh

Advice to widowers was also dispensed, but with a caution. "I believe good men who have shown true appreciation of wedded life can love again, as the tree buds and blossoms a second time.
I don't believe in rapid fire remarrying. like the man over in Brooklyn who wedded when his wife was dead only a week. I asked him why he did that. He answered: 'Well, isn't she as dead in a week as she would be in a year?" But the real thrill came when at the end of her monologue, Miss Libbey announced that she would recite—not sing—the words of a song which she had composed, entitled: "Lovers Once but Strangers Now." The first verse passed off quietly enough. The chorus, however, was rendered with such pathos and feeling that the man at the bass viol, who had evidently lately been in the orchestra of a melodrama house, straightened up and drew his bow to produce the "soft and low" until his neighbor restrained his arm, as the author recited the verse: "Lovers once but strangers now, The pledged with many a tender vow Still I'd give this world to be All that I was once—to thee!"
