PRESENTATION Last night a number of young friends of Master Percy Latham called at his home, 22 Adelaide avenue and made him the recipient of a small purse of money. It was presented by Ernest Latham. The dinner given was a most enjoyable one. It was presented by Benjamin Hatfield and Ernest Latham. The gathering broke up about 10.30 after a most enjoyable time.

WAS NOT ASKED FOR To a Times reporter this morning Sheriff DeForest said that the reason the room in the court house was not available for Coroner Berryman to hold an inquest there last night, was because no application had been made to him for the use of the room, and that he was not aware that there was to have been an inquest. Had the coroner made the request for the use of the room, he said, it would have been open for him.

BURIED TODAY The funeral of Nathaniel W. Brennan took place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his late home, 224 King street east. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. A. Armstrong and interment was in Fernhill. A delegation of Oddfellows attended the funeral in a body.

STRUCK BY CAR While on her way to the wharf where the steamer Champion was lying, intending to board the vessel to go to her home at Public Landing, Mrs. J. S. Parker of that place was struck by a motor car this morning in Bridge street, just near the corner of Main. A street car was proceeding down the hill and the motor car was skidding a little on the wet rail, although the motorist was exercising all possible care. He saw the alarm near the corner but the fender of the car struck Mrs. Parker and launched her a few feet to one side. She was not hurt but was shaken severely, although able to continue on her journey home. Bystanders who saw the accident were of the opinion that the motorist was not to blame, as he had applied the brakes with care and speed and the rail was in a slippery condition.

HE DID NOT WANT TO STAY ABOARD SCHOONER

After having been given protection in the police station last night, Norman Logan, aged 34, was taken into custody between eight and nine o'clock this morning by Sergeant Scott and Baxter, on the charge of absconding himself without leave from the schooner Rothesay, which is lying at Reed's Point. Logan was arraigned in the police court this morning and pleaded guilty. He said that he did not think the sleeping quarters on the ship good enough to sleep in and came ashore to get lodgings, also that he had to return to the ship another year before his time expired. His Honor told him that he was liable to eight weeks in jail, and Logan replied that he would rather spend that time in jail than one year on the schooner. His Honor advised him to go back to the vessel, however, and he left the court with Captain Pitt.

ST. JOHN HEALTH RECORD FOR YEAR IS EXCEPTIONAL

Deaths Were More Than 100 Fewer Than in Previous Twelve Months

THE BOARD'S RECORDS

Mr. Burns' Annual Statement For Year Ended With October 31 - Tuberculosis Deaths Fewer by Eight

Most encouraging conditions regarding the general health of the city are provided in the statistics furnished in the annual report of T. M. Burns, secretary of the board of health, for the year ended October 31, now ready for presentation at the annual meeting on Tuesday next. The figures disclose the fact that the number of deaths during the twelve months was considerably less than for many years previous, and also show that the deaths from infectious disease is fully fifty per cent below that of other years.

This the secretary is in a position to report such conditions is believed due in no small measure to the precautions exercised by the board and the care taken in stamping out disease and preventing its spread while the atmospheric conditions during last year were also instrumental in checking infection, particularly with diseases amongst children.

There were 684 deaths reported as compared with 790 for the same period of the previous year. The causes of death of course embrace a wide range of diseases. Tuberculosis took the lead having a thirty-six victims in all its forms, seventy-eight of them succumbing to tuberculosis of the lungs.

From organic diseases of the heart fifty-six passed away and congestion and cerebral hemorrhage took forty-one persons from this life. A total of forty died from cancer in all its forms while thirty-seven were claimed by pneumonia and seventeen by broncho pneumonia. The number of children dying from cholera infantum was twenty-two, which is much lighter than for some years. Deaths from malnutrition, marasmus, and premature birth totalled fifty-seven. Two people suicided, one by hanging and one by shooting while from violence under other methods, including five from accidental drowning, there were five deaths.

Of those whose deaths are reported 549 were Canadian born, 104 foreign and there was no stated place of nativity was not stated. There were also forty-three deaths reported among non-residents but these are not included in the general totals. Some were foreigners brought to the hospital, or dying upon steamers, etc. The number of males was 328 while the number of females was 358. Regarding their social condition, 319 were married and 368 a single while the balance of the city only.

These statistics refer to the city only, while the figures in the list of infectious diseases are furnished for the city and county as well. The number of cases of infectious diseases was 180 as compared with 204 last year while the deaths totalled only eight as against fourteen last year. The cases were as follows: Diphtheria, thirty-two; deaths three; scarlet fever seventy-two; deaths one; typhoid fever forty-four; deaths four; measles, five; and smallpox three, no deaths.

The following shows the number of deaths according to the ages: Under one year, 142; 1 to 5 years, forty-two; 6 to 10 years, 10; 11 to 15 years, ten; 15 to 20 years, nineteen; 20 to 25 years, nineteen; 25 to 30 years, twenty-three; 30 to 40 years, forty-five; 40 to 50 years, thirty-four; 50 to 60 years, sixty-seven; 60 to 70 years, ninety-eight; 70 to 80 years, eighty-eight; and 80 years and upwards, fifty-five deaths.

The figures for each month were: November, forty-six; December, fifty-one deaths; January, sixty-two; February, forty-eight; March, sixty-three; April, sixty-two; May, 85; June, 53; July, forty-four; August, sixty-three; September, fifty-one; and October, forty-six.

W. RUPERT WILLET'S LIFE ENDS SUDDENLY

Prominent Fruit Dealer Passed Away of Heart Trouble During Night

News of the sudden death of W. Rupert Willett, president of the Willett Fruit Company, Deak street, shocked the business community this morning. Though a sufferer from heart trouble for some months, there was no thought that the end of his life was near, and yesterday he was in his usual good spirits.

About three o'clock this morning Mrs. Willett was awakened by his distressed breathing, and within a few minutes he passed away. There will be deep sympathy felt for Mrs. Willett and her son in their bereavement, especially in its suddenness.

Mr. Willett was born on September 24, 1839, a native of Granville, N. S. He was a son of Gilbert Willett who lived to be an octogenarian, but whose last illness was of less than two hours' duration. Gilbert Willett was a great-grandfather of the first of New York's English-speaking mayors.

W. Rupert Willett carried on fruit-growing at Granville and came five years ago to St. John, where he joined his son, John G., in the business the latter had established here. He was a member of the Church of England, and in politics a Conservative. He is survived by his wife and son. There will be service at his late residence, 53 Meekinsburg street, on Friday evening, and the body will be taken on Saturday morning's boat to Granville for burial.

TO HAVE BRIDGE At a meeting of the executive of St. Monica's Society this week it was decided to hold a bridge whist tournament with dancing in Kaid's Assembly rooms on November 27. Committees are to be appointed at once, and arrangements begun. The affair, which will be run on a large scale.
