PTE. W. D. STEWART
IN SCOTTISH HOSPITAL

Wife, at 27 Clarence Street, Receives Letter — Was Wounded at Courcellette

Private W. D. Stewart, of one of the local infantry units, now in France, in writing to his wife, Mrs. W. D. Stewart, of 27 Clarence street, tells how he was wounded and gives a little idea of the fighting on the Somme. The letter follows:—

Just a few lines to let you know that I am still in the land of the living.

was wounded in the back on September 28 and arrived at the 8th Scottish General Hospital, Glasgow, on October 5. I had a awful journey across here. We were on the Somme when I got mine, in the village of Courcellette. The 26th took that village a few days before that. We were about a mile in advance of the village and made a charge on a German trench, but were repulsed. The casualty list was very heavy, I think.

I am beginning to feel a lot better now. This is a very nice hospital, nothing of too much trouble for them to do. I don't know how poor Frank Curley is making out. I saw him just before I was wounded. Well, I had a long run of it, twelve months and a half altogether, so I cannot grumble. I have the satisfaction of knowing that I got a few of them before they got me. Give my love to all at home.

LOCAL NEWS

APPRAISERS' SALE.
A lot of unclaimed and abandoned goods and sundry other articles were auctioned off in the customs house this morning by Frank L. Potts. Many of the articles brought fair prices.

ON THE RIVER.
The river steamer D. J. Purdy was delayed this morning on her return trip to Fredericton owing to an exceptionally heavy freight brought to the city last evening.

The steamer Hampstead made a special trip to Gagetown yesterday to bring a cargo of hay to the city.

Two scow loads of hay arrived at Indiantown this morning from up river, consigned to North End merchants.

IN ST. PHILIP'S

In St. Philip's church last evening with the pastor in the chair, Hon. R. J. Ritchie gave a talk to the large number who picked the church to capacity. He touched briefly on the war in Flanders and its horrors and also upon the effect of drunkenness in homes. A silver collection was taken during the evening and to this sum was added the proceeds of sale of ice cream and cake, which will all go towards the church fund.

The Man In The Street

Here's to the 180th, St. John's welcome guests.

And here's hoping they will capture as many scalps on the battlefields as they have on the athletic fields.

The khaki uniform—or the lack of it—is taken as the true test of a man's claims to sportsmanship these days.

Australia is to vote this week on the question of the adoption of conscription, but that colony is an island and Canada is not; which may make a difference.

Roosevelt again announces what he would have done to the Germans if he were president; first thing he knows the Kaiser will be striking T. R. off his calling list.

The man whose conscience allows him to pronounce "Verdun" to rhyme with "done," now has a fine mine of low grade puns in which to operate.

Henry Ford raises the pay of his female employees to the same scale as the men. Is Henry looking for the suffrage vote?

When the next Dominion election comes around, the 500 non-resident taxpayers, whose names have been struck off the local voting lists, will find they are just one-half as popular with the politicians as they were in the days when they enjoyed the privilege of voting twice. Some of them will still vote twice if the other fellows don't watch out.

London is now using white paint in the streets to assist traffic in the darkness, due to Zeppelin precautions. This will afford a pleasing contrast to the color which the citizens will paint the old town when the final victory is won.

The morning Conservative newspaper does not seem to like being described as "the government organ." We are willing to admit, after a casual survey of the usual editorial style of the sheet, that no one would call it a parlor organ.

The people who complain about the delay to the Main street paving, while a new catch basin is being constructed, might remember that this is at least one jump ahead of the aldermanic method, which was to lay the pavement first, then tear it up for the underground repairs.

Dr. Frank Smith of this city, who volunteered some time ago for overseas service with the Canadian Dental Corps, has received official notice from Ottawa that his offer has been accepted, and that he has been appointed to the corps with the rank of captain. He also has received instructions to prepare to sail for England before long.

Dr. Smith, who is well known throughout the city, formerly practised in the North End, then removed to Mount Allison where he remained for several years, returning to St. John to take up practice here again, this time associated with his father, Dr. A. D. Smith and his brother, Dr. S. B. Smith.

ST. DAVID'S Y. P. A. HOLDS SEASON'S OPENING SOCIAL

The opening social of the Young People's Association of St. David's Presbyterian church was held last evening in the church lecture room. The affair took the form of a Hallow E'en entertainment and the preparations had been made on an elaborate scale which evoked the appreciation and admiration of the large number who met for the occasion. The lecture room and ante-rooms had been lavishly and appropriately decorated, with due regard to the ghastly atmosphere associated with Hallow E'en, and the same idea was carried out in the arrangements for entertaining. Fortune telling booths and other games of an appropriate nature were provided and were hugely enjoyed.

