

While on my way to Jacksonville I was informed of the death of the late president of that Branch—Mr. John Simonson—and that no meeting had been appointed ; also a gathering in another interest precluded any movement at that time on behalf of the Bible Society. I am afraid that my correspondence since my visit has failed in its aim.

Lakeville and Bloomfield were again visited and addressed. I held two meetings in Centreville Branch. That at Tracy's Mills was largely attended and promises were freely made of a general canvass for our cause.

It rained heavily when at Bristol and our meeting there was a failure. At Glassville I got a good collection and as usual was treated with much kindness.

Although there was another meeting at Hartland during my visit we had a fair gathering.

At Victoria Corner we had also a fair meeting, and the promise of a wide canvass. As usual I received the kind attention of the president and his family.

At Northampton I was glad again to meet my old friend the president, who never fails to gather funds for the circulation of that Book whose precious truths are treasured in his memory and are the joy of his heart.

At Prince William and vicinity I experienced the most generous attention of the Rev. Wm. Ross. I addressed three meetings in his extensive parish, and I hope to see another large contribution from our new friends there.

I paid two visits to Sheffield and was the recipient of much kindness from some of the friends of that most loyal and liberal Branch. At Gagetown the meeting was small but very encouraging.

Very few came to the meeting at Wickham, but there were good assemblies at Jerusalem and Hampstead. At the latter place our Society has lost a good friend by the death of Mr. Albert Palmer, who was for many years its devoted Secretary.

At Douglas Harbour the meeting was good and the speeches of our friends there as usual excellent.

I held two meetings at Cambridge Branch, where I was kindly entertained as usual and conveyed from place to place by my old friends.

The
although stormy reach

The
present

I sp
Mills a

We l
which l
Preside
standing soon of

Belle
they ne

I hel
had a l

Harv
they a has los
its pres
by thei
the last

The usual c always intellig
ladies o
their c

The further that th

Coca
munity
quent c

McL
done w

On t draws,

From