ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 13, 1902.

WE'RE STILL HOPING.

The St. John Star with a deeply aggrieved air, tells its readers that the civic delegation from that city have returned from their Ottawa trip "without definite promise of assistance." What does our contemporary expect? That the government is going to override the functions of parliament and spend public money without the parliamentary grant, or that it contents itself with giving the usual promise to take the matter into early consideration. Sir Wilfred Laurier so far countenances this view that according to the "Star" in its report he told the delegation that the matter ought to have been raised during the last session of parliament. There is little doubt, however, that the people of St. John will find the government more generous in its treatment of them, than the Star in its treatment of the government—Moncton Transcript.

This ambitious young journal is grieved that the Transcript should charge it with lack of generosity toward the government. But, really, on careful consideration, the government's treatment of St. John is open to some criticism. There is the harbor dredging, promised by Hon. Mr. Tarte personally when the liberals first came into power. There is the aid asked for the dry dock. There is the matter of providing further wharves and warehouses. There is the South Shore steamship service, discontinued since 1900. There is the Jamaica steamship service, in which St. John has no part, though the Ontario delegates who visited the island say there should be a direct line to St. John. There is the long promised drill shed. And there are other things. The Star will be glad to applaud the government when these various matters have been set right. Meantime this paper will extract what comfort it may from the fact that Mr. Tarte is coming this way, and that Ald. McGoldrick and McMullin are sitting up nights practising duets in the language of la belle France, while the other members of the recent delegation to Montreal and Ottawa are diligently brushing up their knowledge of the language of Canadian diplomacy.

For the information of the Transcript it may be stated that the St. John delegates did go to Ottawa during the recent session of parliament and pressed upon the government the importance of giving aid in the work of providing additional steamship accommodation. Sir Wilfred had his opportunity then, but nothing was done. And for that reason another delegation went up after parliament was prorogued. It may be that several more will have to go before anything is accomplished. There is no such thing as hurrying this precious government of ours. Even Col. Tucker has to go on fishing trips in the intervals of waiting when he is pressing upon our rulers the needs of his constituency.

A HOPEFUL AUGURY.

The Boers who have surrendered confirm what was repeated over and over again in the British press, that the war would have ended much sooner but for the hope based on assurances that other countries would intervene in behalf of the burghers. It is stated that the Boers are especially bitter against France and Germany, but there is no doubt they do not hold a portion of the press of the United States and a number of American politicians of the Web. Davis type blameless in the matter.

A remarkable change has come about since the peace terms were signed. It was hardly to be expected that the Boers would cheer for King Edward and Kitchener, even though such liberal terms have been granted. That apparently very cordial relations have already developed between those who were so lately engaged in war is a hopeful augury for the future. If the Boers really come to a recognition of the British as their best friends the way to happier conditions is already well paved. Every patriotic citizen of the empire will hope that things are in this case what they at present seem.

The Telegraph inquires: "What would the evening reprint do without the Telegraph to rely upon for facts?" It certainly would not drop into the Telegraph's bad habit of inventing facts to suit its own prejudice.

Sir Wilfred Laurier and Hon. Messrs. Fielding and Patterson are going to London by way of New York. No Canadian steamship line is fast enough for these gentlemen.

A Toronto despatch says: "The council of Wycliffe College (Church of England) will found scholarships, to be known as the Robertson Scholarships, with the $2,000 donated by James F. Robertson, of St. John, N. B."

The Telegraph is not discussing the South Shore steamship service this week.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

TORONTO, June 12.—The attendance of commissioners at the meeting of the assembly is most unusually large. It is distinctly a business assembly. The various matters that come up are put through with great despatch and at the same time without any appearance of due haste.

No less than twenty ministers are applying for admission to the ministry of this church, of whom five are from the Congregational church, three from the Baptist, one from the Episcopal, and four from the Presbyterian church of the United States. The applications were all referred to committee and will be dealt with later in assembly.

