PAULINE AT THE YORK.

Last Evening He Astonished His Audience by Some Wonderful Demonstrations.

Pauline the hypnotist, was greeted by a large audience at the York Theatre, again last night, and he made an even deeper impression than on Monday evening. His work along the lines of telepathy or thought transference was of the sensational order and made even the most skeptical sit up and take notice. Several startling demonstrations were given and in each case were highly successful. The second portion of the programme, consisted of hypnotic work. Pauline selected a number of subjects from the audience and what he did not make them do is hardly worth talking about. In this line as well as his telepathic work Pauline has set a new standard for St. John. This work is of the sort that compels attention by all who are interested in the various phases of hypnotism, mesmerism or suggestive therapeutics.

SUDDEN DEATH OF DAVID BROWN.

Well Known St. John Citizen Passed Quickly Away in the Queen Hotel, Fredericton.

David Brown who was formerly in the harness-making business on Charlotte St., died suddenly in the Queen Hotel, Fredericton, shortly after midnight. He left here yesterday afternoon for Upper Keswick to consult Dr. Marchese, who had been treating him for indigestion. Mr. Brown was not well when he returned to the Queen hotel office about 8.45 p. m. Although he did not then complain, of illness, it was evident that he was weak, for his hands trembled as he wrote his signature on the register. He was shown to his room and about midnight succumbed to the arrival of Mr. Brown had passed away. Heart trouble is believed to have been the cause. Coroner McKewen was notified, and decided an inquest to be unnecessary and a message was also sent by Mr. McCaffrey to the family of deceased, who reside at 98 Elliot row. Mr. Brown was born in Paradise about fifty-five years ago. His business life was spent practically in this city. His harness making establishment was one of the largest and best in this province, and the building in Charlotte street occupied by it is now the quarters of James Sterling, harness and saddlery manufacturer. Mr. Brown is survived by his wife and two children. The former was Miss Jessie M. Skillen, sister of William E. Skillen, St. Martins. The children are Fenwick D., a pupil in the High School, and Miss Gladys S. living at home. Brothers of deceased are Andrew, of Paradise row, and George, of Hampton, who for years has conducted a harness business there. The news came to the family of deceased about 12.30 o'clock this morning, and was a terrible shock. Mr. Brown was an excellent type of citizen, a member of Centenary church, and a great many will join with the afflicted family in mourning the loss of so representative a man. The body was brought to the city by noon train today, arrangements having been made by deceased's son, and W. E. Skillen, who happened to be at the Royal, and was informed of the sad occurrence.

THE WATER SUPPLY THUS FAR IS GOOD.

Superintendent Murdoch, of the St. John water works, was called upon by a Times reporter this morning and sufficiently to let the summit house, Sterling, harness and saddlery manufacturer. He said they were all right if the winter atmosphere service did not prove too severe. Last year there was considerable trouble with the water service, but owing to the excessively cold weather there were numerous breaks in the water pipes. The inspectors were out earlier last winter. The first notice issued was on Dec. 19th. The inspectors were then put on call for several weeks looking for waste water, and for which, if a tenant is convicted the penalty is not trivial. Mr. Murdoch said that the water supply is better than it was during the night, in case of a tenant not looking for waste water, and for which, if a tenant is convicted the penalty is not trivial. Mr. Murdoch said that the water supply is better than it was during the night, in case of a tenant not looking for waste water, and for which, if a tenant is convicted the penalty is not trivial.

SERG. MAJ. SCHOOF.

Tells of an Indian with Four Wives—A Strapping Maiden.

Sergt. Major Gustaf, Schoof, who has been in the city since Saturday, left this morning for Fredericton, where he will deliver a series of lectures. A Times representative met Mr. Schoof this morning and in conversation with him asked when he would return to Alberta. He said: "I will return there next May and will settle in McLeod, a place which is just starting to build up. There are splendid opportunities there for young men." "Are there any Indians in McLeod?" asked the representative. "There are a few," replied Mr. Schoof, "they are all civilized and are employed as servants with the white people." "I have an Indian servant who is 80 years old, and he is just as spry as many a younger man." "Does he live with you?" "No, he lives with his wives." "Has he more than one wife?" "Yes, he has four. He has a daughter who is, as far as I know, the biggest woman in the Canadian West. She is 6 feet, 4 inches tall, weighs 200 pounds, and wears a number 10 wooden boot. Her name is Nega Van Burga. Her Mataids, No. 2 Braise. She works in the fields, making hay, and associates generally with the men." Mr. Schoof showed the Times' man a picture of this young lady, and she is without doubt, one of the largest women in the world.

A MAN FROM THE WEST.

H. F. Holmes of Rat Portage arrived in the city yesterday, and is staying at the Royal. Mr. Holmes resided at Andover in his early life, but went west about twenty-seven years ago. Mr. Holmes was the first mayor of Rat Portage, and at one time published the Rat Portage Progress, although his time was never given exclusively to the newspaper business. For many years he occupied an important position with the C. P. R., and later with Foley Bros., Larsen & Co., the big railway contractors. For the past few years Mr. Holmes has been interested in mining enterprises, and it is in this connection that he is visiting New Brunswick at this time. Mr. Holmes has had more than his share of hard luck as regards physical calamity. He has had every rib broken, his legs broken six times, and has lost an arm, but his nerve is as good as ever.

A collection of carols, antiques, etc., loaned by residents of this city, will afford excellent opportunity for study and comparison with the work of our own local artists.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

The Telegraph and Times Publishing Companies take pleasure in announcing the signing of a contract with the Goss Printing Press Company of Chicago for a new Three-deck Goss straight-line 24-page press, with all the latest improvements patented by these celebrated makers, the machine to be installed in the press room of the new Times building, now in course of erection beside The Telegraph office, and to be in operation not later than April 15 next. This splendid press is to be built specially for the Telegraph and Times, and marks another step in the progressive policy adopted by these newspapers. It will print any number of pages up to twenty-four, at high speed, and up to and including twelve pages, it will turn out, folded and ready for mailing 24,000 papers an hour. In addition to the press, The Telegraph and Times will install a complete stereotyping and composing room equipment including the most modern appliances in use in Canada or the United States. The Goss Company, under contract, will equip the press with many late improvements such as are not yet in use on any press in Canada, and the machine is designed to produce, at high speed, a splendidly printed and illustrated newspaper, up to 200 pages in every particular. As readers of The Telegraph and Times are aware a new four story building is being erected beside the present Telegraph building, and the new building and new machinery together will represent the greatest outlay for the purpose ever undertaken by a publisher in the Maritime Provinces. New building, new press, and a greater expenditure for news, the publishers have no doubt will be appreciated by a public which knows news enterprises at sight and wants the best possible value for its money. Further details concerning these and other projected improvements will be announced at a later date.