In addition there was an excellent musical programme consisting of songs by Miss Emma Climo, Miss Blenda Thomson, C. Brook Sifton and E. C. Girvan, piano solo, Mrs. S. Kent Scott and violin solo, W. C. Bowden. Mrs. E. A. Masson was convener of the committee in charge of the arrangements and F. W. Girvan acted as chairman.

CALL FROM ST. JOHN'S, NEWFOUNDLAND, TO
REV. GORDON DICKIE

St. Andrew's Church There Invites Local Minister to Become Pastor

Rev. Gordon Dickie, minister of St. Stephen's Presbyterian church, has received a call to St. Andrew's Presbyterian church in St. John's, Newfoundland. St. Andrew's is the only Presbyterian church in St. John's, and has a large and wealthy congregation, being the leading church of the denomination in the ancient colony. From such a church and coming as unexpectedly as it did, the call is a flattering tribute to the local minister.

Mr. Dickie has not yet had time to reach a decision regarding the call. If he decides to accept, his decision will be received with regret not only by the members of his congregation but by the citizens generally as he has won a high place in the respect and esteem of all those with whom he has come in contact during his stay in St. John.

SOLDIER WRITES OF
PTE. HARTLEY FRENCH

Replies to Anxious Query of Sister For News of St. John Man Reported Missing, Believed Killed

Mrs. James McLeod, of this city, in an attempt to secure some definite information in respect to her brother, Private Hartley French, who was reported missing, believed killed, on June 15, has received the following letter from Private William Andrews, son of Mrs. Hugh Andrews of Metcalfe street, in reply to her query. Private Andrews writes that so far as he could tell he fears that Private French has made the supreme sacrifice, but there is a possibility that he may be a prisoner. The letter explains fully the situation.

France, Sept. 28.
Dear Friend—I am answering the letter I got from you about a month ago, and I hope you will forgive me for not answering it sooner. I am in hospital now and am getting along fine. You asked me to let you know what I could about Hartley, well I will tell you all I know and you can judge for yourself. We were in the trenches at a place called Hooze where all the Canadians met with such heavy losses last June. Well there was a party picked to go out and fetch in the food for the company. They just got on the way when the Germans started in to shell the road. The shelling was very heavy and Graham, Jones and Hartley were not seen or heard of since. He may have gotten shell-shocked and lost his memory, but still his identity card was attached to his uniform. There may be such a thing that he lost it and that he is now in some hospital. Then again there's another alternative, he may be a prisoner of war, but I think he may be reported as such. That is all I can tell you.

PTE. WILLIAM ANDREWS,
26th Battalion.

SOLENN CLOSING OF THE FORTY HOURS DEVOTION

The Forty Hours Devotion in St. Peter's church was brought to a close last evening. His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc officiating, assisted by Rev. A. J. O'Neil of St. Joachim's church, Silver Falls, Rev. P. C. O'Hare, C. S. R., and Rev. J. McDougall, C. S. R. The services, which were very impressive, consisted of the recitation of the Rosary, chanting of the Litany of the Saints, procession of the Most Blessed Sacrament and solemn Benediction.

Those taking part in the procession were the altar boys, led by Rev. John F. Conaghan, C. S. R., children of the Sunday school and members of the married and single men's Holy Families led by Rev. Joseph Borgmann, C. S. R. Twelve small girls immediately preceded the canopy and bearing baskets of flowers, which they scattered in front of the Host, borne by His Lordship. The canopy bearers were Philip Grannan, M. L. A., R. J. Walsh, Alfred Dever and William Kelly. Rev. Peter Costello, C. S. R., rector of the church, led the procession.

At the conclusion of solemn Benediction His Lordship imparted his blessing to all present, after which the hymn "Holy God We Praise Thy Name" was sung in unison. There was a very large attendance.

MRS. WILLIAM NANNARY
DEAD IN FAR WEST

Former St. John Resident Passes Away in San Francisco

Mrs. Teresa Hansen of 28 Douglas avenue, received a telegram last evening informing her of the death of her sister, Mrs. William Nannary of San Francisco, Cal. Mrs. Nannary had been in declining health for some time and her death was not unexpected.

She was a daughter of the late Samuel and Mary Williams of this city, a woman of kindly disposition who was beloved by all who knew her. In her younger days Mrs. Nannary was known for her ability at archery, and she won many handsome trophies while in competition with some of the best shots in the province. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. William H. Daly, better known as May Nannary, and Genevieve Blinn, both of whom have toured America with prominent theatrical companies and are known to many thousands of people, having starred in well known productions in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and other cities in the United States.

Three sons, Edward, James and Raymond, also survive. Miss Mary Nannary of this city is a sister-in-law. The sympathy of a host of friends will go out to the family in their bereavement, especially as Mr. Nannary's death took place only a short time ago.

NOT GOING OVERSEAS.

The Acadia College Bulletin says that Captain George B. Cullen has been transferred to the 24th B. Battalion as second in command. On account of injuries received during his Yale football experience, he has been rejected for overseas service.
