

"TEDDY" STARTS FOR AFRICAN JUNGLES ON MARCH 13

Itinerary Through Dark Continent Outlined; Sir Harry Johnson May Give Roosevelt Pointers Where to Find Big Game.

New York, Nov. 3.—From an excellent authority it has been learned that President Roosevelt plans to leave New York on March 13, nine days after the inauguration, by the North German Lloyd liner Koenig Albert, for Naples, via Gibraltar, where the liner is due on March 23. Besides his son Kermit, he will be accompanied by a professor from the Smithsonian Institution, and an official from the navy department. They have not yet been chosen, but several are under consideration. From Naples, President Roosevelt and his party will travel on the German East African steamers to Mombassa, via the Suez Canal and Aden, a sea journey of seventeen days, including stops.

So far no arrangements have been made for the six months the party will spend in Uganda, between the coast and Port Florence, a distance of 384 miles. On Lake Victoria Nyanza the party will embark for Entebbe, in Central Africa. One thing certain is that Mr. Roosevelt will not enter the Congo territory. President Roosevelt has received an invitation from Mr. McMillan, nephew of the late Senator James McMillan, of Detroit, who owns 50,000 acres of forest mountain and jungle in the Nairobi district of Uganda, to shoot over his estates and use the comfortable shooting boxes that have been erected in various sections where big game is to be found. The president is scheduled to arrive at Entebbe early in December, where his native porters, hunters and guides will be waiting to conduct him through Central Africa, clearing some of the tribulations of the Nile and eventually landing him at Gondokoro, the frontier post of the Sudan, some time toward the end of April, 1910.

The number of natives to be employed on that part of the journey has not yet been settled, but it is estimated that somewhere around fifty will be needed. Each man will carry on an average a load of fifty pounds on his head. From Entebbe the distance to be covered on foot and by boat on the Nile and lakes to Khartoum, where it is expected that Mrs. Roosevelt will probably join the party will probably be about 1,000 miles. The journey from Gondokoro by steamer will take eleven days and the vessels leave once a month. From Khartoum the railway journey to the second cataract of the Nile, takes thirty-six hours, and from that point there is a regular steamboat service down to Assouan, on the first cataract, and Cairo, a total water journey of 900 miles. The time taken from Wadi-Halfa depends on the length of the stay at the port of Assouan, on the Nile, and the distance to the second cataract of the Nile, takes thirty-six hours, and from that point there is a regular steamboat service down to Assouan, on the first cataract, and Cairo, a total water journey of 900 miles.

From the British government the president has received a permit to kill such game as he likes, but it is understood that he will go to Africa more in the interest of science than for sport. The president will not have any difficulty in keeping in touch with the outer world, whether in the British or German East African protectorates. Telegraph wires now cover the district in all directions. An expert who has made the same journey through Africa three times from the east coast to the Nile, says that the climate in the interior was healthy for white men if they only took ordinary precautions to safeguard themselves against disease.

The country teems with interest for the hunter and naturalist from the Nile to the East African coast, and the passengers drive by carriages along a smooth road fringed with immense mangrove trees to the old Portuguese seaport of Mombassa, where the Uganda Railroad starts through East Africa to Port Florence, on Lake Victoria Nyanza, a distance of 384 miles. The temperature at Mombassa is torrid, as it is situated only four degrees from the equator, but the railroad begins to ascend directly after leaving the coast, and by the time the station of Mazeras is reached the elevation is 330 feet above sea level. For the accommodation of the President and his party a special saloon coach, with kitchen attached, will be provided, in addition to a saloon carriage with leather seats, which are transformed into sleeping berths at night. The whole country abounds with game of all kinds, which can be obtained with fresh vegetables and fruit, at every station along the line. Ice is manufactured at all stations, and the railroad, in order to protect travelers from the heat of the noonday sun, the railroad cars are all equipped with a double roofing, and are covered with a so that by turning a tap in the saloon a stream of water pours down over the car on both sides and cools it off.

JUSTIFIES ITS CRITICISM OF GEO. E. FOSTER

Ottawa Free Press Says It Performed Its Duty in Publishing Insurance Commission Report on ex-Minister.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—The Free Press has been served with formal notice of action for libel by Hon. Geo. E. Foster for statements in connection with his administration with the affairs of the Union Trust Company, today submitted that its intemperance of the evidence before the Insurance Commission was fair and reasonable and supported by the findings of that body. Considering that a vast number of people throughout the Dominion were directly and vitally interested in the safety and productive management of the funds of the Foresters, the newspaper says it believes it performed its duty when it gave publication to its deductions from the records referred to. Mr. Foster does not entirely agree with these deductions and it is hardly to be expected that he would.