The book of rules and forms of procedure is to be amended. A committee is engaged codifying the legislation of the church since 1875, in so far as it affects this matter. It is hoped to issue the rules thus amended during the current assembly year.

A communication of cordial greeting and good will was presented from the Presbyterian Alliance, representing the Reformed churches holding the Presbyterian system throughout the world. Dr. Geo. F. Matthews, general secretary of the alliance, was present, and upon invitation very happily addressed the assembly. The assembly then passed a resolution declaring the strong sympathy of the assembly in the aims of the alliance and its readiness as heretofore to pay its share of the expenses of the alliance.

Delegates from assembly to the next meeting of the alliance, to be held in Liverpool in 1904, will be appointed tomorrow.

Dr. Torrance, convener of the committee on statistics, next reported. Some of the items of this report have already been published. The statistical and financial report is on the whole extraordinarily gratifying. A comparison of the present status of the church with that of the year 1875 is very striking. In 1875 the church embraced 706 congregations; in 1902, 1,875, 579 ministers; in 1892, 1,368. In 1875, 54,133 families; in 1902, 113,114. In 1875, 88,223 communicants; in 1902, 219,470. In 1875, 4 synods; in 1902, 6. In 1875, 33 Presbyteries; in 1902, 58. Total givings in 1875 were $382,672; in 1902, $2,857,480.

Reports from the aged and infirm minister's funds, east and west, were both satisfactory.

Judge Forbes of St. John reported for the eastern section $600 more were given by congregations than last year, but a considerable adverse balance still exists.

The fund of the western section is in a much better financial condition, with a present endowment of $200,000, of which Lord Strathcona gave the last $20,000, in a cheque received by the convener only a week ago. For this most generous gift, and also for the offer of $5,000 additional under reasonable conditions, the assembly tendered his lordship its very hearty thanks.

Home missions, east and west, occupied the whole time of the evening session.

Since the retirement of Dr. McMillan of Halifax, two years ago, Rev. Thomas Stewart of Dartmouth has been its convener.

In the east and west the home mission work is being done more efficiently than ever. Forty-three students and thirty-one ordained ministers during the whole year. The great importance of the work is evident from the fact that 14 per cent of the people in the maritime provinces are ministered to and twelve and a half per cent of the children are in home mission Sabbath schools. There is a rather large adverse balance, namely, $1,200, due, however, not to a falling off in receipts, for these were larger than ever, but to the fact that the demands of the work were much larger than last year.

The resolution in connection with the report was moved and seconded in excellent brief speeches by Rev. W. H. Sedgewick of Shubenacadie and Mr. Ireland of the west.

Dr. Warden reported the death of Dr. Robertson, late superintendent of home missions in the west. To him is due the giant strides the Presbyterian church has taken in the west within the last decade. The increase in population during the decade is eighty-three per cent. The Presbyterian increase was one hundred and eighty-seven per cent. This is in a very large degree due to Dr. Robertson.

The assembly is firmly possessed of the conviction of home missions. It is determined to push the work with utmost vigor. The home mission committee is asking for the appointment of three men to take the work formerly done by Dr. Robertson alone, and their request will very probably be granted.

One hundred and ten thousand dollars were spent for home missions, east and west, last year, and considerably more will be required this year.

HE GETS A FORTUNE.

John White, for many years foreman for the old firm of Robb & Son of Amherst, but for many years past a successful farmer at Fort Lawrence, N. S., has received information from Louisville, Ky., stating that his brother, James F. White, of that city, had died leaving an estate valued at $234,375 to be divided equally between himself and another brother, William, who resides in Louisville. The net share to each, after deducting court fees, taxes, etc., will be $108,482.54. Deceased, up to ten years ago, when he retired from active business, had conducted a large dry goods business.

ANOTHER DISASTER.

