GOSPEL SALUTATION

HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL WITH SMILE ON LIP AND JOY IN HEART.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS FOR 1903

lev. Frank De Witt Talmage, D.D., is Role of a Gespel Prophet, and With Infinite Faith That Christ Has Power to Save and Bless the Senis of Men Resolves to Inspire Right Living.

Entered according to Act of Parliament of Cau-ada, in the year 1803, by William Baily, of Te-rente, at the Dep't of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—In the opening discourse of the new year Pastor Talmage appeals to the higher nature of his auditors and shows them how they may make the year one replete with triumphant spiritual achievement. His text is Proverbs ix, 11. "The years of thy life shall be increased." be increased.

Happy New Year! I bring to you the gospel salutation. I bring it to you with a smile upon the lip, with loy welling up in the heart. I bring it to you because I hope it is to be the best and the most momentous year of all your life.

I am going to be a gospel prophet am going to be a gospel prophet

I am going to be a gosper propner this morning. I am not only going to tell you that this new year is to be the best year of your life, but it is also going to be a precursor of years of the useful years. I am go many other useful years. I am go-ing to say to you, as Solomon said of old, that on account of this com-ing year consecrated to God your earthly longevity shall be lengthened. "The years of thy life shall be in-

Charles Dickens wrote a famous book entitled "Great Expectations." But the English writer did not have as much right to use that cantion for his novel as I have for this sermon.

As Christ said to the blind men,

"According to your faith, so be it unto you." My faith to-day is infiunto you." My faith to-day is infinite. Never since I was born have I had greater faith in the power of Christ to save and bless than at the present time. Therefore, on account of my belief in the power of Jesus Christ that he can and will save your soul during the coming year, I know that this is to be the most important year of your life.

My great expectations for your

My great expectations for your My great expectations for your spiritual welfare and your consecration of the new year are not only founded upon my own faith, but also upon the faith of an earnest band of scores and scores of praying men and women who are loyally seeking your yood. This band is composed of your friends and your loved ones. It is an all conquering bond which your friends and your loved ones. It is an all conquering band which shall soon, aye, I think to-day, capture your soul for Jesus Christ. We have read what Garibaldi did for Italian freedom. What had he to of Jesus and be saved. Oh, to-day the sacred band of Christian worshipers about me can hardly keep from clapping their hands in joy. Truly this is not only for us, but also for your repenting soul, a happartiots, are willing to go through any privations if they can only bring you a repentent sinner to the foot of the cross. We have read what Toussaint L'Ouverture did for Haitian freedom. Wendell Phillips in his famous oration declared that this southern leader was a greater man than Washington, Napoleon, Caesar, than Alexander the Great. But all the conquests by which the South American leader and his little band of followers were able to throw off the European tyrannies are as nothing in their eternal results when compared with some of the glorious spiritual victories which shall be won during this opening year for Christ—to be won by this band of earnest praying workers who are surrounding me at the present time. So on this first Sunday, 1903, we give you fair warning that in the name of Jesus Christ we are about to move upon your sinful heart. We are about to capture your whole life for Jesus Christ.

Now, as a gospel transformation is soon to take place in your life, I

Now, as a gospel transformation is soon to take place in your life, I am going to tell to-day some of the new resolves by which this opening year is to inspire your life. I am about to tell you here and now how you are going to forcet and now how you are going to forget those things that are behind and reach forth unto those things that are before and press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." that are behind and reach forth unto those things that are before and press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

To overcome your evil passions and to live as your redeemed father and mother want you to live is to be one of your chief desires for the ensuing year. There was a great change in your life when the old folks died. You may have long ago become a grown up man and been away from home five ten, or even fitteen years, before you received the fatal telegram from your sister: "Come home at once. Mother is dying." Yet not until that time did you say in a sinful sense: "Well, it does not matter much what becomes of me. Mother is now dead, and father is dead. Even if I do wrong and become dissipated they they will not hear of it." For a few years after your mother's death your oldest sister tried to take your mother's place. Every Sunday night she world write to you, just as your mother's place. Every Sunday night she world write to you, just as your mother's place. Every Sunday night she world write to you, just as your mother did, But somehow during the past few months the teachings of the old homestead have been pressing down upon you with mighty power. Man, you are tired of sin. Yeu are tired of yourself. You might feel at little better if you could only put your head in her lap and have a good cry. But you can't. Do you know what is the matter? I think they did of old. The pslamist tells us that God keeps the tears of his loved ones in a bot-tle. Last week God lifted one of the parental tears which were shed over your cradle. He placed the sparkling your cradle. He placed the sparkling treasure upon the white wing of an angel of mercy and cried, "Go, angel, and drop that tear upon that young man's head and annoint him with the Spirit's power." Last night God sent another white winged massanger with another tear out of messenger with another white winged messenger with another tear out of his bottle, shed by your father on the day you joined the church. One white winged angel after another did as they were told.