Edmondston Man Fell Over Edge of 50-Foot Gulch

William Delaney, While Chasing Moose, Took Terrible Plunge.

Incapable for Hours; a Snow-Fall Surprised Him—Fired Rifle Repeatedly to Attract Attention and Rescue Came but He May Not Survive.

Movie, Me., Nov. 3.—William Delaney, of Edmondston (N. B.), is in the Davis sporting camp over in Kingsbury plantation, suffering from injuries from which it is believed that he cannot recover. Delaney was out Saturday in the woods between Moxie and Shirley bog, and while after a moose walked over the edge of a gulch which is heavily shrouded in a growth of scrub, to the bottom, a distance of 50 feet. He was insensible ever since.

Snow fell during the afternoon and Delaney was revived by his coolness when he had nearly enveloped him. As his rifle lay near him, he loaded and discharged it at intervals until his attention was attracted by the discharge of the last cartridge, Delaney heard a shout from above, and he had strength enough left to answer.

Forrest Williams and Daniel Somers were on the edge of the cliff and they could easily discern the path made by Delaney as he fell. The injured man was rescued by the two men, and they carried him to a place where they could give him first aid. The injured man is now in a critical condition, and it is believed that he may not survive.

EDMONDSTON MAN DENIES ADVICE ON BOER WAR

British Premier Repudiates Story About Kaiser's Help

Queried on Subject Irish Leader Angry Over Insinuations Against Roberts Erings Matter Up in Parliament—No Such Documents in War Office.

London, Nov. 3.—The plan of campaign for ending the Boer war which was drawn up by Emperor William and sent to Queen Victoria, according to the interview with his majesty that appeared last week in the Daily Telegraph, was not communicated to the British War Office. This matter has angered the Irishmen, who affect to see an attempt to rob their fellow-countryman, Lord Roberts, of the glory attached to his success, and William Redmond, the Nationalist, questioned War Secretary Haldane on the subject in the House of Commons yesterday. The secretary replied that the War Office archives contained no such document, and that he had no record of its ever having been in the possession of anybody connected with the department. Mr. Redmond finally suggested that Mr. Haldane propose to Premier Asquith the propriety of offering Emperor William a seat in the British Cabinet, thereby making the situation regular.

The morning papers comment ironically upon what they describe as "ingenious semi-official explanations" from Berlin concerning the interview and consider that the effect of these will be greatly to increase distrust of the German foreign office and its methods and probably lead to still greater ill-feeling between Great Britain and Germany.

The Daily Telegraph gives further explanation of the affair, which its Berlin correspondent deems involves Germany in the gravest domestic crisis she has experienced since the dismissal of Bismarck. Sydney Whitman, the well-known English publicist, who has been believed in certain quarters to be the author of the plan, denies any connection with it.

County Court Judgment in the Hazlewood-Cowan Case—The Day's Business.

The November sitting of the county court was opened by Judge Forbes presiding. A delay was caused by the non-arrival of several juries. After electing J. In the case of Hazlewood vs. J. E. Cowan, barrister, Judge Forbes delivered judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $85 in costs and advised all attorneys to have their agreements hereafter in writing.

In reference to this matter as regards "using" an alderman, Judge Forbes said that in justice to Mr. Cowan there was nothing on the records of the court to show that Mr. Cowan had made the statement, but Mr. Hazlewood had stated that Mr. Cowan had told him that when they were settling up. The judge said that he was satisfied that Mr. Cowan did not cross-examine Mr. Cowan on that point.

In the afternoon the case of Watson vs. Finnamore was taken up. The case was brought by the plaintiff, who is a resident of Houlton, as the administrator of the estate of his brother.

The defendant pleaded the statute of limitations and also a set-off. The plaintiff was present but the case was not gone into, as he did not have witnesses in court to prove the debt. The case was adjourned to the next sitting of the court.

The defendant has a receipt for the sum of $85 in costs and advised all attorneys to have their agreements hereafter in writing.

STRIKES DISCUSSED BY PRESIDENT ELIOT

Public Opinion Should Not, He Says, Countenance Them Unless Investigated.

PRAISES CANADIAN LAW Asserts That "Trade Unions Seek Absolute Monopoly in Their Line"—Condemns Boycott.

