Captain Nathan F. Blake of the schooner Andrew Barnham of Boston, is a plain spoken man, who believes in giving credit where credit is due, even if thereby the Canadian fishery protection service comes in for a few good words. In a letter to the Boston Herald the captain details his experience on our coasts, as an answer to those "ancient mariners" who stuff the American press with all sorts of yarns about all sorts of indiguities at the hands of Canadian officers. He says :--

I sailed from Boston for North bay on June 16, not knowing just what the cutters would d or how the law would be interpreted. I near-ed the coast with fear and anxiety. The first land sighted was Whitehead, and immediately cries came from aloft: "Outer in sight, ahead !' I rushed to the deck, found the vessel which proved to be the Houlett, com-Manded by Capt. Lowry, nearing us rapidly. At time of sighting the cutter we were stand-ing in shore. She hoisted her flags to let us know what she was, and we immediately "about ship" and put to sea to get out of he way, for fear we might be placed on the prize list of the captures. We finally headed up for Port Mulgrave in Canso, expecting to receive rough usage from the authorities,

Your province has no advantage in trade and ing commercial inducements they are rather hard to break up. Many a man has got commerce with England over the American states. • If New Brunswick were annexed to the American union, it would lose no trade himself into trouble by supposing that sentimental reasons were necessarily weak right, privilege or advantage with Great Beitain, which it now enjoys, not one, but it reasons. Mr. Medill is right in supposing that it would benefit Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to have free access to the United States markets. He is wrong in supposing that our trade with other countries is of comparatively little importance. The present situation is but exactly as Mr. Medill describes it. The average rate of duty paid receive rough usage from the authorities, but to our surprise found Collector Murray a perfect gentleman, willing to assist me as far as he could without encroaching on the Canadian laws. From there we put in at Port Hawkesbury and boarded the cutter Conrad and asked the captain for instruction in regard to the three-mile limit and what privileges, if any, we had. I was answered in a courteous and hearty way, that he did not have them on board, but would go ashore in a few moments and get me a printed copy of the regulations, which he did, and assured us that if we followed them we would be unmo. lested; that he was there to see that the law iested; that he was there to see that the law was not violated, but not to cause unneces-sary annoyance. After receiving instructions from the captain, thanks to him, I went property,

NOVA SCOTIA CONFERENCE

NOVA SCOTTA CONFERENCE made a report. In that province there were 35 F. O. B. churches scattered over only five of the eighteen counties. All have been sup-plied with preaching of some kind during the past year. There were fourteen ordained min-isters and five licentiates. The home mission-ary work was well done last year and more of it done than previously. The ladies had accom-plished much good in foreign mission-ary work. All the charches there are Sabbath school workers. The church membership was 3,703, an increase of 128 over the previous year. The Nova Scotia conference was a unit on the tempercan labor in that climate, and that doors are opening before him to be useful there. As Rev. J. S. Barnes is laboring in Nova Scotia be be transformed to the market before the scotia he be transferred to the general conference of the F. C. B. church in that province. Rev. S. W.