white winged angel after another did as they were told. They all dropped those parental tears upon your head and heart. Discouraged man, to-day wearied of the sinful world, as you sit there with the tears running down your cheeks, you think they are your tears. They are not. They are the tears of your dead and redeemed father and mother, which God has long been preserving in his sacred bottle. They are the tears of joy which your father and mother are now shedding in heaven, because the white winged angels have already flown to the Celestial City to announce to them that their boy is gathered up all the kind, sympathetic letters which were written to you about her past kindnesses. You also had the officiating minister write down his funeral address. Then you had those letters and that address all printed and bound together into a bo....t, which you called. "My Mother's Memorial." But, man, the mightiest and most triumphant memorial you could ever make of your mother's life is your own life consecrated to the service of Jesus. She put her blood and her life into your life. So, man, this ought to be a happy year for you. It ought to be happy hecause by your own consecration to the service of the Lord Jes us you are here and now ready to let your mother's prayers echo and re-echo and resound in your prayers Her good deeds will find a true con-tinuance in your good deeds. Her thruance in your good deeds. Her Christ shall hereafter be worshiped with a sweeter look because he is al-so now her boy's Christ.

time did not think that you fully re time did not think that you fully realized how sick you were. You did. You knew it by the anxious way the doctor watched. You knew by the tare the nurses took in giving the proper medicines at the exact time. Then—oh, then in that dark hour you felt as did the poor fellow whom I buried some weeks ago. One Saturday he was at work in seemingly full health. The next Monday he lay upon the operating table as a last resort for his life. After the operation they told him he had to die. He looked up in a pathetic way and said: 'Il do not want to die. I am afraid to die. Oh, do not let me afraid to die. Oh, do not let me die!" What did you do in that hour of your dangerous sickness? What did you do in that hour of what did you do in that nour of trouble, when you knew that no human aid could rescue you? Did you not practically say at that time, "Oh, God, if you will make me well and come to my rescue I will give up all my life to thee and they service?" and come to my rescue I will give up all my life to thee and they service?" Yes, sinful man, God made you well. God rescued you. Have you kept your pledges to him? Have you given up your sinful heart to be purged from its past sins? These broken to you send the past sins? These broken to you send to get a man of honor and character, by the grace of God, you to-day are going to be true to those past pledges. I feel it. I know it. I can see a new and holy purpose making your cheeks flush and your eyes flash with a consecrated enthusiasm. You would not break a pledge with any man to whom you gave your word. Your boast heretoforg, has always been that your word is as good as your bond. Neither will you to-day, oh, man, continue longer to break those old promises you made to God.

Happy New Year to you, sinful man. Why happy? Because during the coming twelve months you shall for the first time enjoy the sweet blessings and exhilarations of Christian service. The joy of a self sacrificing Christian life does not appeal to the average unconsecrated man. He says to himself: "What is the good of exprision of the service of the spirite to the says to himself: "What is the good of exprision to the says to himself: "What is the

to the average unconsecrated man.

He says to himself: "What is the good of sacrificing for other people? He says to himself: "What is the good of sacrificing for other people? They never appreciate it. My doctrine is to look after number one and let number two look after himself. The world will always ride" a willing love to death. Then the only obsequies that willing horse will ever get is a scavenger's cart for a nearse and a glue factory for a Grematory. No, no, no. The beauties of seif sacrificing do not appeal to me. The more I have the more people respect me. The less I have the less they respect me. The more I am willing to serve others the more my motives will be misjudged, and I will be misrepresented."

many years ago I have now entirely changed my mind. The willing men of the churches are always the happy of the churches are always the happy men. The self sacrificing men are always the rich men spiritually. They are not the selfish men. They are not those who will grab and keep all that they can. The Dead Sea is bitter and acrid and saline and repulsive merely because it has no outlet and only inlets, while the waters of the mountain brook laugh and gurgle and sing merely because it lets all its waters ruh toward the sea. Who its waters run toward the sea. Who do you think was happier, Herod, bloody Herod, loathsome in mind and spirit, or Paul, who had given up his whole life to Jesus? Herod, with lewels on his fingers, or the apostolic tentmaker, with his hands greasy with ropenaking? Do you think Napoleon was happy? Napoleon Bonaparte, the sellish human monster, who used the map of Europe for a chessboard; Napoleon, who used to capture kings and queens without compunction; Napoleon, on its waters run toward the sea. Who used to capture kings and queens without compunction; Napoleon, on his way to coronation, who turned and bitterly said in reference to the cheering French populace: "Bah! They would curse me to the guillotine as gladly as they would cheer me to a throne." Or would you sooner have the happiness of a Dr. Duff pleading for India, or David Livingstone pleading for Africa, or Adoniram a ladson pleading for Burma, or John Paton pleading for the New Hebrides? Who do you think to-day is happier, the woman who is only living for social conquest or the Salvation Army girl, going with a loaf of bread in one hand and a Bible in the other hand to carry the gosin the other hand to carry the gospel of Jesus Christ into the slums? Yes, my repentant friend, the ensuing year is to be a happy year for you. It is to be a year when you shall quaft a chaire filled with the sweetest pecter. shall quaff a chaire filled with the sweetest nectar. You shall drink hereafter out of the golden gobiet filled by those whose sorrows you have alleviated and whose sobs you have turned into songs of eternal rapture.