Boston, Nov. 3.—"Public opinion," said President Eliot last night, "ought to go against all strikes the conditions of which have not been investigated and reported to the public by some official body." He was speaking in the Old South church to members of the Old South Club on the subject of "The Good and Evil in Trades Unions," and a portion of his address was devoted to an account of the Canadian law, which, according to the speaker, is a very liberal one.

"Labor unions," said President Eliot, "not by their action alone, but also through the action of complicated causes, society against the evils of industrial war, and they have undoubtedly reduced the hours of labor, but their attempt to get uniform hours in all the employments is highly undesirable."

"They have contributed, as many employers have, to the improvement of the conditions of labor, and have done so with a mixed motive in the case of women and children. They have compelled the employers in all sorts of trades to compete and have greatly helped invention. But with all this good, the trades unions have done plenty of harm."

"Without exception, they seek an absolute monopoly in their line, and many of their devices involve either absolute violence to prevent people from working, such as picketing or blowing them up with dynamite, or other serious abridgments of personal liberty. The closed shop is a serious interference with the liberty of the citizen, and the union label is another means of enforcing a monopoly."

"A much more injurious method is the boycott. Then there comes the sympathy strike, in which I am glad to say that latterly the trades unions are careful how they support the sympathetic strike, and because they have discovered that the public does not support it."

"The unions also tend to destroy competition, which is the soul of the progress in all industries—that is one of the great evils of the protective tariff. The protected industries are delivered from their best competitors, and that is a serious injury to the country. Freedom from competition means an inferior industry."

"It used to be supposed that domestic competition would be sufficient. But during the past thirty years we have learned very accurately how to prevent competition. Many industries in our country are left without effective competition, and that is a monstrous evil and a great loss to the country."

which will in the next generation on all American industries unless we get rid of the tariff.

"The tariff," continued President Eliot, "interferes with the education of young people in trades, and this is one of the most un-American of our institutions. The most serious injury done by trades unions is restriction of output, a moral evil and a material loss to the whole community as well as a violation of the law."

"There are two kinds of combinations at work. Let them fight it out. But we may all wish that they should be able to fight it out under such a law as the Canadian law."

In answer to questions, President Eliot said: "The unions make it more difficult for a man to get out of the position of workingman than that of employer. The labor leaders object to a man owning his home or putting money in a savings bank, one of them saying to me: 'We have no such a man; he'd make a very poor kind of union man.' (Laughter.) The public does not yet understand the trades unions, but it is the public which pays the cost of every industrial war."

Bonds Guaranteed. An application was received from the International Railway Company for the guarantee of $80,000 of the bonds of the company in addition to the $400,000 already guaranteed. The guarantee was asked for in accordance with legislation to guarantee the bonds to the extent of $8,000 per mile as passed by the late government, and the application was supported by a report of the provincial engineer, Mr. A. R. McInnes, U.E.C., of the Board of Works. The Provincial Secretary was authorized to make the guarantee.

The report of the provincial engineer shows that on the eastern end of the International Railway about sixty miles of road has been graded and of that distance about 50 miles is rail and practically complete. The road is to be graded and work on grading the second section is now in progress.

About 800 men have been employed on the work this season and it is expected that the road will be completed this season. The International Railway Co. is building and plant at St. Mary's were damaged by fire this morning to the extent of $50. The fire originated near the engine room and was discovered by an employee of the road. He gave an alarm and the village fire brigade, which responded promptly, had no difficulty in extinguishing the flames. The loss is covered by insurance.

The village of St. Mary's only recently installed a water and fire protection system. This is the first time it has been put into practical test. Needless to say the citizens were delighted with the showing made. The old method of fighting fires in the village could have saved the building and plant worth at least $25,000 from destruction.

Jasper A. Winslow has accepted a position with a brokerage firm at Havana and is to leave for that place on December 3. Richard Bailey, a well known resident of Gibson, died this morning aged eighty-six. He is survived by a family of four sons and four daughters.

The Board of Education at a meeting yesterday authorized the school trustees of Petford to borrow $1,000 to provide a new school building to replace the one lately destroyed by fire.

The remains of the late Mrs. J. F. George, accompanied by her son, J. A. George and her son-in-law, John G. Baile, arrived from Toronto at noon. Mr. Kierstead conducted the services in the Baptist church and interment was made at Forest Hill.

A meeting of the executive will probably be held in St. John tomorrow. Two inches of snow fell here last night.

AN AGITATOR. A summons was granted against Mr. Will Thorne, M.P., of England, charging him with being guilty of conduct likely to provoke a breach of the peace by calling upon the unemployed at a Trafalgar square demonstration to "rush" every baker's shop in London rather than starve.
