CONDENSED NEWS LOCAL AND GENERAL

C. B. Allan has received $8.75 from Rev. W. R. Hibbard, the result of a self denial effort by the boys of the Rothersey Collegiate school. The money is for the patriotic fund.

The following additional subscriptions have been received by Daniel Mullin, K. C. Belgian Consul, for the Belgian Orphan Fund and deposited to the credit of the fund in the Union Bank of Canada here:

Previously acknowledged, $657.75. Anonymous, Gagetown, N. B., 5.00. Judge Armstrong, 5.00.

The many friends of Rev. B. H. Thomas, Protestant chaplain of the Dorchester Penitentiary, will regret to learn that his aged mother, Mrs. Hannah Thomas, now approaching her 90th year, is critically ill at the chaplain's residence, Dorchester. The sufferer has been in a comatose condition for nearly a week, this fact explains the hurried return of Mr. Thomas from Charlottetown.

Montreal Herald, Friday: Mrs. J. H. McKee and her young son will leave next week to visit Mrs. McKee's mother, Mrs. W. T. Whitehead, in Fredericton. Hon. John Costigan left Ottawa yesterday for New Brunswick, to be away several weeks. Later he will be joined by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Armstrong. Mrs. Angus R. MacLean is returning to Bathurst, B. C. during the summer. Mr. MacLean arrived this morning to accompany Mrs. MacLean home. Mrs. Lorne Gilchrist, with her baby son, will accompany her parents to Bathurst to spend two or three months.

An Indian, unidentified, was killed late Wednesday night about a mile east of Penobscot by a freight train from St. John. The man was seen on the track by Driver Townsend but not in time to avert the tragedy. The body was badly lacerated. It was taken to Petford on the train and left there. An inquiry will probably be held today. The freight left St. John about 8 o'clock and the accident occurred about midnight. As he was rounding a curve the driver saw the form of the man. Brakes were applied but the distance between was too short. The body was ground beneath the wheels and when the train was brought to a stop the body was found in pieces.

The Casualty List. (By Mary Linda Bradley in Canadian Magazine.) I read the list of dead, and there one name flashed out familiar as a book one sees in windows, thinking of and little far, heeling to know the hidden tale. I knew him slightly—one "killed in a charge." Why, not long since... remembering, I missed.

I met him in a rattling street car last, lithe and well-coated and his shapely head turned to peer at the street names through the glass. Pocked here, scarred there, by a thin, sooty rain, were his eyes, and his nose (How well our faces mask their purple dreams, Their lowering hates, their sordid schemes, Their love-words, all the shining selves of men, Their true and false, or blank, bleak impotence, Concealed behind a screen of moulded dust.)

I saw this soldier vividly alive, Alert, insouciant; idly marked the mud that streaked his boots and smeared across one vamp! He sprang to drag aside a damp-swollen door. For some old soul; he sprang, nor paused to think, Nor paused for thanks; resumed his seat and stared Abstracted and reserved, now through the pane, Now upward at a gaudy metal sign.

This man is dead. And some will weep, More say "Poor chap!" or better, kinder things; But the clothes that he wore, the wrinkled glove, Those boots—give them away or let them lie! The ghost is somehow gone. A piece of lead Passed like a thought of blunt despair Through the warm brain—and the brain thought no more.

Yet, less than two months since, I saw that man Alive, mud on his polished boots... Ah, yes! I spoke of that. It should not seem so strange.

The River's Flood. But the majestic river floated on, Out of the mist and hum of that low land, Into the frosty starlight, and there Rejoicing, through the hush'd Choramian waste, Brimming and bright, and large; then sands began To heave his wistful march, and dam his streams, And split his currents; that for many a league The short and parcel'd Oxus strains along, Forgetting the bright speed he had in his high mountain-crede in Pamere. A folk of ancient times, the Choramians, The long-forged dash of waves is heard, and wide His luminous home of waters opens, bright And tranquil, from whose floor the new-emerged stars Emerge, and shine upon the Aral sea.

British Lumber Market. H. W. Lightburne & Co., Liverpool, in its monthly wood circular, furnish the following figures about New Brunswick and Nova Scotia spruce and pine: Imports for June, 1,610 standards; consumption, 1,770; stock, 5,210. Last year the importation was 4,910 and the consumption 5,200.

SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL. A pie social conducted at Perry's Point on Saturday, through the activities of S. C. Matthews of the West Union office, netted a sum of $48.05. Twenty-six pies were sold, bringing $85, and the rest was taken up in a silver collection. The money is to be devoted to the work of the Red Cross Society.

N.B. DENTIST ANSWERS AUSTRIAN ARTICLE AT PROVINCIAL MEETING

St. Stephen, July 15.—The twenty-sixth annual convention of the N. B. Dental Society was opened here this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Masonic hall. There was a good number of members of the society present, including the president, Dr. W. P. Bonnell and secretary, Dr. F. A. Godsoe, of St. John.

Addresses of welcome were delivered by his worship the mayor, Parker Gimmer and Dr. J. Walker Moore and replied to by Dr. Bonnell for the society and Dr. C. A. Murray, of Moncton, for the visitors.

The afternoon session was devoted chiefly to clinics. This evening's session was rich in interesting papers. Dr. G. F. Clarke, Woodstock, read a valuable paper on Oral Health. In his remarks and also in those of Dr. Godsoe, who followed, the health readers now used in the schools of this province received some attention. They strongly suggested that the board of education should have inserted in their reader's treatise upon the teeth instead of the incomplete paragraphs now devoted to this subject.

The paper by Dr. R. B. Hagerman, Fredericton, on the first molar was well received, as also that of Dr. J. M. Magee, of St. John, on clean hands. These were followed by an excellent paper by Dr. C. A. Murray, of St. John, on the subject of a new answer to an article which appeared in the Dental Digest in May last, written by Dr. Julius Weiss, of Vienna, Austria, concerning the European war. This paper was a motion, ordered printed in the Dental Digest.

Dr. W. P. Broderick, St. John, gave an excellent paper on every day laboratory hints. Tomorrow morning's session the election of officers will take place and the sessions will close at noon. The afternoon will be devoted to the entertainment of the members of the society. Dr. W. P. Bonnell of St. John was elected to the vacancy in the council caused by the death of Dr. H. C. Wetmore. A resolution of sympathy from the dentists of Moncton, moved by Dr. A. Murray and seconded by Dr. H. C. Soutar, was ordered placed on the minutes. It was also unanimously decided that if any member of the council be absent from two consecutive meetings his place be declared vacant and another elected.

Dr. Hagerman of Fredericville, chairman, Dr. Savage of St. John and Dr. G. F. Clarke of Woodstock were appointed to keep before the public the importance of hygienic principles in regard to the teeth. Hearty votes of thanks were passed to the local committees for hospitality. The society will meet in St. John next year.

Canadian Nurse Decorated. London, July 15.—Montreal Gazette (Cable)—Miss Edith Campbell, of Montreal, matron of the Duchess of Connaught Hospital at Cliveden, was decorated by the king yesterday with the Royal Red Cross.

WARD TO THE MAINLAND

wards the home trench. Presently edhill left Ullock under some cover, and he crawled forward, cut a strand of wire from our entanglements, and rewired the loop back lasso-fashion to lock, who wrapped it around his rifle. Glehill then hauled him to the parapet, where the stretcher-bearers met out and took charge.

MacLaren's Hospital. All this, of course, from first and last at every place, occurred under heavy fire. It is pleasant to think that Frank lock is now under charge of Dr. Murray MacLaren, also of New Brunswick, who watches over him with tender care in a hospital, under canvas, of 80 beds; a hospital that is larger than the one at the Royal Victoria. In the Western of Montreal, combined edhill was not touched and in spite his experiences prefers life at the front to work in his grandfather's wool-mills near Goderich.

Officers Remain. Out of twenty-three combatant officers, who went into action, only three died death or wounds. They are Col. H. who fought with his men to the end with high judgment and courage; Lieut. C. A. Creighton and Lieut. C. Sims.

Dominion Day, after several days of heavy artillery fire, our troops were relieved and the headquarters moved to the north. Here a trench line was taken over from a British division, and here for the present we must leave them. When Dominion Day came they returned with pride that they were the army of a nation and those who were in trenches displayed the dominion flag decorated with the flowers of France.
