P. E. I. FARMER COMMITTS SUICIDE

Angus McQuay Drank Carbolic Acid—
Had Been Unwell for Some Time.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Sept. 5.—A suicide occurred yesterday near Carleton Place, at Piquet road, the victim being Angus McQuay, aged 55, a well-to-do farmer. In the morning he drove to Carleton Place and transacted his business as usual. The merchants noticed that he was unusually moody and morose, but did not view his condition seriously. He bought from a druggist an ounce of carbolic acid, full strength, stating that he wanted it to dress a horse's leg. Upon going to his home he went up stairs to change his clothes, as he said he had got wet during the rain on his way from Carleton. His wife becoming uneasy at his prolonged absence, went up to his room and found him dead. He had swallowed the whole ounce of carbolic acid, taking enough to kill twenty men. So determined was he to put an end to his life that he had tied the harness into knots so that he could not be unharnessed in time to drive away for assistance. Dr. Allan, the coroner, after learning the facts, decided an inquest was unnecessary. His opinion was that the deceased had committed the deed while temporarily insane. For some time past McQuay complained of feeling unwell, and was subject to fits of melancholia. A few years ago he was under treatment in the hospital for brain trouble.

A hearty greeting awaits the Lilliputians when they open at the York on the seventeenth. The impression they left after their last visit is too good to be forgotten. When we say that no "grown-up" company can give better representations than the children we do not exaggerate in the least, and judging from the reports, they are better now than ever. Especially good were Miss Eva Pollard, Daphne Pollard and Teddy McNamara. The company has a fine and extensive repertoire, and rumor has it that they will produce two new musical comedies during their season here. No organization ever came to this city that gave more thorough enjoyment than the Lilliputians.

A present and growing tendency is the development of the creative force in advertising. It has been demonstrated repeatedly that advertising actually creates wants. It virtually makes two blades of grass grow where formerly one grew.—H. S. Houston, World's Work, N. Y.

DECIDES HER FATE BY GAME OF CARDS.

Hearts, Her Lucky Color, Not Turning Up, Swiss Girl Commits Suicide.

GENEVA, Sept. 4.—Mlle. Nesthe, of Solerue, a handsome Swiss girl, gambled with death yesterday—and lost. Her father, who died recently by his own hand, was regarded as a wealthy man. His only daughter was, however, left penniless owing to serious losses in speculation. When the house and furniture were sold by auction to meet the father's liabilities, Mlle. Nesthe went to live with some friends, and her mind seems to have become unbalanced by her troubles. "My lucky day is Friday," she said to a girl friend; "even my luck seems to have deserted me, and I cannot bear life any longer." Yesterday being Friday, she asked her friend to come and see her play cards, and as her manner seemed strange, her friend humored her. "You will see that hearts, my lucky color, will not turn up," Mlle. Nesthe explained, and, true enough, no matter how she cut and shuffled, a black suit always appeared. At last she announced to her unsuspecting friend that the cards foretold "a long and peaceful sleep," and went up to her room without uttering another word. The friend being used to Mlle. Nesthe's eccentric humors, took no more notice of the affair, and went out shopping. On her return, entering her friend's bedroom, she found Mlle. Nesthe dead, still holding in her hand a small phial which had contained prussic acid.

A GOOD WIND FOR THE ROOSEVELT CUP RACES

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Sept. 5.—The northwester that sent the six Sonder yachts to a piping finish Monday in the first race for the Roosevelt cup, was still in evidence today when the yachtsmen began preparations for the second contest of the series although at sunrise today it had fallen to about six miles. But the weather conditions were much more favorable today than for the first race. The air was cool and the skies were without a cloud. The race today was planned to be twelve miles over a windward and leeward course, with the turning mark three miles from the start and the yachts sailing twice around.

THEATRES RUINED BY OFFICIAL DEADHEADS

Government Subsidy Equalled by Value of Tickets Demanded by Politicians.

