MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

George Atherton died suddenly at Woodstock yesterday, after he had left to spend the day in the country. His long service and hardships during the war are thought to have contributed to his death. He is survived by his father, two sisters, and two brothers.

George Pomeroy, of Pembroke, Me., a well known horseman, was killed in an auto accident on Friday, near Perry. He met another car at a blind curve and in the crash was crushed over the steering wheel. His mother, wife and sister were also seriously injured.

The automobile owned by Edward Quinland was badly damaged on Saturday night when it struck a disabled car which was standing on the side of the road near Sussex and which it is claimed did not have its lights on at the time.

At an inquest held at Digby, Saturday, into the death of Waters Hutchins, the jury named Garfield Tebo as the slayer. A number of witnesses were called, giving evidence pointing to Tebo's guilt.

Failure of an engineer to heed a block signal caused a collision on Saturday night on the Missouri Pacific near Sulphur Springs, and as a result, thirty-eight persons were killed, 137 were injured, twenty-five seriously. The express flyer of the line crashed into a local standing on trestle. Some of the coaches were hurled down a fifty foot embankment.

E. S. Weldon, of Charlotte street, west end, while returning from a motoring trip this morning about 1 o'clock, encountered a large moose at the corner of City Line and Charlotte street, West St. John. The big fellow was standing under a street light and from his antlers, which could be seen quite distinctly, Mr. Weldon judged he would be about seven or eight years old.

BELYEA LOSES BY THREE FEET

Paul Costello Wins from St. John Oarsman in a Thrilling Race on Schuylkill.

Philadelphia, Aug. 6.—Paul Costello, of the Vesper Boat Club, won the senior championship race for single shells in the national regatta on the Schuylkill Saturday afternoon in one of the closest finishes ever witnessed on the home river. Costello crossed the line victorious by no more than three scant feet. Hilton Belyea, the St. John sculler, finished second two-fifths of a second later than Costello and Louis Zeba, of the First Bohemian Boat Club of New York who made the third entry in the event, followed the St. John oarsman over the line almost a minute later. The time was 7:21.5.

Costello's victory while not in the nature of an upset was remarkable indeed, as the Vesper oarsman showed a stamina few thought he possessed. When the two shells came down the home stretch about it looked as though Belyea would win on his abnormal strength. Costello, however, threw his last ounce of energy behind each pull on the long blades and flashed to the fore to stay there. Belyea never lowered his stroke but certainly it lacked the power that was moving Costello's shell.

It was not because Belyea did not row true to his form but because Costello reached out to hitherto unknown heights to grasp the victory. Costello's final drive was sensational indeed. He beat the Canadian at the latter's own game trailing at the start and when the last quarter was reached and the spurt necessary pulling hard and fast enough for a victory which although it was only accomplished by a slight margin was nevertheless decisive.

Bachelors of Philadelphia captured the senior doubles championship the first event of the day when Garrett Gilmore and William Hagood flashed over the finish line with a half length of open water showing between the stern of their boat and the bow of the Undine craft. Metropolitan finished third while Pennsylvania Barge was placed fourth and The Bachelors' time was 7 minutes 5 seconds.

The Duluth four won the senior championship. Duluth rowed its usual high stroke from the half mark on. Bachelors gave the boys from the northwest a place and staging a wonderful sprint in the last hundred yards. Vespers' second win of the afternoon came in the senior quadruple sculls. Paul Costello jumped into number three position in the maroon and gray craft and aided greatly in what was a decisive victory by at least three lengths. Undine finished second, and

The J. B. Williams Company
655 Drolet Street Montreal, Canada

West Philadelphia crossed the line two lengths behind the former.

Jim Ten Eyck's first Duluth crew won that club's second race of the day and furnished the most sensational finish of the whole regatta when it took the event for senior eight-oared shells in the last hundred yards. Philadelphia finished second, and Toronto third.

Toronto, which had been rowing just beside and behind the Duluth crew, seemed to have even more power than either of the first two heights. The coxswain of the craft, however, failed to steer a straight course and twice nearly hit the Duluth shell. Had the Toronto boat been guided straight there are many who believe it might have conquered. Duluth's time for the event was six minutes and twenty-four seconds.

SOME QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON FORESTRY
(By The Canadian Forestry Association.)
Q.—How many forest fires have taken place in Canada this year?
A.—Approximately 3,000. British Columbia had about 1,400 and with Central Quebec passed through the worst fire experience in many years.

Q.—For what purposes are aeroplanes and seaplanes used in forestry work?
A.—In detection of fires, for which they are admirably adapted, for carrying fire fighters to the point of danger, for saving time in transporting fire inspectors and managers, for the survey of limits by photography, and the rapid and accurate examination of terrain with a view to the most economical operation of timber limits. These are just a few of the day to day uses of aircraft in Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba and British Columbia. Fire rangers in B. C. and Quebec this summer have transported fire-fighting pumps within one hour where the journey by land and water formerly required from fifteen hours to two days.

Q.—Is there any court decision as to the right of a land owner to prune shade trees that are on a neighbor's property, provided that such trees are ruining a lawn by their dense shade?
A.—Recently a decision was given by an Old Country justice denying the right of anyone to prune or trim the branches of trees reaching from a neighboring estate over his buildings and causing, so it was alleged, unhealthy conditions. We do not know of a similar Canadian decision.

Forest insects, once they attack an area, work with incredible rapidity and deadly effect. They do not damage the soil, however, as is the case with fires. It is probably fair to say that the recovery of an area is more rapid after an insect attack than after a serious fire. Fires are steadily reducing the forest-producing land, turning into dead wastes enormous stretches year after year.

Beer Into Sewer.
Winnipeg, Aug. 7.—Members of the morality squad poured 600 gallons of strong beer, seized in recent raids, down a sewer in front of the central police station.

A car owned by Stephen Stevens of Martintown, was badly damaged yesterday morning when one of the tires burst and the car ran off the road near Morna, turning a complete somersault. At the time of the accident the car was occupied by the daughter of the owner and two other young people, but none of the occupants received anything more than a few bruises.