QUEBEC, June 12.—The steamship Sahara (Br.), from Rangoon for Montreal, with a cargo of rice, ashore at Bicquette Island, is in a dangerous position. She lies on a shelf of rock and should she slide off would be in 100 feet of water. As the craft is making water fears are expressed that her cargo will swell and strain her hull. The wrecking plants should reach the steamer tonight.

WANTED.—A case of Headache that KUMFORT Powders will not cure in from ten to twenty minutes.

SON TO THE KING.

By Geo. G. Walker.
Hail to the monarch of Britain's shore
And of dominions beyond the sea;
Sons of kings that have gone before,
Champions of right and liberty;
All hail we Walker with glad acclaim
And give loud cheers at King Edward's name.

Son of the House of Hanover,
Branch of the potent Stewart line,
Sprung from the race of the Tudor kings,
Ruler of men by grace divine,
Blessed and loved by the world over
To Edward of York and Lancaster.

Thy last dominions across the waves,
From polar ice to the tropic sun,
Of every race and of every creed,
Of every line and of every breed,
Look up to thee at their hope and sing,
In chorus grand, God Save the King.

Lords, earls, and dukes, and millionaires;
Princes and rulers of every land;
Beauties and wit from far and near,
Come to thee from across the strand,
To do thee honor and see the face
Of Edward, King of the British race.

And what a motley throng is here!
The turbaned Hindoo, the African,
The native of the South Sea Isles,
The Arab, the Mongolian,
And men of Australia and Canada,
What means this mighty concourse here?

To pay their homage and prove their love
And honor the monarch, the royal son
Of the great Queen Mother, Victoria,
From the empire vast, his subjects come;
For with hearts rejoicing in the dignity
The King grasps the sceptre of sovereignty.

Rule on, great King, with a mighty hand,
Rule on in justice and equity;
Monarch, the grandest that has been,
Rule us in peace and liberty;
And all thy subjects shall loudly sing,
As with one voice, God Save the King.

The author of the above ode is the eldest son of A. B. Walker, LL.B., barrister-at-law of this city. Mr. Walker spent three years at Wilfrid University, Ohio.

VON BUELOW'S INSULT TO POLES

His Statement to a French Interviewer Raises a Storm.

The love of Count von Buelow, the German imperial chancellor, of saying a good thing has more than once run away with his discretion. He has now raised a storm among the Kaiser's Polish subjects by speaking to a French interviewer on the subject of a bill for buying out the Polish landowners.

He said the German policy must be resolutely national. He added: "If in this park I were to put ten hares and five rabbits, next year I shall have fifteen hares and a hundred rabbits. It is against such a phenomenon that we intend to defend in Poland the national unity."

This is considered equivalent to an assertion that the Poles are an inferior people who multiply rapidly, and therefore must be kept down. The effect of this elaborate insult can easily be imagined.

MEETINGS.

The Maple Leaf Society of the Main street Baptist church on Wednesday evening called at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Dykeman, Main street, and presented them with a very handsome marble clock with bronze figure, and a complimentary address.

On Sunday morning next there will be held at Portland Methodist church a children's service, under the auspices of the Junior Epworth League, an organization formed shortly after the present pastor assumed charge.

The service will be marked by special music. In the evening the 75th anniversary of the Sunday school will be observed.

A meeting of H. M. S. Polymorphism will be held this evening at Victoria hall at 8 o'clock.

At its morning and afternoon sessions the assembly was occupied with purely business matters.

Committees were appointed to examine synod records, to deal with applications of Presbyteries for leave to receive ministers of other churches into their church, and to deal with similar applications for leave to ordain students on loyal addresses.

SLIGHTLY SARCASTIC.

(Toronto World.)
Prof. Goldwin Smith is making considerable progress in his arduous task of winding up the affairs of the universe.

Having ceded Canada to an alien, awarded Gibraltar to Spain, turned over the Mediterranean to France and Italy, and generally dismembered the British empire, the sage of the Grange has been, of late, sitting up nights fixing the doom of the United States.

