HIS FAMILY NAME.

Here is a story about Sir Arthur Sullivan and his mother, the latter being a very amused old lady.

The Duke of Edinburgh, to whom Arthur had been introduced, was as most of us remember, an enthusiastic musician and frequently for quiet practice on the violin, he would drop into Arthur Sullivan's in the most formal way. On such occasions, old Mrs. Sullivan would treat H. R. H. just as one of the family, and would no more 'fash herself' concerning his exalted rank than if she had been in utter ignorance of it.

One evening, when the Duke and Arthur having finished their duet, were sitting down to a homely 'dish o' tea' provided by Mrs. Sullivan, it suddenly occurred to her to start the subject of family names and titles, which puzzled the good lady considerably.

'Sir,' she said, 'your family name is Guelph?'

'My dear mother'—began Arthur, remonstrating.

'But it is, isn't it, she persisted.

'Certainly,' replied the Duke much amused. 'What is the matter with Mrs. Sullivan?'

'Oh, nothing,' returned the excellent old lady musingly, 'only I can't understand why you don't call yourself by your proper name.'

Arthur wanted to explain to her, but the Duke would not allow him.

There is nothing to be ashamed of in the name of "Guelph," Mrs. Sullivan, he said gravely.

'That's exactly what I say,' persisted Arthur's mother, 'nothing whatever as far as I know. And that being so why you should not call yourself by it, I can't understand.'—Records and Reminiscences Personal and General.

THE CANNY SCOT.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie told several good Scotch stories the other night. One ran thus:

A Scotchman and an Englishman went to see 'Douglas,' and after Norval's great speech the Scotchman asked his companion:

'What do you think of your Willie Shakespeare the noo?'

'Well,' was the answer, 'you have claimed Chaucer, Milton, Spenser, Wordsworth, Byron and most others; I suppose you'll be claiming Shakes, ere as Scotch.'

'Weel,' said the Scot, 'ye'll allow there's a

MEMORY MENDING.

What Food Alone Can Do for the Memory.

The influence of food upon the brain and memory is so little understood that people are inclined to marvel at it.

Take a person who had been living on improperly selected food and put him upon a scientific diet in which Grape-Nuts is largely used and the increase of mental power that follows is truly remarkable.

A Canadian who was sent to Colorado for his health illustrates this point in a most convincing manner: "One year ago I came from Canada a nervous wreck, so my physician said, and reduced in weight to almost a skeleton and my memory was so poor that conversation had to be repeated that had taken place a few hours before. I was unable to rest day or night for my nervous system was shattered.

"The change of climate helped me a little but it was soon seen that this was not all I needed. I required the proper selection of food although I did not realize it until a friend recommended Grape-Nuts to me and I gave this food a thorough trial. Then I realized what the right food could do and I began to change in my feelings and bodily condition. This kept up until now after 6 months' use of Grape-Nuts all my nervous trouble disappeared, I have gained in flesh all that I lost and what is more wonderful to me than anything else my memory is as good as ever it was. Truly Grape-Nuts has remade me all over, mind and body, when I never expected to be well and happy again." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek Mich.

prima facie case for that; ye'll allow he had intellect enough!

Another told of theological disputes of some shepherds, who could not agree on the characteristics of Paradise, until finally one old fellow said:

"O, ay—that's easy—it maun be just like the Hildan's."

Mr. Ruskin once lent a volume of Plato to one of his neighboring farmers, and when the book was returned asked: 'Well how do you like Plato?'

'First rate,' said the farmer, 'I see he's got some of my ideas.'

NOT TO BE MENTIONED.

One day the children were having an object lesson on the guinea pig. The teacher called attention to the short tail, saying: you know it has no tail to speak of. Shortly afterward she asked the scholars to write a description of the animal, and a little German girl wound up by saying: 'The guinea pig has a tail, but it must not be talked about.'

Foreman (to a sweeper who is leaning on his broom and gazing into blank space)—What are you doing, Williams?

William—Helping Gooley, sir.

Foreman (walking down the aisle and seeing Gooley's smutty face emerging from under a bench)—What are you doing Gooley? Gooley—Nothing, sir.

Archie, who had never seen gas-jets, had been away on a visit. 'And were you careful about going near the lamps?' asked his mamma.

'They don't have lamps,' replied the little fellow. They just light the end of the towel-rack.

WELL CONNECTED.

Yeast—Are the Rich's well connected?

Crimsonbeak—Oh, yes; they've got a telephone, fire-alarm and police call all in the house.

Mr. Elder—There is something I want to say to you, Bessie—er—that is, Miss Kuteley. Miss Kuteley—Call me Bessie if you wish. Mr. Elder—Oh, may I? Miss Kuteley—Of course: all old gentlemen call me Bessie.

A GENEROUS M. P.

The following story is being told:—A most worthy Irish M. P. subscribed to everything. Such was his generosity that a request for financial assistance was never refused. But his cheques had one little drawback—they were never honored. The shortcoming naturally in time became known, but it did not affect his popularity. A visitor to the district hearing of the members' peccadillo, asked a leading politician how it was that public faith in the worthy member was not shaken. Why, sure it is because he shows his willingness to assist but for lack of funds, promptly came the reply.

FOUR VICTIMS.

From Los Angeles, Cal., comes a despatch dated Nov. 24th, which says:

"The German ship 'Octavia,' 143 days out from Antwerp, with a cargo of cement and steel rails to Port Los Angeles, has dropped anchor a mile off shore off the latter port. The captain of the vessel brought ashore his first officer in a dying condition and had him conveyed to a hospital in this city. The 'Octavia' arrived in port with the sailmaker in irons, charged with murder, and the vessels log showed three sailors buried at sea. The story so far as it can be learned, is that shortly after rounding the Horn, the sailmaker, who it is said was drinking heavily, induced three sailors to join him in a raid on the whiskey portion of the cargo. In a drunken fight the three sailors assaulted the sailmaker. Subsequently the sailmaker induced the same men to make a second raid on the cargo, and it is said purposely caused them to drink of a carboy of carbolic acid, and they died. It is supposed that the first officer also drank of the poison, and that his present dying condition is the result.

BOWEL TROUBLES.

Dr. Radway—For 30 years we have been using your medicine (Ready Relief and Pills) always getting the desired result, and we can truly say that they are worth ten times their weight in gold. Especially so in a climate like ours where all kinds of fevers are raging the year around, and where bowel troubles, such as dysentery, are epidemic. I have converted hundreds of families to the use of your remedies, and now they would no more be without them than their family Bible. I am now 73 years old, hale and hearty, and would like your advice regarding my hearing, that has been troubling me lately, etc., etc.
