

Through Canadian Pacific Airlines service between Mexico City and Vancouver will soon be inaugurated.²

The Mission was delightfully entertained in Mexico by the Ambassador, First Secretary and Trade Commissioner, and by Sr. Salvador Ugarte, dean of Bankers in Mexico. Also by the Distributors for products of some of the Mission members.

The Mission departed from Mexico City on the morning of February 10 on a bright sunny day, with a feeling of genuine accomplishment from its 5 day visit to Mexico, and the five week tour of Latin America. Many important government and business people saw the Mission off to Canada.

Ottawa, February 23, 1953

I am attaching hereto a few comments on the Organization of American States which have been prompted by my visit to Latin America. I know that Canada's attitude towards the Organization raises difficult and complex problems; I am not in a position to give an answer to many of them. The attached notes, however, might serve as a basis for discussion and it is in that spirit that they are submitted to you.

Other chapters of my "magnum opus" on Latin America will be forthcoming in the near future.³