PARIS, Sept. 4.—It is estimated that the subsidized state theatres of France, such as the Theatre Francaise, the Odon, the Opera, and Opera Comique, are forced to give away so many free seats to members of the government that they can never make any profit. The yearly subsidy paid to the Opera Comique amounts to $40,000, but this sum is more than equalled by the tickets claimed as a right by politicians. Deputies, not content with claiming seats for themselves, are in the habit of asking for them for their constituents, so that at the end of the season there is always a deficit for the house. The same practice obtains in the provinces, where the theatre manager is the servant of the municipality. So many free seats are exacted from the unhappy manager that it may be said that the subsidy ruins the theatre.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Sept. 5.—A. G. Putman, manager of the Royal Bank at Sackville, was married today to Adelaide McLeod, of Eldon.

ATTORNEY GENERAL LEAVES FOR WEST

Speaks About Collins Case—Analysis of the Blood Stain Not Finished Yet.

Attorney General Pugsley left last night for the West and will not be present during the preliminary examination of Thos. F. Collins, which begins Monday before Magistrate Stuart. Dr. Pugsley said yesterday that M. B. Dixon would appear for the crown, and with him would be either Premier Tweedie or Solicitor General Jones. Dr. Pugsley said that Dr. G. A. B. Addy, the government analyst, has not yet finished his analysis of the stains found on the article of clothing of Collins found in his valise, which he left at Musquash and which was brought by Chief Clark to the city. The attorney general also said that the crown had ordered an analysis to be made of the stains found on the sleeve of the shirt which Collins is supposed to have left under the bed at Garland's hotel at Elgin. This is the stain whose discovery Father McAulay spoke about in an interview with the Sun some time ago and the existence of which was denied yesterday by the Telegraph. A thorough analysis will be made of the garment and also of the suspicious stain on a pair of overalls hanging in the back kitchen of Father McAulay's house, the discovery of which was also exclusively announced in this paper.

ENGLISH TEACHER IS EATEN BY CROCODILE.

Monster Upsets Boat in Which Two Men Are, and One Falls Its Victim.

CAPTOWN, Sept. 4.—An Englishman named Warman, formerly employed at Salisbury Railway Station, has been eaten by a crocodile. Warman and a companion, H. E. Bennett, decided, at the end of last month, to go on a trading trip across the Kafue river. On arriving at the river they knocked together a rough boat, on which they placed all their belongings, and then embarked. When in mid-stream a crocodile attacked the boat and upset it, Bennett and Warman both being left foundering in the water. They struck out for the opposite shore, which Bennett reached, but on looking round he saw the crocodile seize Warman's leg and drag him under the water. Bennett had to travel 200 miles before he reached a white man's abode, at Busu, where Warman leaves a widow and family in England.

BRIDE ELOPES WITH HUSBAND'S FATHER.

Says Her Love for Him is Greater Than That She Bears His Son.

PARIS, Sept. 4.—A wedding party in a country district near Paris had an unexpected ending last night. A little before midnight the bridegroom, tired of dancing, sought his bride, intending to slip away with her to their new home. She was, however, not to be found, and the bridegroom rushed to his home to see if by chance she had gone there by herself. Not finding her, the groom and his mother-in-law became anxious and made inquiries, and at last learned that the bride had been seen getting into a carriage with the bridegroom's father, and had then driven off to the station. A few hours later the distracted groom received a letter from his bride of an hour, in which she explained that her love for her father made it impossible for her to be happy with his son, and that she had therefore run away with her lover.

TWO HUNDRED MUTINEERS ON TRIAL AT CRONSTADT

Russian Regiment Threatens Vengeance if any Assassinations are Attempted

CRONSTADT, Russia, Sept. 5.—The trial of two hundred participants in the recent mutinous outbreak including M. Orliko, one of the present leaders in the outlawed parliament, and fifty other civilians, began here today behind closed doors. There are over a thousand witnesses and therefore the proceedings are expected to be protracted. SEVASTOPOL, Russia, Sept. 5.—In answer to the publication of a notice from the terrorists that a sentence of death had been imposed on Col. Dumbadze, commander of a rifle regiment here, the officers of that corps in an open letter have announced that in case of an attack being made on the Colonel they will exact vengeance on the leaders of the progressive parties. Admiral Skrydloff, commander of the Black Sea fleet and the military commander here is very apprehensive of the attitude of the sailors of the fleet and the garrison of the fortress. The annual cruise of the training squadron as well as the regular fleet manoeuvres have been abandoned.