In his latest book, the professor announces that, after much anxious deliberation, he has been compelled to reserve judgment in the Republic. He has gone so far, however, as to decide upon one of the two things; either to turn the commonwealth into an empire, or to disrupt the whole shooting match. The universe will now please resume its Judgment Day march past Mr. Smith, in order that he may sentence the rest of it, and get the load off his mind.

LABOR NOTES.

The lath sawyers and dead piers met in Labor Hall last evening in force, with John Lemon in the chair. M. J. Kelley, David Connelly, W. H. Coates and Thomas Killen spoke on the benefits of organized labor. The men decided to organize and elected Hazen Downing president, and Samuel McCormick, recording secretary. A general meeting will be held in Fairville next week, the date to be announced. All dead piers and lath sawyers are requested to be present.

On Labor Day, Sept. 1st, St. John will see a procession with three thousand working men in line. The labor unions are concentrating their energies to make this the biggest demonstration of their history.

The horse shoers met last night in Labor Hall and decided to organize. They will meet again next Wednesday evening to perfect organization.

The Trades and Labor Council will hold a session this evening.

NEW PATROL BOATS.

The department of marine and fisheries gave a contract yesterday to Howell, of Halifax, for a new patrol boat. This will make two new patrol boats for the Nova Scotia coast. Mr. Matheson, of New Glasgow, is building the other one. They will both be ready in about seven weeks.

DANIEL DOONE—A HISTORY TALE.

On the first day of January, 1778, Boone went, with a party of 30 men, to make salt at Blue Licks, on Licking River. In the account of what happened afterwards the Kentucky hunter says:

"On February 7, as I was hunting to procure meat for the company, I saw a party of 102 Indians. They pursued and took me and brought me back to the Licks, where 27 men were still, three having returned home with the salt. I, knowing it was impossible for any men to escape, gave them notice at a distance, and ordered them not to resist, but to surrender themselves captives."

"We proceeded as prisoners to old Chillicothe, the principal Indian town on Little Miami. During our travels the Indians entertained us well, and their affection for us was so great that they utterly refused to leave me in captivity to the British, as they left my men."

"At Chillicothe I was adopted, according to Indian custom, into a family as a son, and had a great share of the affection of my new parents and brothers and sisters."

"I was exceedingly familiar and friendly with the Indians, and because I appeared cheerful and satisfied they put great confidence in me. Often I went hunting with them, and frequently gained their applause for my activity at our shooting matches. I was careful not to exceed many of them in shooting, for none are more envious than they in this sport. They showed in their countenances and gestures the greatest joy when they exceeded me, and when they failed envy was evident. I slept and ate with them."

"Finally, in June, I began to plan an escape. Early in that month they took me to some salt springs and kept me there making salt for 10 days. During this time I hunted some for them. When I returned to Chillicothe I was alarmed to see 450 warriors painted and armed in a fearful manner."

"I determined to escape. On the 16th before sunrise, I crept away in the most secret manner, and after a journey of 160 miles arrived at Booneborough on the 20th. During my journey I had but one meal."

"I found our fortress in a bad state of defense. We fell to work, and at length, after 10 days our repairs were completed. We daily expected the attacking Indians. But a prisoner whom they had taken, and who escaped, told us their expedition against our fortress was delayed three weeks by my secret running away that June morning."

FAMILY OF CRIMINALS.

At Truro yesterday in the Rushton criminal trial Judge Townsend sentenced the whole family the whole behind the bars. Mitchell Rushton gets five years in Dorchester penitentiary for shop breaking and theft; and three years additional for horse stealing. His brother Joseph was given for shop breaking five years in the penitentiary. His brother Francis got four years for the same offence. The mother will spend six months in the county jail.

THEY MAY STRIKE.

The Toronto street railway employees are making demand for a maximum wage of 25 cents an hour, the present rate being 18 cents, and trouble is expected. The company, it is understood, will offer some small advance to the men not receiving the maximum, but this, it is said, will not satisfy the men.