But all these deductions hinge upon one great condition. The ensuing year is to be a happy year for you because from now on you are to depend entirely upon divine strength pend entirely upon divine strength pend entirely upon divine strength to triumph over your besetting temptations. Last Wednesday night was not the first New Year's eve when you started forth with good resolutions. Again an again have you attended solemn and overwhelming watch night services. While these meetings were progressing in interest you began to feel how mean and con-temptible your life had been. You then and there said to yourself: "I then and there said to yourself.

will quit my sibs. I will stop drinking and swearing and Sabbath breaking and all my evil thoughts and deeds. Yes, I will, even if I have to cut off my right arm."

deeds. Yes, I will, even if I have to cut off my right arm."

Each January we all make fresh resolutions. Some years ago I preached a sormon called "New Year's Resolutions," I made up that sermon from the answers I received from friends whom I met. Every one I would accost with the same sentence, "What is your New Year's resolution?" Some would say this, some that and some the other thing. But many answered me thus: "I have not got any. I have made so many New Year's resolutions in the past not got any. I have made so many New Year's resolutions in the past and broken them that I do not intend to make any more." But I did not then and do not now believe they were talling the truth. I do not believe there is a man or woman or child who now approaches New Year's day who do not make some

The real heroines of every day are in our homes. Frequently, however, it is a mistaken and useless heroism.

Women seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme ever, it is a mistaken and useless heroism.

Women seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. How much harder the daily tasks become when some derangement of the female organs makes every movement inful and keeps the nervous system unstrung? Irritability takes and suffering takes the place of health and strength. As long as they can drag themselved around, women continue to work and perform their household dies. They have been led to believe that suffering is necessary because they are women. What a mistake!

If there is anything in your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. No man will see your letter. She can surely help you, for no person in America has such a wide experience in treating female ills as she has had. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

"Drar Mrs. Pinkham:—I wish to express to you the great benefit I have derived from your advice and the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My trouble was female weakness in its worst form and I was in a very bad condition. I could not perform my household duties, my back ached, I was extremely nervous, and I could not eat or sleep, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. My husband spont hundreds of dollars to get me well, and all the medicine that the doctors prescribed failed to do me any good; I resorted to an operation which the physician said was necessary to restore me to health, but I suffered more after it than I did before; I had hemorrhages of the womb that nothing could seem to stop.

"I noticed one of your advertisements and wrote you for advice, I received your reply and carefully followed all instructions. I immediately began to get stronger, and in two weeks was about the houre. I took eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and continued following your advice, and to-day I am a well woman. Your remedies and help are a Godsend to suffering women, and I cannot find words to thank you for what you have done for me."—Mrs. Lottle V. Naylor, 1326 N. J. Ave., N.W., Washington, D. C.

"I think your medicine one of the best remedies in the world."—Mrs. J. M. Lee, 141 Lyndal St., Newcastle, Pa.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done a great deal for me. I suffered so much from falling of the womb and all the troubles connected with it. I doctored for years with doctors and other remedies but received only temporary relief.

"I began taking your medicine, and had not taken it long before I was feeling better. My husband said that I should keep right on taking it as long as it gave me relief from my suffering, as I could not expect to be cured by one or two bottles. I did so and am now able to be on my feet and work hard all day, and go to bed and rest at night. Thanks to your Vegetable Compound I am certainly grateful for the relief it gave me. It is the mother's great friend. I would not be without it in my house, for when I feel tired or out of sorts I take a few doses and feel all right.

"I would recommend your medicine to all tired mothers, and especially to those suffering as I was."—Mrs. R. F. Chambers, Bennet, Neb.

new resolution. But the trouble is after you have made your New Year's resolutions you go out in your own strength and try to battle with your old temptations, and then you are flung again and again. But, my brother, this year is going to be a different year from all others. You know your weaknesses and failures. You know you cannot win a spiritual success in your own strength. Therefore you are ready to conscientiously ask God to believe the sum of the property of the sum of the sky, in the rippling of the sunlight on the water, in the word of love from a neighbor—is rich beyond the power of gold or honor to make richer.

Putting food into diseased stome

Putting food into diseased stomach is like putting money into a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the food which is put into it is largely lost. The nutriment is not extracted from it. The body is weak and the blood impoverished.

The pockets can be mended. The stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and blood, Pieroe's Golden Medical Discovery, acts with peculiar promptness and power on the organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a positive cure for almost all disorders of these organs, and cures also such diseases of the heart, blood, liver and other organs, as have their cause in a weak or diseased condition of the stomach.
