

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

No pupil will be admitted into the Primary Department under eleven years of age.

For admission into the Higher Department, the student must be prepared to pass an examination on the studies pursued in the Primary Department. An equivalent to these studies will be taken. The student will then be required, under direction of the Faculty, to make such a selection from the prescribed course of study as will form the best preparation for future life. The course is so arranged as to suit both students of Classics and Natural Sciences; while to secure thoroughness in the work undertaken, no student, under ordinary circumstances, will be permitted to take more than six, nor less than four of the studies prescribed. The course is also arranged so as to prepare for admission to the Law Society, or for matriculation in Arts, Law, or Medicine, in the University of Toronto. By omitting the Classics and higher Mathematics, young ladies will find the course of study interesting, thorough, and peculiarly adapted to their wants.

For admission to the Theological Department, candidates must be prepared to pass an examination on all the studies of the first year in the Higher Department, except French. They are also required to bring letters from their respective churches, either licensing them to preach, or approving of their studying for the ministry. Prior to full admission, they are required to submit to a Committee, chosen by the Trustees, a statement of their Christian experience and call to the ministry. Unless in very exceptional cases, every student for the ministry should take the full course of prescribed study; and those whose age and means will permit, are strongly recommended to take one or two additional years in the Literary Department, before entering the Junior Class of the Theological Department. The examinations for admission will be strict and thorough.
